Mononuclear Phagocytes Function Aspects Part II:

Luminescence Biotechnology Knox Van Dyke, Christopher Van Dyke, Karen Woodfork, 2001-12-20 The dangers and drawbacks inherent in radioactivity based methods along with a demonstrated and dramatic increase in sensitivity have precipitated a major shift towards luminescence measurements and visualization techniques Their use has now spread even to traditional clinical environments and their applications have grown from clinical assays to Macrophages and Natural Killer Cells Sigurd J. Normann, 2012-12-06 This book is the outcome of a meeting held in Davos Switzerland February 7 12 1982 focused primarily on mononuclear phagocytes and on natural killer NK cells This IX International RES Congress was attended by 489 scientists from 31 countries and there were 340 scientific presentations in oral or poster session The essential purpose of the Congress was to bring together scientists representing various aspects of mononuclear phagocyte biology to review and examine critically the effects and mechanisms of macrophage growth control as well as the participation of these cells in the afferent and efferent limbs of the immune response Additional topics included the production and distribution of mononuclear phagocytes the intrinsic and extrinsic regulation of these cells and the origin nature function and regulation of NK cells The ultimate goal of the Congress was to enhance communication between scientists in various countries and disciplines so that new research directives could be defined with which to explore basic aspects of macrophage and NK cell participation in the control of cancer and infection

Microenvironments in Haemopoietic and Lymphoid Differentiation Ruth Porter, Julie Whelan, 2009-09-14 The Novartis Foundation Series is a popular collection of the proceedings from Novartis Foundation Symposia in which groups of leading scientists from a range of topics across biology chemistry and medicine assembled to present papers and discuss results The Novartis Foundation originally known as the Ciba Foundation is well known to scientists and clinicians around the world

Immunology Joseph Bellanti, 2013-11-11 This comprehensive treatise on the reticuloendothelial system is a project jointly shared by individual members of the Reticuloendothelial RE Society and biomedical scientists in general who are interested in the intricate system of cells and molecular moieties derived from those cells which constitute the RES It may now be more fashionable in some quarters to consider these cells as part of what is called the mononuclear phagocytic system or the lymphoreticular system Nevertheless because of historical developments and current interest in the subject by investigators from many diverse areas it seems advantageous to present in one comprehensive treatise current information and knowledge concerning basic aspects of the RES such as morphology biochemistry phylogeny and ontogeny physiology and pharmacology as well as clinical areas including immunopathology cancer infectious diseases allergy and hypersensitivity It is anticipated that by presenting information concerning these apparently heterogeneous topics under the unifying umbrella of the RES attention will be focused on the similarities as well as interactions among the cell types constituting the RES from the viewpoint of various disciplines The treatise editors and their editorial board consisting predominantly of the editors of individual volumes are extremely grateful for the enthusiastic cooperation and enormous task under taken by members of the biomedical community in general and especially by members of the American as well as European and Japanese Reticuloendothelial Societies

The Retina A Model for Cell Biology Studies Part_1 Ruben Adler, 2012-12-02 The Retina A Model for Cell Biology Studies Part I is the first of a two part series that details developments in the study of retinal cell biology The book begins with some basic information about retinal structure and development followed by a discussion of the advantages of the retina as a model system for cell biology studies It reviews some of the major events in the maturation of the retina pertinent to the assembly of neuronal circuits The book describes studies of neuronal assembly in order to demonstrate that adhesion based neuronal assembly may be the most elaborated example of a wider class of morphogenetic phenomena categorized as adhesion guided multicellular assembly systems The remaining chapters discuss in vivo and in vitro studies on trophic interactions in retinal development and in retinal degenerations cell motility in the retina molecular properties of vertebrate rod cells the role of cyclic nucleotides in the metabolism and function of the retina and the cellular and molecular aspects of photosensitive membrane turnover

Membrane Processes G. Benga, H. Baum, F.A. Kummerow, 2012-12-06 The burgeoning interest in biomembranes in recent years has been such that membranology is now virtually a subject in its own right cutting vertically as it were through the strata of conventional disciplines from mathematics and physics through chemistry to biology The very scope of the topic is thus so daunting that it is tempting to treat it only at one stratum of this hierarchy be it the biophysics of phospholipid bilayers or the biochemistry of interactions at the cell surface Such an approach is entirely valid particularly among specialists with common interests However this approach does present a distorted perspective to the newcomer to the field and more significantly it fails to stimulate cross fertil ization of ideas among workers at the various disciplinary levels For example as in all areas of molecular biology the clinicians are frequently unaware of the contributions to their problems that might be made by the application of more basic knowledge and techniques Conversely biochemists or biophysicists may be ignorant of the existing practical problems to which they might address their expertise
