

The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock by T.S. Eliot

S'io credesse che mia risposta fosse
A persona che mai tornasse al mondo,
Questa fiamma staria senza piu scosse.
Ma perciocche giammai di questo fondo
Non torno vivo alcun, s'i'odo il vero,
Senza tema d'infamia ti rispondo.

Let us go then, you and I,
When the evening is spread out against the sky
Like a patient etherized upon a table;
Let us go, through certain half-deserted streets,
The muttering retreats
Of restless nights in one-night cheap hotels
And sawdust restaurants with oyster-shells:
Streets that follow like a tedious argument
Of insidious intent
To lead you to an overwhelming question ...
Oh, do not ask, "What is it?"
Let us go and make our visit.

In the room the women come and go
Talking of Michelangelo.

The yellow fog that rubs its back upon the window-panes,

Writing Performance Ronald J. Pelias, 1999 Ronald J Pelias is concerned with writing about performance from the everyday performative routines to the texts on stage He seeks to write performatively to offer poetic or aesthetic renderings of performance events in order to capture some sense of their nature In his quest for the spirit of theatrical performances in a collection of essays Pelias of course asks more of the written word than the word can deliver Yet the attempt is both desirable and necessary To discuss performance without some accounting for its essence as art he asserts is at best misleading at worst fraud Pelias divides his efforts to present performance events into three general categories Performing Every Day On Writing and Performing and Being a Witness As the title implies Performing Every Day focuses on performances ranging from the daily business of enacting roles to the telling of tales that make life meaningful It incorporates essays about the ongoing process of presenting oneself in everyday life the gender script that insists that men enact manly performances the classroom performances of teachers and students stories of gender class and race that mark identity and a performance installation entitled A Day s Talk which is a record of talk produced in a day s time accompanied by reflections about and responses to that talk On Writing and Performing examines the written script and performance practices It contains a description of a struggle between a writer and a performer as they protect their own interests an intimate look at an apprehensive performer a short play entitled The Audition which deals with what it means to be an actor a chronicle of performance process from the perspective of an actor and a brief essay on the nature of performance Being a Witness examines performance from the perspective of the audience and the director It includes essays on the experience of

Wonderful Wasteland and other natural disasters Elidio La Torre Lagares, 2019-09-30 When Hurricane Mar a unleashed its devastation onto Puerto Rico thousands of lives were lost to the storm in what was the island's worst natural disaster on record With so much of the recovery still underway and the scars still fresh its citizens continue to contend with the reality that life on the island has fundamentally changed In his first collection of poems written in English La Torre Lagares journeys through his memory in an effort to recompose his shattered land Together these poems form a poignant personal account of a man facing the tragic destinies of his family and his country in the aftermath of a natural disaster For example the deaths of the mother and the father are resignified as the death of the poet's personal relationship which at the same time evokes the rupture between individuals and their sense of place Drawing from both American and Latin American poetry as well as global influences to articulate a language of loss and devastation in search of a new identity this collection illuminates a chaotic and confusing landscape that is not only physical but also cultural social and political Taken together this work serves as a stirring reminder of the dislocation and fractured attachment that speaks to many Americans including transnationals and immigrants Ultimately it speaks to coping with physical loss and emotional pain in the face of human adversity
