Saint John Thomas William Acheson,1985 Saint John T. W. Acheson,1993 Saint John New Brunswick was a small stagnant mercantile town in 1800 Its character was set by its British garrison a few prominent Loyalist officials and a small merchant elite But that character changed quickly and dramatically in the first half of the nineteenth century T W Acheson traces the events that lead to the change and analyses their impact on the community Saint John Thomas W. Acheson,1993-12-15 Saint John New Brunswick was a small stagnant mercantile town in 1800 Its character was set by its British garrison a few prominent Loyalist officials and a small merchant elite But that character changed quickly and dramatically in the first half of the nineteenth century T W Acheson traces the events that lead to the change and analyses their impact on the community The Creative City of Saint John Christl Verduyn,2018-09-11 This book presents a wide ranging portrayal of the creative work done in Saint John in the hundred years following Confederation Beautiful watercolour and oil paintings early fossil discoveries successful bestselling authors and other examples of the creative city are brought together in this volume Among the many surprising and interesting accounts the contribution to Maritime natural history made by a butterfly found in the city the role of the city s Great Fire in generating a host of visual artists documenting the urban landscape and the little known Hollywood connection that made the city a hotbed of film production in the early 1900s

Urban and community development in Atlantic Canada, 1867-1991 ,1993-01-01 This book offers the first comprehensive overview of community development for the Atlantic Provinces The authors take a collaborative approach to their research question and contribute more than just a survey on urban development They also create a framework for understanding the relationship between the development of towns and cities in Atlantic Canada and in other parts of the country Published in English An Urban Biography of Saint John William G. Godfrey,1986 Rural Protest on Prince Edward Island Rusty Bittermann,2006-01-01 In Rural Protest on Prince Edward Island Rusty Bittermann examines this conflict and the dynamic of rural protest on the Island from its establishment as a British colony in the 1760s to the early 1840s The focus of Bittermann s study is the remarkable mass movement known as the Escheat movement which emerged in the 1830s in the context of growing popular challenges elsewhere in the Atlantic World The Escheat movement aimed at resolving the land question in favour of tenants by having the state resume escheat the large grants of land that created landlordism on the Island Although it ultimately gained control of the assembly in the late 1830s the Escheat movement did not produce the land policies that tenants and their allies advocated Catholics at the Gathering Place Mark George McGowan,Brian P. Clarke,1993-01-01 These 17 original innovative studies reinterpret the social and institutional development of one of Canadas largest dioceses The Spirit of Industry and Improvement Daniel Samson,2008-04-17 The notion of improvement permeated social and political discourse in colonial Canadian society From agriculture to building roads and mills to defining correct habits and behaviour Nova Scotia s improvers embraced the ideals of innovation and progress and promoted modern programs of government Daniel Samson moves Nova Scotia and rural Canada from the colonial margins to the heart of a modernizing society showing how the countryside functioned as a centre of change and innovation He connects a fascinating spectrum of sites actors and strategies and links settlement farm building rural market formation and early industrialization to the heterogeneous strategies of families and state actors the rural poor and rural elites The Spirit of Industry and Improvement presents the first ever overview of rural colonial Nova Scotia and provides compelling insights into the formation of modern liberal practices of government and self government in British North America Magistrates, Police and People Donald Fyson,Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History,2006-01-01 Based on extensive research in judicial and official sources Donald Fyson offers the first comprehensive study of the everyday workings of criminal justice in Quebec and Lower Canada Focusing on the justices of the peace and their police Fyson examines both the criminal justice system itself and the system in operation as experienced by those who participated in it Fyson contends that although the system was fundamentally biased its flexibility provided a source of power for ordinary citizens At the same time the system offered the colonial state and its elites a powerful though often faulty means of imposing their will on Quebec society This study will challenge many received historical interpretations providing new insight into criminal justice in early Quebec

Borderland Smuggling Joshua M. Smith,2019-10-14 Passamaquoddy Bay lies between Maine and New Brunswick at the mouth of the St Croix River Most of it including Campobello Island is within Canada but the Maine town of Lubec lies at the bay s entrance Rich in beaver pelts fish and timber the area was a famous smuggling center after the American Revolution Joshua Smith examines the reasons for smuggling in this area and how three conflicts in early republic history the 1809 Flour War the War of 1812 and the 1820 Plaster War reveal smuggling s relationship to crime borderlands and the transition from mercantilism to capitalism Smith astutely interprets smuggling as created and provoked by government efforts to maintain and regulate borders In 1793 British and American negotiators framed a vague new boundary meant to demarcate the lingering British empire in North America Canada from the new American Republic Officials insisted that an abstract line now divided local peoples on either side of Passamaquoddy Bay Merely by persisting in trade across the newly demarcated national boundary people violated the new laws As smugglers they defied both the British and American efforts to restrict and regulate commerce Consequently local resistance and national authorities engaged in a continuous battle for four decades Smith treats the Passamaquoddy Bay smuggling as more than a local episode of antiquarian interest Indeed he crafts a local case study to illuminate a widespread phenomenon in early modern Europe and the Americas A volume in the series New Perspectives on Maritime History and Nautical Archaeology edited by James C Bradford and Gene Allen Smith

Evangelical Balance Sheet B. Anne Wood, 2010-10-26 Using the journals of W Norman Rudolf 1835-1886 a Victorian merchant Evangelical Balance Sheet Character Family and Business in Mid Victorian Nova Scotia explores the important role of character ideals and evangelicalism in mid Victorian culture Rudolf's diary with its daily weather observations its account of family matters of social and business happenings and of his own experiences as well as occasional literary or naturalistic forays attempts to follow a disciplined regime of writing but also has elements of a Bildungsroman The diary reveals an obvious and significant tension between his inner spiritual search for meaning in his life evangelical inwardness and his outward stewardship duties Rudolf's concept of character then involved a type of balance sheet of his evangelical service record to his God his family his business and his community Needing God's help to transform his will and to interpret the world in a constructive rational manner the underlying intent of his daily journal writing was to keep his commitment to an ethic of benevolence and of the affirmation of the goodness of human beings Wood elucidates the cultivation of civic minded masculinity in the context of Victorian Maritime Canada analyzing the multiple facets of the character ideal and emphasizing its important role in Victorians understanding of their life experiences In the process Wood reveals many underlying assumptions about social change and about civic discourse The book also describes how the tremendous economic upheavals experienced by many entrepreneurs in the late 1860s to 1880s tempered their evangelical zeal and made it increasingly difficult for them to achieve a balanced and humane perspective on their own lives Evangelical Balance Sheet will appeal to a broad audience interested in social history imperial studies gender studies especially changing ideas of masculinity and manhood Atlantic Canada studies and local history of the Pictou region

Ireland's Empire Colin Barr, 2020-01-16 Examines the complex relationship between Roman Catholicism and the global Irish diaspora in the nineteenth century for the first time

At the Ocean's Edge Margaret Conrad, 2020-06-16 At the Ocean's Edge offers a vibrant account of Nova Scotia's colonial history situating it in an early and dramatic chapter in the expansion of Europe Between 1450 and 1850 various processes sometimes violent often judicial rarely conclusive transferred power first from Indigenous societies to the French and British empires and then to European settlers and their descendants who claimed the land as their own This book not only brings Nova Scotia's struggles into sharp focus but also unpacks the intellectual and social values that took root in the region By the time that Nova Scotia became a province of the Dominion of Canada in 1867 its multicultural peoples including Mi kmaq Acadian African and British had come to a grudging unequal and often contested accommodation among themselves Written in accessible and spirited prose the narrative follows larger trends through the experiences of colourful individuals who grappled with expulsion genocide and war to establish the institutions relationships and values that still shape Nova Scotia's identity

Sense of Their Duty Andrew Carl Holman, 2000 Industrial change the expansion of government at all levels and population growth all contributed to profound alterations in Ontario's social structure between the 1850s and the 1890s The changing environment created new opportunities new wealth and new authority In urbanizing Ontario an identifiable and self identified middle class emerged between the idle rich and the perennial working class Using the towns of Galt and Goderich as case studies Andrew Holman shows how middle class identities were formed at work He shows how businessmen professionals and white collar workers developed a new sense of authority that extended beyond the workplace As local electors members of voluntary associations and reform societies and breadwinners middle class men set standards of proper and expected behavior for themselves and others standards for respectable behavior that continued to enjoy currency and relevance throughout the twentieth century
