Nothing Friendly In The Vicinity:

Nothing Friendly in the Vicinity ... Claude C. Conner, 2013-09-25 As chronicled in Silent Victory Clay Blair's monumental history of United States submarine operations in World War II the submarine war against Japan was a relatively little known war within a war. It was waged by an initially small but expanding force of boats that eventually made more than 1 400 war patrols and sank almost 1 400 Japanese merchant ships and naval vessels. Many American submarines carved out enviable records including USS Guardfish the subject of Claude Conner's remarkable memoir of service aboard a US fleet boat as an enlisted man. Conner who served as a Radar Technician weaves a compelling tale of his service during several war patrols in the Pacific Theater against the Japanese. His firsthand account spans the spectrum in detail and emotion describing everything from humorous personal incidents to the boat's bone crushing battle against the sea the thrill of sending an enemy ship to the bottom of the deathly terror of being trapped in a flooding conning tower. A significant portion of Conner's reminiscence describes the friendly fire sinking of USS Extractor which came about when Guardfish's skipper mistook the ship for a Japanese submarine. Along with the tragic sinking Conner offers important information about Extractor and her crew several detailed firsthand recollections of survivors and an engrossing account of the Court of Inquiry that followed and for which Conner testified as a witness. Nothing Friendly in the Vicinity is a fresh and compelling account of an enlisted man's experiences during the hellish submarine war against Japan and recognized today as a classic of the genre.

Crash Dive Larry Bond, 2011-03-29 They are the ultimate unseen deterrent in modern warfare. Thousands of tons of steel missiles torpedoes and men lurking silently hundreds of feet underwater able to lie off any coastline and unleash a devastating hail of destruction with pinpoint accuracy. They are the true masters of the oceans striking swift and unseen before slipping away ready to do it all over again at a moment's notice. Submarines and their crews have long held a revered place in the military with a special place of honor reserved for those men who willingly seal themselves in what could amount to a nuclear powered coffin for months on end. Although the submarine is a relatively recent development in the field of warfare many of the men who live and fight in these steel fish have already become legends. Edited by bestselling author Larry Bond Crash Dive collects the best nonfiction writing about these near silent killers of the deep and their crews. From the tough Gato class boats that harassed the Japanese Navy during World War II to the cat and mouse games played by U S and Soviet submarines during the Cold War Crash Dive will take you inside the deep and deadly world of the military submarine.

The Men Stephen Leal Jackson, 2010 Submarine duty during World War II was one of the most statistically deadly physically demanding and emotionally challenging assignments in the U S Navy. The boats had few crew comforts and war patrols typically thirty to sixty days in length were so exhausting that the submarine sailors often got a month of rest after each patrol. What would motivate men to volunteer for this unmistakably difficult and dangerous job? This is the question that The Men will answer using the oral histories of enlisted submarine veterans a collection of letters of one sailor who did not return.

and other primary sources These volunteers from diverse locales and backgrounds ignored the danger accepted the privations and exalted in the camaraderie Their excitement fear and humble heroism is captured in their own words the real story of the undersea war in the Pacific told by the men who fought it A veteran of the United States Navy Stephen Leal Jackson spent eight years in the submarine force serving on the USS Los Angeles SSN 688 and the USS Florida SSBN 728 Jackson's service included several Western Pacific cruises to the oceans lands and ports described in The Men A lifelong student of American history Jackson's ongoing research concentrates specifically on World Wars I and II Jackson received his Master of Arts in American History from Providence College and is currently in the Ph D program at Salve Regina University Jackson has served as the primary spokesperson for a major electrical utility on nuclear and environmental issues His unique perspective as a onetime navy enlisted submariner trained historian and skilled communicator allows Jackson to provide clear and easy access to the fascinating experiences of the men who fought the undersea battles during World War II

Death at a Distance Michael Sturma, 2013-07-31 Only seven U S submariners earned the Medal of Honor in World War II Sam Dealey the USS Harder's commander was one of them His honor was awarded posthumously after the entire crew was lost off Bataan during a depth charge attack in August 1944 by a Japanese convoy The Harder's fighting spirit is legendary and its record of sinking a total of eighteen enemy ships with a tonnage in excess of 55 000 made

Target Hong Kong Steven K. Bailey,2024-02-01 Brought to life by the personal accounts of six Navy pilots and one British POW this is the history of the U S Navy airstrikes on Japanese held Hong Kong Commander John Lamade started the war in 1941 a nervous pilot of an antiquated biplane Just over three years later he was in the cockpit of a cutting edge Hellcat about to lead a strike force of 80 aircraft through the turbulent skies above the South China Sea His target Hong Kong As a storm of antiaircraft fire darkened the sky watching from below was POW Ray Jones

For three long years he and his fellow prisoners had endured near starvation conditions in a Japanese internment camp. Did these American aircraft he wondered herald freedom? Trawling through historic records, Steven K Bailey discovered that the story of the U S Navy airstrikes on Japanese held Hong Kong during the final year of World War II had never been told. Operation Gratitude involved nearly 100 U S Navy warships and close to a thousand planes. Target Hong Kong brings this massive operation down to a human scale by recounting the air raids through the experiences of seven men whose lives intersected at Hong Kong in January 1945. Commander John D Lamade, five of his fellow U S Navy pilots and the POW Ray Jones. Drawing upon oral histories, diary transcripts and U S Navy documents, this book expertly narrates the intertwined experiences of these servicemen to bring the history to life. World War II Stories of Sailors & Submarines in the Pacific (Scholastic Focus) Deborah Hopkinson, 2016-09-27. Sibert Honor author Deborah Hopkinson paints a vivid portrait of the deadly battles that raged in the Pacific during WWII and the remarkable courage of the US submarine sailors who fought them. Dive World War II Stories of Sailors Submarines in the Pacific tells the incredible story of America's little known war within a war, US submarine warfare during World War II. Following the attack on Pearl Harbor, the US entered World War II in December 1941 with only 44 Naval submarines, many of them dating from the 1920s. With the Pacific battleship fleet decimated after Pearl Harbor, it was up to the feisty and heroic sailors aboard the US submarines to stop the Japanese invasion across the Pacific. Including breakouts highlighting submarine life and unsung African American and female war heroes, award-winning author Deborah Hopkinson uses first person accounts, archival materials, official Naval documents and photographs to bring the voices and exploits of these brave service members to life. Fremantle's Submarines Michael Sturma, 2015-09-15. From unpromising beginnings in March 1942, the Allied submarine base at Fremantle on the west coast of Australia became a vital part of the Allied offensive against Japan. Pushed back from the Philippines and the Netherlands East Indies, American submariners accompanied by a small group of Dutch forces retreated to Fremantle as a last resort. The location was chosen for its good harbor and the fact that it was outside the range of land-based Japanese aircraft. Unfortunately, the base was also far from their patrol areas and supply lines and it was difficult to reinforce should the enemy attack. Thanks largely to a welcoming civilian population, morale quickly improved. The hospitality and sense of belonging fostered by Western Australians became legendary among Allied submariners and remains central to their wartime memories. Perhaps as a result of such a positive experience, the Allied forces became much more successful in combat Intertwining social and military history Fremantle's Submarines relates how courage cooperation and community made Fremantle arguably the most successful military outpost of World War II from the standpoint of troop morale The Submariner's Dictionary Or Submariner's Compendium of Terms & Tar's Handbook of Naval Verbiage and Retired Guy's Re-familiarization Manual Ron Martini,2005 Submariners are a tight knit group of men bound together by training and experience and with a language all their own That language is perhaps a little vulgar but never intentionally demeaning and a little irreverent but still worldly This work is an attempt to preserve and explain some of these curious guys who so proudly wear a shiny metal pin that looks like a strange pair of fish on their left breast This process of accumulating this new language begins in Boot Camp and is added to with every change of duty station the sailor undergoes It is heard aboard the boats and unknowingly by family members who can't understand terms like head deck and overhead and who think SOS is a distress signal Friendly Fire Scott A.
