Down by the Riverside Larry Murphy, Larry George Murphy, 2000-11 An introductory overview of the development of African American religion and theology Down by the Riverside provides an expansive introduction to the development of African American religion and theology Spanning the time of slavery up to the present the volume moves beyond Protestant Christianity to address a broad diversity of African American religion from Conjure Orisa and Black Judaism to Islam African American Catholicism and humanism This accessible historical overview begins with African religious heritages and traces the transition to various forms of Christianity as well as the maintenance of African and Islamic traditions in antebellum America Preeminent contributors include Charles Long Gayraud Wilmore Albert Raboteau Manning Marable M Shawn Copeland Vincent Harding Mary Sawyer Toinette Eugene Anthony Pinn and C Eric Lincoln and Lawrence Mamiya They consider the varieties of religious expression emerging from migration from the rural South to urban areas African American women s participation in Christian missions Black religious nationalism and the development of Black Theology from its nineteenth century precursors to its formulation by James Cone and later articulations by black feminist and womanist theologians They also draw on case studies to provide a profile of the Black Christian church today This thematic history of the unfolding of religious life in African America provides a window onto a rich array of African American people practices and theological positions

Housing and Planning References ,1980 The Multiracial Urban High School S. Rosenbloom,2010-11-22 From 1996 2000 thirty minority teenagers African American Chinese American Puerto Rican American and Dominican American were interviewed every year for four years to investigate how their experiences in high school shaped their social relationships

When the Fences Come Down Genevieve Siegel-Hawley,2016-04-12 How we provide equal educational opportunity to an increasingly diverse highly urbanized student population is one of the central concerns facing our nation As Genevieve Siegel Hawley argues in this thought provoking book within our metropolitan areas we are currently allowing a labyrinthine system of school district boundaries to divide students and opportunities along racial and economic lines Rather than confronting these realities though most contemporary educational policies focus on improving schools by raising academic standards holding teachers and students accountable through test performance and promoting private sector competition Siegel Hawley takes us into the heart of the metropolitan South to explore what happens when communities instead focus squarely on overcoming the educational divide between city and suburb Based on evidence from metropolitan school desegregation efforts in Richmond Virginia Louisville Kentucky Charlotte Mecklenburg North Carolina and Chattanooga Tennessee between 1990 and 2010 Siegel Hawley uses quantitative methods and innovative mapping tools both to underscore the damages wrought by school district boundary lines and to raise awareness about communities that have sought to counteract them She shows that city suburban school desegregation policy is related to clear measurable progress on both school and housing desegregation Revisiting educational policies that in many cases were abruptly halted or never begun this book will spur an open conversation about the creation of the healthy integrated schools and communities critical to our multiracial future

A Sheltered Crisis ,1984 The Black Church in the African American Experience C. Eric Lincoln,Lawrence H. Mamiya,1990-11-07 Black churches in America have long been recognized as the most independent stable and dominant institutions in black communities In The Black Church in the African American Experience based on a ten year study is the largest nongovernmental study of urban and rural churches ever undertaken and the first major field study on the subject since the 1930s Drawing on interviews with more than 1 800 black clergy in both urban and rural settings combined with a comprehensive historical overview of seven mainline black denominations C Eric Lincoln and Lawrence H Mamiya present an analysis of the Black Church as it relates to the history of African Americans and to contemporary black culture In examining both the internal structure of the Church and the reactions of the Church to external societal changes the authors provide important insights into the Church s relationship to politics economics women youth and music Among other topics Lincoln and Mamiya discuss the attitude of the clergy toward women pastors the reaction of the Church to the civil rights movement the attempts of the Church to involve young people the impact of the black consciousness movement and Black Liberation Theology and clergy and trends that will define the Black Church well into the next century This study is complete with a comprehensive bibliography of literature on the black experience in religion Funding for the ten year survey was made possible by the Lilly Endowment and the Ford Foundation

Public Opinion in the United States Rita J. Simon, 2017-09-08 Public Opinion in the United States tracks developments in American society since World War II through the lens of public opinion The authors assess national public opinion poll data from 1945 to 2008 targeting opinions about African Americans Jews Muslim Americans gays and lesbians immigration abortion and affirmative action The authors consider whether American attitudes have developed faster than Supreme Court decisions in the areas surveyed They assess how social change is processed by the public how people responded to the race riots of the 1950s and 1960s and how the war in Vietnam shaped new perspectives on issues such as race citizenship rights and the role of the individual Each chapter begins by introducing the political social or international events that were critical in setting the stage for influencing public opinion in each decade since World War II The volume provides a unique portrait of American society and how it has changed over the last sixty plus years The reader will learn whether Americans are more or less prejudiced against blacks Jews and Muslims than they were in earlier years whether their views on immigration affirmative action and abortion have changed and when views have changed in what direction Do men and women rich and poor more and less educated secular versus religious share the same views And if there are differences what directions do those differences take Th is work describes American society in 2008 compared to the post World War II era and it offers stunning glimpses at the future

Private Education Daniel C. Levy,1986-03-27 This book focuses on the relationship between private and public education in a comparative context The contributors emphasize the relationship between private choices and public policy as they affect the division of labor between public and private non profit schools colleges and universities Their essays examine the kinds of choices offered by each sector as well as the effects of present and proposed public policies on the intersectoral division of labor Written from neither a pro private nor a pro public point of view the contributors point to the ways in which they believe one sector or the other may be preferable for certain goals or groups Integration of the Armed Forces, 1940-1965 Morris J. MacGregor,2020-06-18 In the quarter century that followed American entry into World War II the nation s armed forces moved from the reluctant inclusion of a few segregated Negroes to their routine acceptance in a racially integrated military establishment Nor was this change confined to military installations By the time it was over the armed forces had redefined their traditional obligation for the welfare of their members to include a promise of equal treatment for black servicemen wherever they might be In the name of equality of treatment and opportunity the Department of Defense began to challenge racial injustices deeply rooted in American society For all its sweeping implications equality in the armed forces obviously had its pragmatic aspects In one sense it was a practical answer to pressing political problems that had plagued several national administrations In another it was the services expression of those liberalizing tendencies that were permeating American society during the era of civil rights activism But to a considerable extent the policy of racial equality that evolved in this quarter century was also a response to the need for military efficiency So easy did it become to demonstrate the connection between inefficiency and discrimination that even when other reasons existed military efficiency was the one most often evoked by defense officials to justify a change in racial policy _x000D_ Morris J MacGregor Jr received the A B and M A degrees in history from the Catholic University of America He continued his graduate studies at the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Paris on a Fulbright grant Before joining the staff of the U S Army Center of Military History in 1968 he served for ten years in the Historical Division of the Joint Chiefs of Staff U.S. Corporate Interests in Africa United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations. Subcommittee on African Affairs,Dick Clark,1978 Mind the Backlash: Gender Discrimination and Sexism in Contemporary Societies Hilde Coffe,Susan

Banducci,Marta Fraile,Jessica Fortin-Rittberger,Amy Alexander,2023-09-26 Decades of campaigns and policy efforts have brought significant progress in women s economic and political status and pushed gender equality up the global policy agenda The goal of gender equality however still remains largely out of reach as illustrated by the recent wave of women s protests against sexual harassment assault and gender violence e.g. MeToo movement. Some European countries e.g. Poland, Hungary and Lithuania have even seen their performance on gender equality backslide in recent years and in parallel to calls for increased equality a wave of mobilisation against gender equality has appeared in the public discourse. Conservative, authoritarian and populist voices in many democracies are now contesting the equal participation of men and women in society under the auspices of a war on gender ideology. This backlash against women's empowerment carries considerable implications for anti-discrimination laws, policies protecting women against domestic violence, reproductive health and the establishment of gender quotas. Given the backlash against gender observed in various countries around the globe, we argue that now is a critical time to revisit and broaden our knowledge about gender discrimination, gender equality and sexism. Our proposed Research Topic will provide a gender perspective to illustrate and understand the recent illiberal turn in politics in a variety of contexts. Taking a comparative approach, we aim at improving our understanding of how sexism, discrimination and gender equality operate at the societal level and how they shape broader social and political views. At the individual level, we will study the current seemingly opposing forces for and against gender equality by analysing the antecedents, predispositions, experiences and motivations explaining and underpinning these attitudes towards different ways of gender equality, sexism and discrimination.
