Race And Gender In The Making Of An African American Literary Tradition:

Race and Gender in the Making of an African American Literary Tradition Aimable Twagilimana, 2014-01-14 This book examines the ways in which race and gender have shaped and continue to inform African American literature African American texts create a black literary and cultural identity interpreting and recording the survival of their cultures shattered by years of slavery Black women writers who have to deal with both racism and sexism use additional strategies to undo this double reduction They strive to invent a new language to talk about their experience and their lives as black and as women After a typology of the African American text the book proposes a reading of major African American writers including Phyllis Wheatley Olaudah Equiano Frederick Douglass Harriet Jacobs Harriet Wilson Charles Chesnutt Booker T Washington James Weldon Johnson Zora Neale Hurston Alice Walker and Toni Morrison African American Literary Theory Winston Napier, 2000-07 The first volume to expound African American literary theory from the 1920s to present African American Literary Theory A Reader is the first volume to document the central texts and arguments in African American literary theory from the 1920s through the present As the volume progresses chronologically from the rise of a black aesthetic criticism through the Black Arts Movement feminism structuralism and poststructuralism and the rise of queer theory it focuses on the key arguments themes and debates in each period By constantly bringing attention to the larger political and cultural issues at stake in the interpretation of literary texts the critics gathered here have contributed mightily to the prominence and popularity of African American literature in this country and abroad African American Literary Theory provides a unique historical analysis of how these thinkers have shaped literary theory and literature at large and will be an indispensable text for the study of African American intellectual culture Contributors include Sandra Adell Michael Awkward Houston A Baker Jr Hazel V Carby Barbara Christian W E B DuBois Ann duCille Ralph Ellison Henry Louis Gates Jr Addison Gayle Jr Carolyn F Gerald Evelyn Hammonds Phillip Brian Harper Mae Gwendolyn Henderson Stephen E Henderson Karla F C Holloway Langston Hughes Zora Neale Hurston LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka Joyce A Joyce Alain Locke Wahneema Lubiano Deborah E McDowell Harryette Mullen Larry Neal Charles I Nero Robert F Reid Pharr Marlon B Ross George S Schuyler Barbara Smith Valerie Smith Hortense J Spillers Sherley Anne Williams and Richard Wright Icons of African American Literature Yolanda Williams Page, 2011-10-17 The 24 entries in this book provide extensive coverage of some of the most notable figures in African American literature such as Alice Walker Richard Wright and Zora Neale Hurston Icons of African American Literature The Black Literary World examines 24 of the most popular and culturally significant topics within African American literature's long and immensely fascinating history Each piece provides substantial in-depth information much more than a typical encyclopedia entry while remaining accessible and appealing to general and younger readers Arranged alphabetically the entries cover such writers as Maya Angelou James Baldwin and August Wilson major works such as Invisible Man Native Son and Their Eyes Were Watching God and a range of cultural topics including the Black Arts movement the Harlem Renaissance and the jazz aesthetic Written by expert contributors the essays discuss the enduring significance of these topics in American history and popular culture Each entry also provides sidebars that highlight interesting information and suggestions for further reading

New Essays on Phillis Wheatley John C. Shields, Eric D. Lamore, 2011-05-30 The first African American to publish a book on any subject poet Phillis Wheatley 1753 1784 has long been denigrated by literary critics who refused to believe that a black woman could produce such dense intellectual work In recent decades however Wheatley's work has come under new scrutiny as the literature of the eighteenth century and the impact of African American literature have been reconceived Fourteen prominent Wheatley scholars consider her work from a variety of angles affirming her rise into the first rank of American writers from publisher description

Evangelism and Resistance in the Black Atlantic, 1760-1835 Cedrick May, 2010-01-25 This study focuses on the role of early African American Christianity in the formation of American egalitarian religion and politics It also provides a new context for understanding how black Christianity and evangelism developed spread and interacted with transatlantic religious cultures of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Cedrick May looks at the work of a group of pivotal African American writers who helped set the stage for the popularization of African American evangelical texts and the introduction of black intellectualism into American political culture Jupiter Hammon Phillis Wheatley John Marrant Prince Hall Richard Allen and Maria Stewart Religion gave these writers agency and credibility says May and they appropriated the language of Christianity to establish a common ground on which to speak about social and political rights In the process these writers spread the principles that enabled slaves and free blacks to form communities a fundamental step in resisting oppression Moreover says May this institution building was overtly political leading to a liberal shift in mainstream Christianity and secular politics as black churches and the organizations they launched became central to local communities and increasingly influenced public welfare and policy This important new study restores a sense of the complex challenges faced by early black intellectuals as they sought a path to freedom through Christianity

Approaches to Teaching Behn's Oroonoko Cynthia Richards, Mary Ann O'Donnell, 2013-01-01 Once merely a footnote in Restoration and eighteenth century studies and rarely taught Oroonoko or The Royal Slave 1688 by Aphra Behn is now essential reading for scholars and a classroom favorite It appears in general surveys and in courses on early modern British writers postcolonial literature American literature women's literature drama the slave narrative and autobiography Part 1 of this volume Materials provides not only resources for the teacher of Oroonoko but also a brief chronology of Behn's life and work In part 2 Approaches essays offer a diversity of perspectives appropriate to a text that challenges student assumptions and contains not one story but many Oroonoko as a romance as a travel account as a heroic tragedy as a window to seventeenth century representations of race as a reflection of Tory Whig conflict in the time of Charles II

Black African Literature in English, 1997-1999 Bernth Lindfors, 2003 This volume lists the work produced on anglophone black African literature between 1997 and 1999 This bibliographic work is a continuation of the highly acclaimed earlier volumes compiled by Bernth Lindfors. Goldstein, Audrey B.

Thacker, 2011-10-01 This volume of collected essays offers truly multiethnic historically comparative and meta theoretical readings of the literature and culture of the United States. Covering works by a diverse set of American authors from Toni Morrison to Bret Harte these essays provide a vital supplement to the critical literary canon mapping a newly variegated terrain that refuses the distinction between ethnic and nonethnic literatures Historical Dictionary of Rwanda Aimable

Twagilimana, 2015-11-06 Blessed with natural beauty and rich vegetation Rwanda is often called the land of a thousand hills. le pays des mille collines a reference to its many lush and green rolling hills. Moreover for many Rwandans at least in the past Rwanda in spite of its small size is vast in fact it means the universe. This idyllic view however sharply contrasts with the sad history of ethnic strife that unfolded since the 1950s the 1959 Hutu Revolution followed by years of anti Tutsi pogroms undemocratic regimes the civil war of 1990-1994 and more significantly the April-July 1994 genocide against the Tutsi and the killing of Hutu who opposed the killings. The 1994 genocide against the Tutsi remains the most defining single event in contemporary Rwanda and many people in the world today know of this central African nation from the prism of extreme mass violence that sullied the end of the 20th century amid international indifference and has since haunted the world's conscience. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Rwanda contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 300 cross-referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture. This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Rwanda Contemporary Fiction Jago Morrison, 2003 A much needed introduction to the field of contemporary fiction studies. Introduces key areas of debate and offers in depth discussions of the most significant texts. An ideal guide for those studying contemporary fiction for the first time The Cambridge Companion to African American Women's Literature Angelyn Mitchell, Danille K. Taylor, 2009-04-30 The Cambridge Companion to African American Women's Literature covers a period dating back to the eighteenth century. These specially commissioned essays highlight the artistry complexity and diversity of a literary tradition that ranges from Lucy Terry to Toni Morrison. A wide range of topics are addressed from the Harlem Renaissance to the Black Arts Movement and from the performing arts to popular fiction. Together the essays provide an invaluable guide to a rich complex tradition of women writers in conversation with each other as they critique American society and influence American letters. Accessible and vibrant with the needs of undergraduate students in mind this Companion will be of great interest to anybody who wishes to gain a deeper understanding of this important and vital area of American literature Environmental Knowledge, Race, and African American Literature Matthias Klestil, 2023-04-20 This open access book suggests new ways of reading nineteenth century

African American literature environmentally Combining insights from ecocriticism African American studies and Foucauldian theory Matthias Klestil examines forms of environmental knowledge in African American writing ranging from antebellum slave narratives and pamphlets to Charlotte Forten's journals Booker T Washington's autobiographies and Charles W Chesnutt's short fiction The volume highlights how literary forms of environmental knowledge in the African American tradition were shaped by the histories of slavery and race mainstream environmental writing traditions and African American forms of expression and intertextuality Turning to the Underground Railroad debates over education and home building and the aesthetics of the pastoral and the georgic Environmental Knowledge Race and African American Literature provides an original perspective on the African American ecoliterary tradition that uncovers new facets of canonical and understudied texts and offers new directions for ecocriticism and African American studies

Passing and the Rise of the African American Novel Maria Giulia Fabi, 2001 Passing and the Rise of the African American Novel restores to its rightful place a body of American literature that has long been overlooked dismissed or misjudged This insightful reconsideration of nineteenth century African American fiction uncovers the literary artistry and ideological complexity of a body of work that laid the foundation for the Harlem Renaissance and changed the course of American letters Focusing on the trope of passing black characters lightskinned enough to pass for white M Giulia Fabi shows how early African American authors such as William Wells Brown Frank J Webb Charles W Chesnutt Sutton E Griggs James Weldon Johnson Frances E W Harper and Edward A Johnson transformed traditional representations of blackness and moved beyond the tragic mulatto motif Celebrating a distinctive African American history culture and worldview these authors used passing to challenge the myths of racial purity and the color line Fabi examines how early black writers adapted existing literary forms including the sentimental romance the domestic novel and the utopian novel to express their convictions and concerns about slavery segregation and racism She also gives a historical overview of the canon making enterprises of African American critics from the 1850s to the 1990s and considers how their concerns about crafting a particular image for African American literature affected their perceptions of nineteenth century black fiction

True to his Colours Theodore P. Wilson, 2019-12-20 In True to His Colours Theodore P Wilson expertly navigates the intricate landscape of identity culture and self perception within the African American community The narrative unfolds through a poignant blend of lyrical prose and rich symbolism revealing the struggles of individuals who grapple with societal norms and the quest for authenticity Set against a backdrop of historical and contemporary influences the book employs a multi layered narrative structure that intertwines personal anecdotes with broader cultural commentary challenging readers to reflect on the complexities of racial and personal identity Theodore P Wilson a distinguished scholar and activist draws from his diverse experiences in academia and community engagement infusing his writing with depth and empathy His background in sociology and literature provides a unique lens through which he examines the themes of resilience and self discovery resonating with those who have faced societal marginalization Wilson's commitment to social justice and equity informs his portrayal of characters making their journeys both relatable and enlightening Readers seeking a profound exploration of identity culture and belonging will find True to His Colours to be both thought provoking and inspiring Wilson's masterful storytelling invites us to confront our own perceptions and fosters a deeper understanding of the rich tapestry of human experience This book is essential for anyone interested in the intersections of race culture and individuality Afro-American Literary Study in the 1990s Houston A. Baker (Jr.), Patricia Redmond, 1989 Featuring the work of the most distinguished scholars in the field this volume assesses the state of Afro American literary study and projects a vision of that study for the 1990s A rich and rewarding collection Choice This diverse and inspired collection testifies to the Afro Am academy's extraordinary vitality Voice Literary Supplement
