Rereading Monika Maron Deirdre Byrnes,2011 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the writing of Monika Maron Her biography charts a complex relationship with the GDR state from initial ideological identification to sustained radical rejection Situating its reflections on her work against the backdrop of a changing critical landscape this analysis takes account of the re contextualisation of her writing necessitated by the collapse of the GDR The author charts the development of a number of seminal themes in Maron s oeuvre The search for an authentic form of expression in her earliest texts gave way to a focus on the writing and the rewriting of history The demise of the political system in 1989 led to an exploration in her work of more intimate themes Maron s post Wende writing makes an important East German contribution to debates on memory transmission and generational forgetting Her most recent novels are concerned with the rupture and the ultimate refashioning of biographies in a post GDR age Rereading her texts in a post Wende light the author explores the complexity of Maron s relationship with the state from which she emerged and demonstrates how this complexity manifests itself in her writing before and after 1989 This study offers new perspectives on Maron s work and illuminates the significance of her contribution to contemporary German literature

Historical Dictionary of Postwar German Literature William Grange,2009-07-09 Some authors strongly criticized attempts to rebuild a German literary culture in the aftermath of World War II while others actively committed themselves to dealing with the German past There are writers in Austria and Switzerland that find other contradictions of contemporary life troubling while some find them funny or even worth celebrating German postwar literature has in the minds of some observers developed a kind of split personality In view of the traumatic monstrosities of the previous century that development may seem logical to some The Historical Dictionary of Postwar German Literature is devoted to modern literature produced in the German language whether from Germany Austria Switzerland or writers using German in other countries This volume covers an extensive period of time beginning in 1945 at what was called zero hour for German literature and proceeds into the 21st century concluding in 2008 This is done through a list of acronyms and abbreviations a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on writers such as Nobel Prize winners Heinrich Böll Günter Grass Elias Canetti Elfriede Jelinek and W G Sebald There are also entries on individual works genres movements literary styles and forms

Memory Matters Caroline Schaumann, 2008-08-27 Memory Matters juxtaposes in tripartite structure texts by a child of German bystanders Wolf an Austrian Jewish child survivor Kluger a daughter of Jewish migrants Honigsmann a daughter of an officer involved in the German resistance Bruhns a granddaughter of a baptized Polish Jew Maron and a granddaughter of German refugees from East Prussia Deckers Placed outside of the distorting victim perpetrator Jewish German man woman and war postwar binary it becomes visible that the texts neither complete nor contradict each other but respond to one another by means of inspiration reverberation refraction incongruity and ambiguity Focusing on genealogies of women the book delineates a different cultural memory than the counting of male inflected generations and a male dominated Holocaust and postwar literature canon It examines intergenerational conflicts and the negotiation of memories against the backdrop of a complicated mother daughter relationship that follows unpredictable patterns and provokes both discord and empathy Schaumann's approach questions the assumption that German gentile and German Jewish postwar experiences are necessarily diametrically opposed i.e. respond to a negative symbiosis and uncovers intersections and continuities in addition to conflicts

After the Stasi Annie Ring, 2015-10-22 Why did so many citizens of the GDR agree to collaborate with the Stasi Reading works of literature since German unification in the light of previously unseen files from the archives of the Stasi After the Stasi uncovers how writers to the present day have explored collaboration as a challenge to the sovereignty of subjectivity Annie Ring here interweaves close analysis of literary fiction and life writing by former Stasi spies and victims with documents from the archive new readings from literary modernism and cultural theories of the self In its pursuit of the strange power of the Stasi the book introduces an archetypal character in the writing of German unification one who is not sovereign over her or his actions but instead is compelled by an imperative to collaborate an imperative that persists in new forms in the post Cold War age Ring's study identifies a monumental historical shift after 1989 from a collaboration that took place in concert with others in a manner that could be recorded in the archive to the more isolated and ultimately less accountable complicities of the capitalist present While considering this shift in the most recent texts by East German writers Ring provocatively suggests that their accounts of collaboration under the Stasi and of the less than sovereign subjectivity to which it attests remain urgent for understanding the complicities to which we continue to consent in the present day

Field Studies Holger Briel, Carol Fehringer, 2005 The fifteen essays in this volume reflect the diversity of German studies in Britain and Ireland today The German language itself is the focus of four studies covering historical aspects of German and Yiddish language pedagogy and controversial contemporary issues such as the rise of Anglicisms in German and the language of second and third generation immigrants Traditional literary philology is also well represented in six essays on prose writers and dramatists from the nineteenth century to the present day but it is a traditional philology that has been much modified and enriched by the cultural and historical perspectives evident in the remaining five essays These include psychoanalytical and contextual studies and embrace the historical development and elaboration of mass media technologies from radio to public access cable TV

German Memory Contests Anne Fuchs, Mary Cosgrove, Georg Grote, 2006 Since unification in 1990 Germany has seen a boom in the confrontation with memory evident in a sharp increase in novels films autobiographies and other forms of public discourse that engage with the long term effects of National Socialism across generations Taking issue with the concept of Vergangenheitsbewältigung or coming to terms with the Nazi past which after 1945 guided nearly all debate on the topic the contributors to this volume view contemporary German culture through the more dynamic concept of memory contests which sees all forms of memory public or private as ongoing processes of negotiating identity in the present Touching on gender generations memory and postmemory trauma theory ethnicity historiography and family narrative the contributions offer a comprehensive picture of current German memory debates in so doing shedding light on the struggle to construct a German identity mindful of but not wholly defined by the horrors of National Socialism and the Holocaust Contributors Peter Fritzsche Anne Fuchs Elizabeth Boa Stefan Willer Chloe E M Paver Matthias Fiedler J J Long Dagmar C G Lorenz Cathy S Gelbin Jennifer E Michaels Mary Cosgrove Andrew Plowman Roger Woods Anne Fuchs is Professor of modern German literature and Georg Grote is Lecturer in German history both at University College Dublin Mary Cosgrove is Lecturer in German at the University of Edinburgh

Ossi Wessi Donald Backman, Aida Sakalauskaite, 2009-10-02 Ossi Wessi includes the proceedings of the fourteenth annual Interdisciplinary German Studies Conference at the University of California Berkeley 2006 which explored issues surrounding the Berlin Wall both pre and post reunification in language literature and visual media The collected articles discuss the situation of the Berlin Wall describing its portrayal as both a dividing and uniting boundary and often discussing the continued existence of the Wall in the minds of Germany's citizens The multi disciplinary range of approaches contained in this volume reveals how diverse the portrayals of the history of the Wall have been as well as how controversial the division of Germany remains today Topics covered in this collection include Wende Literature and film linguistic changes and attitudes since 1989 the complicated history of the Neo Nazis and the visual arts Although Ossi Wessi is by no means a comprehensive reference work each of its essays serve as a though provoking springboard for further research

As Time Goes By Joy Charnley, Caroline

Verdier, 2014-07-24 Academic work in a range of disciplines has been making an important contribution to the fraught and confusing debate around ageing and through writers consciousness and experience literature just like economics psychology history and sociology can provide valuable insights into the attitudes and prejudices prevalent in society The present volume adds to this burgeoning field by providing a wide spectrum of literary analyses drawing on a range of approaches Freud Lacan Kristeva and feminist theory amongst others and covering a broad geographical area France Germany Italy Portugal Spain and Switzerland in addition to Francophone Canada and Morocco Major writers such as Balzac Cervantes Goethe Mann and Zola are discussed here as well as a number of important twentieth century writers Ben Jelloun Cixous Doubrovsky Ernaux Roy and Ungaretti and less well known figures Carvalho Chatelet and Fleutiaux Within the broad themes which structure the volume many others also emerge overlapping and often recurring in several sections These constant echoes between essays remind us that whatever the geographical location or the period in history similar issues remain pertinent across time and space whether it be family relations generational solidarity sadness and loneliness memory and dementia class differences gender differences or sexuality Together these essays contribute to the existing body of critical work by providing a series of portraits of what age is has been and might be in the future Collectively they demonstrate once more the power of literature to reflect or even prefigure social trends encouraging us to consider carefully what we think how we live and how we might shape our future societies □□□□□□ ,2007
