New Perspectives on the Qur'an Gabriel Reynolds, 2012-03-29 This book continues the work of The Qur'an in its Historical Context in which an international group of scholars address an expanded range of topics on the Qur'an and its origins looking beyond medieval Islamic traditions to present the Qur'an's own conversation with the religions and literatures of its day. Particular attention is paid to recent debates and controversies in the field and to uncovering the Qur'an's relationship with Judaism and Christianity. After a foreword by Abdolkarim Soroush, chapters by renowned experts cover method in Qur'anic Studies, analysis of material evidence including inscriptions and ancient manuscripts for what they show of the Qur'an's origins, the language of the Qur'an and proposed ways to emend our reading of the Qur'an, how our knowledge of the religious groups at the time of the Qur'an's emergence might contribute to a better understanding of the text, the Qur'an's conversation with Biblical literature and traditions that challenge the standard understanding of the holy book. This debate of recent controversial proposals for new interpretations of the Qur'an will shed new light on the Qur'anic passages that have been shrouded in mystery and debate. As such, it will be a valuable reference for scholars of Islam, the Qur'an, Christian-Muslim relations and the Middle East.

A Perspective on the Signs of Al-Quran Saeed Malik, 2010-10-02. It is clear in every page of this brilliant work that it was written from a heartfelt perspective. The Legacy of Arab-Islam in Africa John Allembillah Azumah, 2014-10-01. Thoughtful and challenging, this book argues for a reassessment of the role historically played by Islam in Africa and offers new hope for increased mutual understanding between African people of different faiths. Drawing on a wealth of sources from the colonial period to the most up to date scholarship the author challenges the widely held perception that while Christianity oppressed and subjugated the African people Islam fitted comfortably into the indigenous landscape. Instead this penetrating account reveals Muslim settlers to be as guilty of enforcing slavery and conversion as those of their more maligned sister tradition. Only with an acknowledgement of the true roles of both faiths in African history suggests Azumah can the people of both traditions move themselves and their continent towards a new future of tolerance and self awareness.

Translating Women Luise von Flotow, Farzaneh Farahzad, 2016-10-04 This book focuses on women and translation in cultures across other horizons well beyond the European or Anglo American centres. Drawing on transnational feminist connections its editors have assembled work from four continents and included articles from Morocco Mexico Sri Lanka Turkey China Saudi Arabia Columbia and beyond. Thirteen different chapters explore questions around women's roles in translation as authors or translators or theoreticians. In doing so they open new territories for studies in the area of gender and translation and stimulate academic work on questions in this field around the world. The articles examine the impact of Western feminism when translated to other cultures they describe translation projects devised to import and make meaningful feminist texts from other places they engage with the politics of publishing translations by women authors in other cultures and the role of women translators play in developing new ideas. The diverse approaches to questions around women and translation developed in this collection speak to the volume of unexplored material that has yet to be addressed in this field.

Qur'ānic Hermeneutics in the 19th and 20th Century Georges Tamer, 2023-12-18 The fourth volume of the groundbreaking Handbook of Qur'anic Hermeneutics comprises 29 chapters dealing with the hermeneutical approach to the Quran by Muslim authors of the 19th and 20th centuries. These authors had to deal with the changes and influences of modernity on Muslim society. Scientific progress and related developments in the natural sciences and humanities posed new questions and challenges to the traditional interpretation of the Qur'an The confrontation with the colonial period also shaped the way of thinking of some of these authors and their hermeneutical work This led them to a search for identity and a reassessment of their own traditions and beliefs Authors in this volume reflect on these historical experiences in their interpretation of the Qur'an The hermeneutical approaches to the Qur'an in this volume are thus closely linked to the social political and intellectual conditions in which the authors have done their work They represent a response to the challenges and changes of their time By critically engaging with modernity scientific progress and the colonial legacy these authors contributed to understanding and interpreting Islam in a new context

Islam in the Light of History and Revelations Siddiq Abdullah, 2020-04-23 While most countries today adopt secularism Islamic nations are still actively embracing religion As nations forge ahead in the fields of science and technological innovation some Islamic societies appear frozen in time Will Muslims join the ranks of those preparing for the challenges of the 21st century or slip back into an age where they close the doors to reason insist on archaic laws and are intolerant of dissent Muslims today seem to be in a dilemma Historians are questioning the integrity of their history Islamic scholars are concerned about contradictions within the Hadith Literature the backbone of Islam and pressing for a complete review Then there are the Quranists who are urging Muslims to revert to the fundamentals of the Quran In this book the author describes his quest to find the answers about God and discovers the Quran He examines the evolution of the religion of Islam its history beliefs the causes of Islam's Golden Age and what the future holds for Muslims
