Racial Encounters in the Multi-cultural West Gordon Morris Bakken, Brenda Farrington, 2000 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials. Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context, dating and sources, character analysis, comic elements and verbal conceits, evidence of authorship, performance analysis and feminist interpretations. An index by name, literary work and concept rounds out this valuable resource.

Multicultural Encounters S. Sharma, 2006-08-18 This book confronts the challenge of difference for rethinking everyday multiculturalism. It proposes both a theory and practice of a critical pedagogy of popular culture through an analysis of contemporary media and film. For students and scholars committed to a critical practice for transforming the politics of representation and otherness.

Race and Religion in the Postcolonial British Detective Story Julie H. Kim, 2005-07-15 In 1929 Ronald Knox, a prominent member of the English Detection Club, included in his tongue-in-cheek Ten Commandments for Detective Novelists the rule that No Chinaman must figure in the story. In 1983 Ruth Rendell published Speaker of Mandarin, reflecting not only a change in British detective fiction but also a dramatic change in the British cultural landscape. Like much of the rest of British popular culture, the detective novel became more and more ethnically diverse and populated by characters with increasingly varied religious backgrounds. Ten essays examine the changing nature of British detective fiction, focusing on the shifting view of otherness of such authors as Ruth Rendell, Elizabeth George, Peter Ackroyd, Caroline Graham, Christopher Brookmyer, Denise Mina, and John Mortimer. Unlike their American counterparts, British detective writers have been until recently overwhelmingly white, and the essays here explore how these authors delve into ethnic diversity within a historically homogeneous culture. Religion has also played an important role in the genre, ranging from the moral certainty of the early part of the 20th century to the skepticism and hostility that is part of contemporary fiction. How this transition was made and how it reflects the changing nature of British culture are detailed here.

Making the White Man's West Jason E. Pierce,2016-01-15 The West especially the Intermountain states ranks among the whitest places in America but this fact obscures the more complicated history of racial diversity in the region In Making the White Man's West author Jason E Pierce argues that since the time of the Louisiana Purchase the American West has been a racially contested space Using a nuanced theory of historical whiteness he examines why and how Anglo Americans dominated the region for a 120 year period In the early nineteenth century critics like Zebulon Pike and Washington Irving viewed the West as a dumping ground for free blacks and Native Americans a place where they could be segregated from the white communities east of the Mississippi River But as immigrant populations and industrialization took hold in the East white Americans began to view the West as a refuge for real whites The West had the most diverse population in the nation with substantial numbers of American Indians Hispanics and Asians but Anglo Americans could control these mostly disenfranchised peoples and enjoy the privileges of power while celebrating their presence as providing a unique regional character From this came the belief in a White Man's West a place ideally suited for real Americans in the face of changing world The first comprehensive study to examine the construction of white racial identity in the West Making the White Man's West shows how these two visions of the West as a racially diverse holding cell and a white refuge shaped the history of the region and influenced a variety of contemporary social issues in the West today Opera in a Multicultural World Mary Ingraham,Joseph So,Roy Moodley,2015-06-19 Through historical and contemporary examples this book critically explores the relevance and expressions of multicultural representation in western European operatic genres in the modern world It reveals their approaches to reflecting identity transmitting meaning and inspiring creation as well as the ambiguities and contradictions that occur across the time and place s of their performance This collection brings academic researchers in opera studies into conversation with previously unheard voices of performers critics and creators to speak to issues of race ethnicity and culture in the genre Together they deliver a powerful critique of the perpetuation of the values and practices of dominant cultures in operatic representations of intercultural encounters Essays accordingly cross methodological boundaries in order to focus on a central issue in the emerging field of coloniality the hierarchies of social and political power that include the legacy of racialized practices In theorizing coloniality through intercultural exchange in opera authors explore a range of topics and case studies that involve immigrant indigenous exoticist and other cultural representations and consider a broad repertoire that includes lesser known Canadian operas Chinese and African American performances as well as works by Haydn Strauss Puccini and Wagner and in performances spanning three continents and over two centuries In these ways the collection contributes to the development of a more integrated understanding of the interdisciplinary fields inherent in opera including musicology sociology anthropology and others connected to Theatre Gender and Cultural Studies

Black Montana Anthony W. Wood, 2021-07 2022 Stubbendieck Great Plains Distinguished Book Prize Finalist Toward the end of the nineteenth century many African Americans moved westward as Greater Reconstruction came to a close Though along with Euro Americans Black settlers appropriated the land of Native Americans sometimes even contributing to ongoing violence against Indigenous people this migration often defied the goals of settler states in the American West In Black Montana Anthony W Wood explores the entanglements of race settler colonialism and the emergence of state and regional identity in the American West during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries By producing conditions of social cultural and economic precarity that undermined Black Montanans networks of kinship community and financial security the state of Montana in its capacity as a settler colony worked to exclude the Black community that began to form inside its borders after Reconstruction Black Montana depicts the history of Montana s Black community from 1877 until the 1930s a period in western American history that represents a significant moment and unique geography in the life of the U S settler colonial project research has sought to examine how educational systems around the world have interpreted and responded to the challenges and opportunities of globalization In this collection of his papers written over a period of more than two decades Fazal Rizvi seeks to understand the shifting discourses and practices of globalization and education critically examining the ways in which these are reshaping our sense of identity and citizenship and our communities creating transnational systems of ties networks and exchange taken into account in the development of policies and programs of educational reform producing uneven social effects that benefit some communities more than others Fazal Rizvi's analysis shows how recent global transformations have mostly been interpreted through the conceptual prism of a neo liberal imaginary that have undermined education's democratic and cosmopolitan possibilities

Regulating Interracialized Intimacies Elena Zambelli, Betty de Hart, 2025-03-24 This book explores the role of the law in the social construction of race and mixture within and beyond the borders of Europe It focuses on interracialized intimacies that is the intimate relations of subjects ascribed and or perceived to belong to different races The role of the state in defining boundaries between us and them becomes particularly clear in their regulation Moving across different times places and political formations including the US slavery regime European colonial empires and metropolises the book delves deep into how the governments of white supremacist and white majority societies have consistently attempted to prevent discourage or obstruct intimate relationships crossing the colour line This occurred directly through prohibitions and anti miscegenation laws or indirectly through citizenship laws marriage licenses social care prostitution laws housing policies policing practices and other means The book further shows that the legacy of these highly gendered and racialized regulations continues to reverberate today

informing norms hierarchies and perceptions about whose intimacies count as legitimate and ought to be facilitated and whose are deemed suspect and requiring state surveillance The contributions also shed light on the individuals couples and families who were targeted by state regulations and how they challenged and disturbed state categorizations and regulations Highly interdisciplinary in scope with contributions by pioneering United States and European scholars in this field this book will be a fundamental read for scholars researchers and students interested in tracing the genealogy of racial thinking in Europe and beyond and its enduring operativity Cross-cultural Caring Nancy Waxler-Morrison,Joan Madge Anderson,Elizabeth Richardson,1990 Gives background on new immigrant ethnic groups in Canada including attitudes towards such issues as childbirth mental illness dental care hospitalization and death in order to assist social workers in the provision of culturally sensitive and effective treatment programs Convivial Cultures in Multicultural Cities Alina Rzepnikowska,2019-09-20 The large scale migration brought about by the expansion of the EU over a decade ago led to migration from less ethnically diverse countries to multicultural and super diverse societies This book examines the complex encounters between Polish migrant women and local populations in Manchester and Barcelona with attention to the ways in which difference is negotiated and managed through everyday practices of conviviality which help to overcome hierarchies and create elements of sameness Illustrating how cultural differences may become important resources for interaction that facilitates positive relationships Convivial Cultures in Multicultural Cities draws on the narratives of Polish migrant women to shed new light on everyday social relations between migrant women and local populations including settled ethnic minorities and other migrants In doing so it contributes to our understanding of the positional nature of racial identification and complicates our ideas of whiteness and privilege The Road to Multiculturalism in South Korea Timothy Lim,2020-12-13 This book aims to capture the complicated development of Korea from monoethnic to multicultural society challenging the narrative of ethnonational continuity in Korea through a discursive institutional approach At a time when immigration is changing the face of South Korea and an increasingly diverse society becomes empirical fact this doesn't necessarily mean that multiculturalism has been embraced as a normative policy based response to that fact The approach here diverges from existing academic analyses which tend to conclude that core institutions defining Korea's immigration and nationality regimes and which crucially also reflect a basic and hitherto unyielding commitment to racial and ethnic homogeneity will remain largely unaffected by increasing diversity Here this title underscores the critical importance of discursive agency as a necessary corrective to still dominant power and interestbased arguments In addition discursive agents are found to play a central role in communicating promoting and helping to instill the ideas that create a basis for change on the road to remaking Korean society The Road to Multiculturalism in South Korea will be of interest to students and scholars of Asian studies immigration and migration studies race and ethnic studies as well as comparative politics broadly Mixed Race Life Stories Jillian Paragg,2023-06-30 Framing a new theoretical analysis in a field with limited data Mixed Race Life Stories
