UNIT 2:

Accounting Information (Module 1) -

What is the role and purpose of Accounting?

An accounting system is used by a business to

1. analyze transactions,
  2. handle routine bookkeeping tasks, and
  3. structure information so it can be used to evaluate the performance and health of the business.
- Accounting is formally defined as a system for providing "quantitative information, primarily financial in nature, about economic entities that is intended to be useful in making economic decisions."
  - Part of business is learning how to protect yourself against bad outcomes.
  - Who uses accounting information and why? Everyone. Information supplied by accounting comes in the form of quantitative data, is primarily financial in nature, and related to specific economic entities. An economic entity may be an individual, a business enterprise, or a nonprofit organization.
  - Accounting provides the means for tracking activities and measuring results. "Language of business"
  - The acquisition of monetary resources. These resources, often referred to as capital, come from three sources:
    - investors (owners),
    - creditors (lenders), and
    - the business itself in the form of earnings that have been retained.
  - When the product or service is sold, additional monetary resources (revenues) are generated.
  - What are the important influences on Accounting?
    - Accountants play two roles with regard to these activities:
    - Measuring and reporting. Accountants measure and communicate (report) the results of business activities—in other words, accountants keep score. To measure these results accurately, accountants follow a standard set of procedures referred to as the accounting cycle. The cycle includes several steps, which involve analyzing, recording, classifying, summarizing, and reporting the transactions of a business.
