Love As Passion The Codification Of Intimacy Cultural Memory In The Present:

Love as Passion Niklas Luhmann, 1998 Originally published Cambridge Mass Harvard University Press 1986 Intimacy and Family in Early American Writing E. Burleigh, 2014-05-21 Through the prism of intimacy Burleigh sheds light on eighteenth and early nineteenth century American texts This insightful study shows how the trope of the family recurred to produce contradictory images both intimately familiar and frighteningly alienating through which Americans responded to upheavals in their cultural landscape The Practice of Cultural Analysis Mieke Bal, Bryan Gonzales, 1999 Cultural analysis is devoted to understanding the past as part of the present as what we have around us The essays gathered here represent the current state of an emerging field of enquiry Signs of Time Ursula Ganz-Blättler, 2018 US prime time television drama of the earlier broadcast era featured self contained storylines and mostly amnesiac protagonists This changed with the arrival of what television scholar Horace Newcomb termed cumulative narrative Prime time series of a new era adopted narrative features more typical for daytime soap opera and leading characters began to remember where they came from This study explores the organisational patterns and generic implications leading to the rise of cumulative storytelling It also points to further venues of analysis for backstory narratives and diegetic memory in general Milton and the Post-Secular Present Feisal Mohamed, 2011-08-09 Milton and the Post Secular Present defines and critiques the term post secular as it appears in current thought bringing its implications into sharp relief by comparison to the pre secular works of John Milton

Border Lines Daniel Boyarin, 2010-11-24 The historical separation between Judaism and Christianity is often figured as a clearly defined break of a single entity into two separate religions Following this model there would have been one religion known as Judaism before the birth of Christ which then took on a hybrid identity Even before its subsequent division certain beliefs and practices of this composite would have been identifiable as Christian or Jewish In Border Lines however Daniel Boyarin makes a striking case for a very different way of thinking about the historical development that is the partition of Judaeo Christianity There were no characteristics or features that could be described as uniquely Jewish or Christian in late antiquity Boyarin argues Rather Jesus following Jews and Jews who did not follow Jesus lived on a cultural map in which beliefs such as that in a second divine being and practices such as keeping kosher or maintaining the Sabbath were widely and variably distributed The ultimate distinctions between Judaism and Christianity were imposed from above by border makers heresiologists anxious to construct a discrete identity for Christianity By defining some beliefs and practices as Christian and others as Jewish or heretical they moved ideas behaviors and people to one side or another of an artificial border and Boyarin significantly contends invented the very notion of religion Revisiting Institutionalism in Sociology Seth Abrutyn, 2013-11-07 There may not be a concept so central to sociology yet so vaguely defined in its contemporary usages than institution In Revisiting Institutionalism in Sociology Abrutyn takes an in depth look at what institutions are by returning to some of the insights of classical theorists like Max Weber and Herbert Spencer the functionalisms of Talcott

Parsons and S N Eisenstadt and the more recent evolutionary institutionalisms of Gerhard Lenski and Jonathan Turner Returning to the idea that various levels of social reality shape societies Abrutyn argues that institutions are macro level structural and cultural spheres of action exchange and communication They have emergent properties and dynamics that are not reducible to other levels of social reality Rather than fall back on old functionalist solutions Abrutyn offers an original and synthetic theory of institutions like religion or economy the process by which they become autonomous or distinct cultural spaces that shape the color and texture of action exchange and communication embedded within them and how they gain or lose autonomy by theorizing about institutional entrepreneurship Finally Abrutyn lays bare the inner workings of institutions including their ecology the way structure and culture shape lower levels of social reality and how they develop unique patterns of stratification and inequality founded on their ecology structure and culture Ultimately Abrutyn offers a refreshing take on macrosociology that brings functionalist conflict and cultural sociologies together while painting a new picture of how the seemingly invisible macro world influences the choices humans make and the goals we set

Deconstruction as Analytic Philosophy Samuel C. Wheeler, 2000 These twelve essays treat the thought of deconstructive philosophers from the perspective of analytic philosophy and relate the works of such thinkers as Davidson Quine and Wittgenstein to the writings of Derrida and de Man

World Spectators Kaja Silverman, 2000 Combining phenomenology and psychoanalysis in highly innovative ways this book seeks to undo the binary opposition between appearance and Being that has been in place since Plato's parable of the cave It is essentially an essay on what could be called world love the possibility and necessity for psychic survival of a profound and vital erotic investment by a human being in the cosmic surround Here the author takes her cue from Freud's assertion that the loss of reality associated with psychosis is a function of a disturbance not in the capacity to reason or perceive but rather in the capacity for world love the libidinal and semiotic circuitry by means of which such love actualizes itself In an implicit challenge to poststructuralist thought the author claims that this love is always in response to a call issued by the world that the world has as it were a vocation its beauty ought to be seen We must think of our own being in the world as a response to a primordial calling out to respond to this beauty We are the author suggests at the very core of our being summoned to what she terms world spectatorship Drawing on Heidegger's phenomenological elaboration of care as the being distinctive of human being and the primarily Lacanian conceptualization of the language of desire specific to each human subject this metapsychology of love attempts to integrate issues in the fields of psychoanalysis philosophy visual culture art history and literary and film studies

The Confession of Augustine Jean-François Lyotard, 2000 Lyotard approaches his subject by returning to his earliest phenomenological training rearticulating Augustine's sensory universe from a vantage point imaginarily inside the confessant's world a vantage point that reveals the intense point of conjuncture between the sensual and the spiritual the erotic world and the mystical being and appearance sin and salvation Lyotard reveals the very origins of phenomenology in Augustine's narrative and in so doing also shows the origins of semiotics to lie there in the explication of the Augustinian heavens as skin as veil as vellum Black Holes / J. Hillis Miller; or, Boustrophedonic Reading Joseph Hillis Miller, Manuel Asensi, 1999 J Hillis Miller's text deals mainly with Anthony Trollope's Ayala's angel and Marcel Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu Making a Nation, Breaking a Nation Andrew Wachtel, 1998 This book focuses on the cultural processes by which the idea of a Yugoslav nation was developed and on the reasons that this idea ultimately failed to bind the South Slavs into a viable nation and state The author argues that the collapse of multinational Yugoslavia and the establishment of separate unination states did not result from the breakdown of the political or economic fabric of the Yugoslav state rather that breakdown itself sprang from the destruction of the concept of a Yugoslav nation Had such a concept been retained a collapse of political authority would have been followed by the eventual reconstitution of a Yugoslav state as happened after World War II rather than the creation of separate nation states Because the author emphasizes nation building rather than state building the causes and evidence he cites for Yugoslavia's collapse differ markedly from those that have previously been put forward He concentrates on culture and cultural politics in the South Slavic lands from the mid nineteenth century to the present in order to delineate those ideological mechanisms that helped lay the foundation for the formation of a Yugoslav nation in the first place sustained the nation during its approximately seventy year existence and led to its dissolution The book describes the evolution of the idea of Yugoslav national unity in four major areas linguistic policies geared to creating a shared national language the promulgation of a Yugoslav literary and artistic canon an educational policy that emphasized the teaching of literature and history in schools and the production of new literary and artistic works incorporating a Yugoslav view In the book's conclusion the author discusses the relevance of the Yugoslav case for other parts of the world considering whether the triumph of particularist nationalism is inevitable in multinational states Narrative, Memory and Knowledge Kate Milnes, 2006 Of Minimal Things Rodolphe Gasché, 1999 Om begreppet relation fr mst inom fenomenologisk och existentialistisk filosofi The Legend of Freud Samuel Weber, 2000 Psychoanalysis is dead Again and again this obituary is pronounced with ever increasing conviction in newspapers and scholarly journals alike But the ghost of Freud and his thought continues to haunt those who would seal the grave The Legend of Freud shows why psychoanalysis has remained uncanny not just for its enemies but for its advocates and practitioners as well and why it continues to fascinate us For psychoanalysis is not just a theory of psychic conflict it is a thought in conflict with itself Often violent the conflicts of psychoanalysis are most productive where they remain unresolved thus producing a text that must be read deciphered interpreted rewritten Psychoanalysis legenda est Review The Legend of Freud is a fine example of what can be done with Freud's texts when philosophical and literary approaches converge and you leave the couch in the other room Like Lacan and Derrida Weber doesn't so much explain or interpret Freud as engage him performing what Freud would have called an Auseinandersetzung a discussion or argument that's also a taking apart a deconstruction Deconstruction has picked up a bad name especially in the minds of those who don't understand it but this wouldn't be the case if there were more books like Weber's The Legend of Freud is the best deconstructive work I've seen lately and the best response to Freud it merits close attention from anyone who wants a challenge not merely a guide to what's right and wrong Weber is brilliantly imaginative respectful of his subject and his readers and productive of new ideas Village Voice Literary Supplement Silent Urns David S. Ferris, 2000 The study of Greece as an icon of culture appears to be as old as Greece itself as if its cultural significance had attained full maturity at birth In Silent Urns the author reveals how Greece attained such significance as the result of the attempt to reconcile individuality freedom history and modernity in 18th century aesthetics The Journal of Philosophy, 1998 Orden social e loucura en Galicia Manuel Torres Cubeiro, 2010 Dead Certainty Jennifer Louise Culbert, 2008 Dead Certainty is about the challenge of judging matters of public concern without a common sense of the good or other shared criteria that validate final decisions Examining both the philosophical and the practical aspects of this challenge this book focuses on United States Supreme Court opinions that authorize and regulate the practice of sentencing people to death Unlike other books that discuss capital punishment it does not argue for or against the death penalty Instead Dead Certainty contributes to a larger project in contemporary political and legal philosophy reimagining how people in today's world give coherence and meaning to their shared experience Culbert's work will be of interest to scholars of political theory jurisprudence law and society rhetoric continental philosophy and ethics The Publishers Weekly, 1998
