LOVE FOR SALE., 1990 A to Z of American Women in the Visual Arts Carol Kort, Liz Sonneborn, 2014-05-14
Presents biographical profiles of American women of achievement in the field of visual arts including birth and death dates major accomplishments and historical influence After Modern Art 1945-2000 David Hopkins, 2000-09-14 Following a clear timeline the author highlights key movements of modern art giving careful attention to the artists political and cultural worlds Styles include Abstract Expressionism Pop Art Minimalism Conceptualism Postmodernism and performance art 65 color illustrations 65 halftones Sublime Economy Jack Amariglio, Joseph W. Childers, Stephen E. Cullenberg, 2008-11-25
Over the last two centuries artists critics philosophers and theorists have contributed significantly to such representations of the economy as sublime It might even be said that much of the emergence of a distinctly modern art in the West is inextricably linked to the perception of art's own autonomy and therefore its privileged mostly critical gaze at the terrible mixture of wonder and horror of capitalist economic practices and institutions The premise of this collection is that despite this perceptual sharing sublime economy has yet to be investigated in a purely cross disciplinary way Sublime Economy seeks to map this critical territory by exploring the ways diverse concepts of economy and economic value have been culturally constituted and disseminated through modern art and cultural practice Comprising of 14 individual essays along with an editors introduction Sublime Economy draws together work from some of the leading scholars in the several fields currently exploring the intersection of economic and aesthetic practices and discourses A pressing issue of this cross disciplinary conversation is to discern how artists writers and cultural scholars constructions of distinct conceptions of economic value as pertains to aesthetic objects as well as to more everyday objects and relations of mass consumption have contributed to the ways value functions in and across disparate discourses Thus this book looks at how cultural critics and theorists have put forward working notions of economic value that have regularities and effects similar to those of the expert conceptions and discourses about value that have been the preserve of professional economists Photography: A Critical Introduction Liz Wells, 2015-01-30 Photography A Critical Introduction was the first introductory textbook to examine key debates in photographic theory and place them in their social and political contexts and is now established as one of the leading textbooks in its field Written especially for students in higher education and for introductory college courses this fully revised edition provides a coherent introduction to the nature of photographic seeing Individual chapters cover Key debates in photographic theory and history Documentary photography and photojournalism Personal and popular photography Photography and the human body Photography and commodity culture Photography as art This revised and updated fifth edition includes New case studies on topics such as materialism and embodiment the commodification of human experience and an extended discussion of landscape as genre 98 photographs and images featuring work from Bill Brandt Susan Derges Rineke Dijkstra Fran Herbello Hannah Hoch Karen Knorr Dorothea Lange Chrystel Lebas Susan Meiselas Lee Miller Martin

Body and Representation Sigrid Schade, Insa Härtel, 2013-04-17 The Body and Representation: The Centre for Feminist Studies Meets the Body. The present work is the result of the cooperation between the Centre for Feminist Studies ZFS at the University of Bremen and the International Women's University Hanover 2000. For the project area Body deans Prof Patricia McFadden and Prof Barbara Duden in which roughly one hundred fifty participants from all over the world took part. The Centre for Feminist Studies developed and organized a two-week study phase: The Body and Representation: Feminist Research and Theoretical Perspectives which was carried out on the campus of the University of Bremen from 30 July to 11 August 2000. Concept and chair: Prof Sigrid Schade. Collaboration / coordination: Dr Insa Härtel. It formed the third and fourth weeks of a program that lasted thirteen weeks in all. This publication is neither a documentation of this study phase nor an ideal concept for such a curriculum. Neither of these possible variants for such a publication was feasible and neither would have made much sense for a number of reasons.

Unpackaging Art of the 1980s Alison Pearlman, 2003-06-15 American art of the 1980s is as misunderstood as it is notorious. Critics of the time feared that market hype and self-promotion threatened the integrity of art. They lashed out at contemporary art, questioning the validity of particular media and methods and dividing the art into opposing camps. While controversies have since subsided, critics still view art of the 1980s as a stylistic battlefield. Alison Pearlman rejects this picture which is truer of the period's criticism than of its art. Pearlman reassesses the works and careers of six artists who became critics' biggest targets. In each of three chapters she pairs two artists the critics viewed as emblematic of a given trend: Julian Schnabel and David Salle in association with Neo-Expressionism; Jean-Michel Basquiat and Keith Haring with Graffiti Art; and Peter Halley and Jeff Koons in relation to Simulationism. Pearlman shows how all these artists shared important but unrecognized influences and approaches a crucial and overwhelming inheritance of 1960s and 1970s Conceptualism, a Warholian understanding of public identity and a deliberate and nuanced use of past styles and media. Through in-depth discussions of works from Haring's body paintings of Grace Jones to Schnabel's movie, Basquiat, Pearlman demonstrates how these artists' interests exemplified a broader generational shift unrecognized by critics. She sees this shift as starting not in the 1980s but in the mid-1970s when key developments in artistic style, art world structures and consumer culture converged to radically alter the course of American art. Unpackaging Art of the 1980s offers an innovative approach

Feminism and Tradition in Aesthetics Peggy Zeglin Brand,Carolyn Korsmeyer,2010-11-01 Inspiration: Bacchus and the Cultural History of a Creation Myth John F. Moffitt,2005-05-01 The purpose of this book is to reveal the antique pedigree of a now commonplace term Inspiration an essential creation myth now propelling notions of self expression in modern art making Knowledge of the ancient sources of such supposedly modernist fixations will make a significant contribution to historical cultural thinking particularly by showing in detail the facts of an unrecognized evolutionary continuity In order to personify Inspiration this study initially focuses upon Michelangelo s Bacchus of 1496 so revealing now forgotten meanings once typically to be attached in a generic way to any Bacchus Then it demonstrates how these Dionysiac concepts arose in ancient Greece Later developments particularly from the Middle Ages through the Renaissance are traced here for the first time Due to further modifications by Friedrich Nietzsche Dionysiac expressionism eventually became a staple of modern art theory and practice
