

JEFFERSON AND HIS TIME

THE SAGE OF MONTICELLO

DUMAS MALONE

Here is the triumphant sixth and final volume of distinguished historian Dumas Malone's unparalleled biography of Thomas Jefferson, a work begun in 1943 and awarded the Pulitzer Prize for History in 1975. More wide-ranging than any of the others, Malone's concluding volume masterfully recounts the accomplishments, friendships, and family difficulties of Jefferson's last seventeen years — including his retirement from Washington and the presidency, his frequent correspondence with John Adams and James Madison, his mounting personal debt, and especially his major role in the founding of the Library of Congress and the University of Virginia, in which he proved himself to be an extraordinary educator and architect. This is a fitting final chapter in the life of one of America's greatest men.
