Principles And Practices Of Water Allocation Among Wateruse Sectors:

Principles and Practices of Water Allocation Among Water-use Sectors United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, 2000-01-01 Water allocation water rights water management riverine watershed protection water trading conservation reuse conflict resolution sustainability environment Water and Wastewater Management Müfit Bahadır, Andreas Haarstrick, 2022-03-25 This volume addresses the situation of water and wastewater management from a global angle underpinned by selected case studies Without doubt water and wastewater management are among the greatest challenges of our century and there is also no doubt that the challenges posed by climate change will become even greater However most efforts especially in developing countries but also in the so called developed countries have been less than optimal or not optimal at all In particular there are still too many people who have to live without clean water and decent sanitation Today 2.2 billion people lack access to safely managed drinking water and wastewater and 4.2 billion people lack safely managed sanitation services The question why this is so and why in many cases in developing countries is discussed in this book among other urgent water and wastewater management issues The publication of this book is the start of a book series that in more detail critically reviews discusses and analyzes the water and wastewater situation and management in different regions and countries worldwide Proceedings of the Tenth International Conference on Management Science and Engineering Management Jiuping Xu, Asaf Hajiyeve, Stefan Nickel, Mitsuo Gen, 2016-08-23 This book presents the proceedings of the Tenth International Conference on Management Science and Engineering Management ICMSEM2016 held from August 30 to September 02 2016 at Baku Azerbaijan and organized by the International Society of Management Science and Engineering Management Sichuan University Chengdu China and Ministry of Education of Azerbaijan The aim of conference was to foster international research collaborations in management science and engineering management as well as to provide a forum to present current research findings The presented papers were selected and reviewed by the Program Committee made up of respected experts in the area of management science and engineering management from around the globe The contributions focus on identifying management science problems in engineering innovatively using management theory and methods to solve engineering problems effectively and establishing novel management theories and methods to address new engineering management issues Multi-Stakeholder Platforms for Integrated Water Management Jeroen Warner, 2016-09-17 As they provide a negotiating space for a diversity of interests Multi Stakeholder Platforms MSPs are an increasingly popular mode of involving civil society in resource management decisions This book focuses on water management to take a positive if critical look at this phenomenon Illustrated by a wide geographical range of case studies from both developed and developing worlds it recognizes that MSPs will neither automatically break down divides nor bring actors to the table on an equal footing and argues that MSPs may in some cases do more harm than good The volume then examines how MSPs can make a difference and how they might successfully co opt

the public private and civil society sectors The book highlights the particular difficulties of MSPs when dealing with integrated water management programmes explaining how MSPs are most successful at a less complex and more local level It finally questions whether MSPs are or can be sustainable and puts forward suggestions for improving their durability

Sustainable Groundwater Development for Improved Livelihoods in Sub-Saharan Africa Paul Pavelic,Karen G. Villholth,Shilp Verma,2023-05-08 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the benefits and challenges of intensifying groundwater irrigation in Sub Saharan Africa SSA for improving smallholder agrarian livelihoods Only about 3% of the groundwater resources of Sub Saharan Africa are used for irrigated agriculture despite the subcontinent s relative abundance of groundwater The majority of the region s smallholders are highly dependent on seasonal dryland cropping making them extremely vulnerable to uncertain weather patterns and droughts Improved irrigation capabilities through sustainable groundwater development could unleash smallholder farming and make it a major driver of economic growth poverty reduction climate resilience and improved food security So why is groundwater so underused Tapping into groundwater requires a major shift in farming practices and it has its own challenges and requirements smallholder access to land and finance for irrigation infrastructure and equipment gendered and equitable adoption options This whole list is framed in terms of what the smallholder farmers need Hence this should also be put in this context supply chains energy access resource availability and institutional support The chapters in this book present a picture that is not only heterogeneous across the region but also hold some common denominators They serve to enrich the discourse and help better understand the barriers along the pathways toward the sustainable and transformative adoption of groundwater irrigation The scientific information provided herein would be of interest to researchers practitioners decision makers and planners with interest in the region This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Water International journal
