Hong Kong and the Cold War Chi-kwan Mark,2004-08-05 After 1949 the British Empire in Hong Kong was more vulnerable than the lack of Chinese demand for return and the success of Hong Kong s economic transformations might have suggested Its vulnerability stemmed as much from Britain s imperial decline and America s Cold War requirements as from a Chinese threat It culminated in the little known 1957 Question a year when the British position in Hong Kong appeared more uncertain than any time since 1949 This is the first scholarly study that places Hong Kong at the heart of the Anglo American relationship in the wider context of the Cold War in Asia Unlike existing works which tend to treat British and US policies in isolation this book explores their dynamic interactions how the two allies perceived responded to and attempted to influence each other s policies and actions It also provides a major reinterpretation of Hong Kong s involvement in the containment of China Dr Mark argues that concerned about possible Chinese retaliation the British insisted and the Americans accepted that Hong Kong s role should be as discreet and non confrontational in nature as possible Above all top decision makers in Washington evaluated Hong Kong s significance not in its own right but in the context of the Anglo American relationship Hong Kong was seen primarily as a bargaining chip to obtain British support for US policy elsewhere in Asia By using a variety of British and US archival material as well as Chinese sources Dr Mark examines how the British and US government discussed debated and disagreed over Hong Kong s role in the Cold War and reveals the dynamics of the Anglo American alliance and the dilemmas of small allies in a global conflict

History at War Noble Frankland,2012-07-18 History at War is a unique book It throws light on important unexplored aspects of the pursuit of historical truth It tells how alone among historians Noble Frankland fought in the bomber offensive during the Second World War and then together with Sir Charles Webster wrote its official history how he transformed the Imperial War Museum from a dying institution into one of the world s leading historical centres for the study of the conflicts of the twentieth century how he played a major part in television documentary productions including in particular The World at War and how he wrote a series of original rigorously researched historical works In History at War he describes the battles he had to fight against the mandarins and media merchants who sought to impose a spin on history to suit their own ends and were ruthless and unscrupulous in their methods Its meticulous documentation gives a guarantee of authenticity to his staggering account of how those in high places tried to distort history which might otherwise seem scarcely credible The revelations about Bomber Harris relations with his superior Lord Portal during the war and their joint opposition to the two authors account of the strategic air offensive still a highly topical issue will set alight a new debate among military and other historians Unlike most books on the theory and practice of history it does not confine itself to what can be written on the page It also covers Dr Frankland's experience of demonstrating history in museum galleries on the television screen on sites such as Duxford Airfield near Cambridge and on board HMS Belfast in the Pool of London The problem for historians of publishing a full and unbiased account and analysis of controversial events and episodes in politics and international affairs is as acute in the 1990s as it ever has been All readers with a concern for the truth will learn much about such issues from this unflinching and penetrating book Robert Crawford Director General Imperial War Museum it is brilliant rivetingly trenchant and should be required reading for all aspirant historians Professor R B Wernham former Professor of Modern History Oxford It really is a splendid and fascinating story and a sharp warning to historians to beware of mandarins and great commanders In Francis Bacon's categorization Some books are to be tasted some to be swallowed and a few to be chewed and digested It certainly rates among the few Professor Geoffrey Best in TLS The subtitle is exactly right for a book by Noble Frankland a tough character who views the successive phases of his post war life as battles to bring truths and lessons plainly before the public and who can happily conclude that he has been generally successful In at least two fields the history of the most painfully controversial of Allied campaigns in the Second World War and the rescue and make over of the least well known of London's great museums his achievements have been of great national value and importance this astringently truth telling professional autobiography required reading for historians of the British Establishment from Attlee to Macmillan Piers Mackesy Fellow of British Academy and former Fellow of Pembroke College Oxford I admired History at War on many levels characterizations of Webster Bradley Willis etc the balance between Museum Trustees and the chief executive functioning of Civil Service Bomber Command the picture of Noble Frankland's developing career and the qualities it called for etc I often laughed aloud at the wit and the penetrating observations of functioning individuals Also much enjoyed final reflections on history by a practitioner Haven't enjoyed a book so much for ages
