Near Eastern Antiquities

The department presents the civilizations of the ancient Middle East, which date to more than 6000 years BC. They succeeded each other in Mesopotamia, Iran, and the Levant, a vast territory stretching from the Mediterranean Sea to India.

Egyptian Antiquities

Created by Jean-François Champollion, this department illustrates the art of ancient Egypt by means of two designated paths. The first is chronological, from the origins in Chiospolis, until the arrival in Egypt, highlighting specific aspects of Egyptian civilization. The additional sections, devoted to Coptic Egypt and Roman Egypt, round out this presentation.

Greek, Etruscan, and Roman Antiquities

This department contains works produced by three ancient civilizations: Greece, Etruria, and Rome. On the ground floor, a chronological path constitutes an accessible walkway from the 8th century BC to the 5th century AD. On the first floor, the collection is organized by technique and type of material: such as bronze, jewelry, ceramics, and glassware as well as terracotta figurines and coins.

History of the Louvre and Medieval Louvre

Three main rooms and an archaeological path present the architectural history of the palace.

Paintings

The collections in this department cover the history of European painting from the mid-15th century to the mid-19th century. They are divided into three large groups: the French school (in chronological order), the Italian and Spanish schools, and the Northern European schools (German, Flemish, and Dutch).

Sculptures

This department encompasses European sculpture from the High Middle Ages to the mid-19th century. The collections contain French works for the most part, with a number of significant pieces from Italy, Spain and Northern Europe.

Decorative arts

The collections in this department – e.g. objects from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance, decorative arts of the 18th and 19th centuries, items from the Decorative Arts in Context collection belonging to the French crown, 19th-century objects and furniture, and the Decorative Arts in Context collection – span many different periods.

The 18th-century decorative arts section is closed until 2025 due to major renovations supported by the High Museum of Art and its partner, Mrs. Anne Cox Charitable Foundation (ACF), under the leadership of Mrs. Anne Cox Charitable Foundation. Prints and Drawings

The Prints and Drawings Department contains the collection of drawings (more than one hundred thousand works), the Albumen de Rembrandt donation and other important prints collection. These works may be viewed primarily by arrangement. Remarkably rich but extremely fragile, they are displayed in regular temporary exhibitions, as well as in the exhibition rooms of the museum in a structured form.

Arts of Islam

On display in this department are works from Islamic areas including various countries in the Mediterranean Basin, Iran, central Asia and India. Some items used to belong to the French royal collection. This collection is composed primarily of objects made of ceramics, metals or wood in addition to jewelry, tapestries and paintings from the 10th to the 19th centuries.

This exhibition room is used for the Department of Arts of Islam and currently closed. It may be scheduled to open in the Grand Gallery in 2025.

Arts of Africa, Asia, Oceania, and the Americas

This selection of works on display at the Louvre since April 2015 is part of the collections of the Grand Gallery museum.
