Learning to Teach History in the Secondary School , Teaching the Holocaust in School History Lucy Russell,2006-08-17 If we expose students to a study of human suffering we have a responsibility to guide them through it But is this the role of school history This issue is the rationale behind teaching the Holocaust primarily historical moral or social Is the Holocaust to be taught as a historical event with a view to developing students critical historical skills or as a tool to combat continuing prejudice and discrimination These profound questions lie at the heart of Lucy Russell s fascinating analysis of teaching the Holocaust in school history She considers how the topic of the Holocaust is currently being taught in schools in the UK and overseas Drawing on interviews with educationalists academics and teachers she discovers that there is in fact a surprising lack of consensus regarding the purpose of and approaches to teaching the Holocaust in history Indeed the majority view is distinctly non historical there is a tendency to teach the Holocaust from a social and moral perspective and not as history This book attempts to explain and debate this phenomenon     Teaching History Creatively Hilary Cooper,2016-11-10 The fully updated second edition of Teaching History Creatively introduces teachers to the wealth of available approaches to historical enquiry ensuring creative effective learning This book clearly sets out the processes of historical enquiry demonstrating how these are integrally linked with key criteria of creativity and helps readers to employ those features of creativity in the classroom Underpinned by theory and research it offers informed and practical support and is illustrated throughout with examples of children s work Key themes addressed include investigating sources using archives in your own research project becoming historical agents and history detectives drama for exploring events myths and legends communicating historical understanding creatively With brand new chapters from the Stone Ages to the Iron Age using prehistoric sources The withdrawal of the Romans and the conquest and settlement of Britain by the Anglo Saxons in addition to many new case studies this exciting edition puts an emphasis on accessible recent research new evidence and interpretations and encourages the creative dynamism of the study of history Teaching History Creatively provides vivid and rich examples of the creative use of sources of approaches to understanding chronology and concepts of time and of strategies to create interpretations It is an essential purchase for any teacher or educator who wishes to embed creative approaches to teaching history in their classroom     Archives, Museums and Collecting Practices in the Modern Arab World Sonja Mejcher-Atassi,John Pedro Schwartz,2016-05-23 Collecting has a long tradition in the Middle East but the museum as a public institution is relatively new Today there are national museums for antiquities in most Arab countries While in some cases the political and social climate has hindered the foundation of museums with existing collections even destroyed at times the recent museum boom in the Gulf States is again changing the outlook This unique book is the first to explore collecting practices in archives and museums in the modern Arab world featuring case studies of collecting practices in countries ranging from Egypt and Lebanon to Palestine Jordan Iraq and the Gulf and providing a theoretical and methodological basis for future research The authors are also concerned with investigating the relationship between past and present since collecting practices tell us a great deal not only about the past but also about the ways we approach the past and present conceptions of our identities Collections can be textual as well as in the stories memories or events selected recalled and retold in the pages of a text As interest in memory studies as well as popular and visual culture grows in the Arab World so collecting practices are at the heart of any critical approach to the past and the present in that region The book will be of great interest not only to scholars and students of the modern Arab world but also to professionals in museums and collections in the region as well as around the world     History Teacher's Magazine ,1910     The Teaching American History Project ,     Doing History Linda S.
