Making of Modern Physics in Colonial India Somaditya Banerjee,2020-05-14 This monograph offers a cultural history of the development of physics in India during the first half of the twentieth century focusing on Indian physicists Satyendranath Bose 1894 1974 Chandrasekhara Venkata Raman 1888 1970 and Meghnad Saha 1893 1956 The analytical category bhadralok physics is introduced to explore how it became possible for a highly successful brand of modern science to develop in a country that was still under colonial domination The term Bhadrlok refers to the then emerging group of native intelligentsia who were identified by academic pursuits and manners Exploring the forms of life of this social group allows a better understanding of the specific character of Indian modernity that as exemplified by the work of bhadralok physicists combined modern science with indigenous knowledge in an original program of scientific research The three scientists achieved the most significant scientific successes in the new revolutionary field of quantum physics with such internationally recognized accomplishments as the Saha ionization equation 1921 the famous Bose Einstein statistics 1924 and the Raman Effect 1928 the latter discovery having led to the first ever Nobel Prize awarded to a scientist from Asia This book analyzes the responses by Indian scientists to the radical concept of the light quantum and their further development of this approach outside the purview of European authorities The outlook of bhadralok physicists is characterized here as cosmopolitan nationalism which allows us to analyze how the group pursued modern science in conjunction with and as an instrument of Indian national liberation Bose and His Statistics G Venkataraman,1992 10 Indian Scientists Whose

Extraordinary Work You May Not Know Vaishali Shroff,2024-08-05 This book explores the lives and achievements of ten Indian scientists who made remarkable contributions in various fields of science from measuring the brightness of stars and discovering a treatment for cholera to inventing fibre optics and increasing food sustainability Though their names and work may not be widely known they have transformed the quality of our lives They are Ruchi Ram Sahni Meghnad Saha Yellapragada Subbarow Sambhu Nath De Narinder Singh Kapany Obaid Siddiqi Modadugu Vijay Gupta Chandrima Shaha Jagannathan Vijaya V R Lalithambika Vaishali Shroff traces the journey of these scientists detailing the challenges they faced financial scarcity gender bias inadequate facilities and infrastructure as she takes us through the evolution of science in India over three centuries Contested Belonging B. G. Karlsson,2013-11-19 Deals with the modern predicament of the Rabha or Kocha people one of India s indigenous peoples traditionally practising shifting cultivation in the jungle tracts situated where the Himalayan mountains meet the plains of Bengal When the area came under British rule and was converted into tea gardens and reserved forests Rabhas were forced to become labourers under the forest department Today large scale illegal deforestation and the global interest in wildlife conservation once again jeopardize their survival Karlsson describes the development of the Rabha people their ways of coping with the colonial regime of scientific forestry and the depletion of the forest as well as with present day concerns for wilderness and wildlife restoration and preservation Central points relate to the construction of identity as a form of subaltern resistance the Rabha s ongoing conversion to Christianity and their ethnic mobilisation and the agency involved in the construction of cultural or ethnic identities Hot Story,a (v.i.p.)
