Private Cities:

Private Cities , Private Cities Yue Li,Martin Rama,2023-06-15 Institutional constraints and weak capacity often hamper the ability of local governments in developing countries to steer urbanization As a result there are not enough cities to accommodate an unabated rural urban migration and many of those that exist are messy sprawling and disconnected The flipside is the emergence of entire cities more than gated communities or industrial parks led in whole or in part by private actors To date little systematic research has been conducted on the conditions that are necessary for such unusual entities to emerge on the roles played by private actors or on the consequences for efficiency and equity Private Cities Outstanding Examples from Developing Countries and Their Implications for Urban Policy aims to fill this gap Using an analytical framework that draws on urban economics and political science it includes inventories of private cities in the Arab Republic of Egypt India Indonesia and Pakistan and provides structured reviews of 14 outstanding examples across all developing regions Nongovernment actors turn out to be diverse they include not only major companies and large developers but also business associations civil society organizations and even foreign countries The way local governments interact with these nongovernment actors varies as well from deliberate neglect to joint ventures Private actors take on some but not all local government functions while at times embracing unconventional roles And while private cities tend to be economically successful they can lead to environmental degradation social segregation and even institutional secession Increasing the capacity of local governments in developing countries will take time Along the way inefficient spatial development patterns may be locked in There is a case for selectively tapping into the comparative advantage of significant private actors while actively using policy tools to avoid the potential shortcomings In the spirit of a public-private partnership for urbanization land value capture would be at the center of this approach

Free Global Cities Christian H Kälin,2025-03-20 This book proposes a new solution to the problem of the migration crisis engulfing the world by creating safe harbours or Free Global Cities In the face of the largest displacement crisis on record even the most optimistic view of the future suggests that in the years ahead more and more people will migrate in order to survive The world requires places where refugees and other migrants forced to leave their homes have the opportunity to work study create start businesses and rebuild new lives for themselves and their families Free Global Cities can deal with this growing global crisis in a completely new way They are autonomous self governed subnational entities that provide a safe environment and rule of law that will create wealth and prosperity for its residents as well as for the nations hosting them Such a model would contribute significantly to handle the largest migration crisis in history which the world will be experiencing in the coming decades

Institutions and Incentives in Public Policy Rosolino A. Candela,Rosemarie Fike,Roberta Herzberg,2022-07-18 Institutions and Incentives in Public Policy An Analytical Assessment of Non Market Decision Making explores both in theory and in practice the consequences of using public policy as a tool to achieve specific individual and social goals as well as its impact on private solutions to address such

Cities of the Global South Reader Faranak Miraftab, Neema Kudva, 2014-10-10 The Cities of the Global South Reader adopts a fresh and critical approach to the field of urbanization in the developing world The Reader incorporates both early and emerging debates about the diverse trajectories of urbanization processes in the context of the restructured global alignments in the last three decades Emphasizing the historical legacies of colonialism the Reader recognizes the entanglement of conditions and concepts often understood in binary relations first third worlds wealth poverty development underdevelopment and inclusion exclusion By asking whose city whose development the Reader rigorously highlights the fractures along lines of class race gender and other socially and spatially constructed hierarchies in global South cities The Reader's thematic structure where editorial introductions accompany selected texts examines the issues and concerns that urban dwellers planners and policy makers face in the contemporary world These include the urban economy housing basic services infrastructure the role of non state civil society based actors planned interventions and contestations the role of diaspora capital the looming problem of adapting to climate change and the increasing spectre of violence in a post 9 11 transnational world The Cities of the Global South Reader pulls together a diverse set of readings from scholars across the world some of which have been written specially for the volume to provide an essential resource for a broad interdisciplinary readership at undergraduate and postgraduate levels in urban geography urban sociology and urban planning as well as disciplines related to international and development studies Editorial commentaries that introduce the central issues for each theme summarize the state of the field and outline an associated bibliography They will be of particular value for lecturers students and researchers making the Cities of the Global South Reader a key text for those interested in understanding contemporary urbanization processes The Routledge Handbook of Anthropology and the City Setha Low, 2018-10-03 The Routledge Handbook of Anthropology and the City provides a comprehensive study of current and future urban issues on a global and local scale Premised on an engaged approach to urban anthropology the volume adopts a thematic approach that covers a wide range of modern urban issues with a particular focus on those of high public interest Topics covered include security displacement social justice privatisation sustainability and preservation Offering valuable insight into how anthropologists investigate make sense of and then address a variety of urban issues each chapter covers key theoretical and methodological concerns alongside rich ethnographic case study material The volume is an essential reference for students and researchers in urban anthropology as well as of interest for those in related disciplines such as urban studies sociology and geography The Polish-Lithuanian State, 1386-1795 Daniel Z. Stone, 2014-07-01 For four centuries the Polish Lithuanian state encompassed a major geographic region comparable to present day Poland Lithuania Belarus Ukraine Russia Latvia Estonia and Romania Governed by a constitutional monarchy that offered the numerous nobility extensive civil and political rights it enjoyed unusual domestic tranquility for its military strength kept most enemies at bay until the mid seventeenth century and the country generally avoided civil wars Selling grain and timber to western Europe helped make it exceptionally wealthy for much of the period The Polish Lithuanian State 1386 1795 is the first account in English devoted specifically to this important era It takes a regional rather than a national approach considering the internal development of the Ukrainian Jewish Lithuanian and Prussian German nations that coexisted with the Poles in this multinational state Presenting Jewish history also clarifies urban history because Jews lived in the unincorporated private cities and suburbs which historians have overlooked in favor of incorporated royal cities In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the private cities and suburbs often thrived while the inner cities decayed The book also traces the institutional development of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland Lithuania one of the few European states to escape bloody religious conflict during the Reformation and Counter Reformation Both seasoned historians and general readers will appreciate the many excellent brief biographies that advance the narrative and illuminate the subject matter of this comprehensive and absorbing volume Homeownership, Renting and Society Sebastian Kohl, 2017-04-07 On the eve of the financial crisis the USA was inhabited by almost 70 percent homeownership households in comparison to about 45 percent in Germany Homeownership Renting and Society presents new evidence showing that this homeownership gap already existed between American and German cities around 1900 Existing explanations based on culture government housing policy or typical socio economic factors have difficulties in accounting for these long term cross country differences Using historical case studies on Germany and the USA the book identifies three institutional domains on the supply side of the housing market urban land housing finance and construction that set countries on different housing trajectories and subsequently established differences that were hard to reverse in later periods Further chapters generalize the argument across other OECD Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development countries and extend the explanation to cover historical differences in homeownership ideology and horizontal property institutions This enlightening volume also puts forward path dependence theories in housing studies connects housing with vast urban history and political economy literature and offers comprehensive insights about the case of a tenant s country which contradicts the tendency towards universal homeownership Providing an all new historic institutionalist explanation of the German American homeownership gap this title will be of interest to postgraduate students and scholars interested in fields including Housing Studies Sociology Urban History Political Economy Social Policy and Geography It may also be of interest to those working in housing field organizations and ministries

Mega-Urbanization in the Global South Ayona Datta,Abdul Shaban,2016-11-03 The global south is entering an Urban Age where for the first time in history more people will be living in cities than in the countryside The logics of this prediction have a dominant framing rapid urbanization uncontrolled migration resource depletion severe fuel shortages and the breakdown of law and order We are told that we must be prepared The solution is simple they say Mega urbanization is an opportunity for economic growth and prosperity Therefore we must build big build new and build fast With contributions from an international range of established and emerging scholars drawing upon real world examples Mega Urbanization in the Global South is the first to use the lens of speed to examine the postcolonial urban revolution From the mega urbanization of Lusaka to the production of satellite cities in Jakarta to new cities built from scratch in Masdar Songdo and Rajarhat this book argues that speed is now the persistent feature of a range of utopian visions that seek to expedite the production of new cities These fast cities are the enduring images of postcolonial urbanism which bypass actually existing urbanisms through new power knowledge coalitions of producing knowing and governing the city The book explores three main themes Part I examines fast cities as new urban utopias which propagate the illusion that they are quick fix sustainable solutions to insulate us from future crises Part II discusses the role of the entrepreneurial state that despite its neoliberalisation is playing a key role in shaping mega urbanization through laws policies and brute force Part III finally delves into how fast cities built by entrepreneurial states actually materialise at the scale of regional urbanization rather than as metropolitan growth This book explores the contradictions between intended and unintended outcomes of fast cities and points to their fault lines between state sovereignty capital accumulation and citizenship It concludes with a vision and manifesto for slow and decelerated urbanism This timely and original book presents urban scholars with the theoretical empirical and methodological challenges of mega urbanization in the global south as well as highlighting new theoretical agendas and empirical analyses that these new forms of city making bring to the fore

The Global City and the Holy City Tovi Fenster,2016-09-17 The Global City the Holy City explores the local embodied knowledge of women and men of different national cultural and ethnic identities and age groups living in London and Jerusalem Their narratives focus on the three main concepts of Comfort Belonging and Commitment to the various spaces in which they live By deconstructing the meanings of these three notions and analyzing their expression in cognitive temporal maps The Global City The Holy City examines the practicalities of incorporating this kind of local embodied knowledge into the professional planning and management of cities in the age of globalization From Citizens to Subjects Curtis Murphy, 2018-07-10 From Citizens to Subjects challenges the common assertion in historiography that Enlightenment era centralization and rationalization brought progress and prosperity to all European states arguing instead that centralization failed to improve the socioeconomic position of urban residents in the former Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth over a hundred year period Murphy examines the government of the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth and the several imperial administrations that replaced it after the Partitions comparing and contrasting their relationships with local citizenry minority communities and nobles who enjoyed considerable autonomy in their management of the cities of present day Poland Ukraine and Belarus He shows how the failure of Enlightenment era reform was a direct result of the inherent defects in the reformers visions rather than from sabotage by shortsighted local residents Reform in Poland Lithuania effectively destroyed the existing system of complexities and imprecisions that had allowed certain towns to flourish while also fostering a culture of self government and civic republicanism among city citizens of all ranks and religions By the mid nineteenth century the increasingly immobile post Enlightenment state had transformed activist citizens into largely powerless subjects without conferring the promised material and economic benefits of centralization From the Nation State to Stateless Nations Tom W. Bell, 2018 Your Next Government From the Nation State to Stateless Nations reveals the revolution quietly transforming governments bottom up inside out worldwide It will attract scholars of international law and trade special jurisdictions development policy urban planning and political philosophy as well as lay readers interested in these topics Global Climate Change and Environmental Refugees Pardeep Singh, Bendangwapang Ao, Anamika Yadav, 2023-02-18 This book explores the possibilities of understanding the concept of climate refugees in order to ascribe to a consensual agreement that climate refugees are evident and this situation is a reality A framework to study both empirically and theoretically is presented in a detailed manner so that it may become a resource for understanding the challenges of climate refugees Through discussion and analysis the book presents potential answers to such questions as Why has the international system been so short sighted and has not given importance to the problems of climate migrants and refugees How to identify a climate refugee How do you justify a climate refugee or a migrant What are internally displaced people Should we call them just refugees The book covers the interdisciplinary nature of climate refugees and the perspectives of social science The empirical findings provides an edge to holistically understanding climate refugees This book discusses the concept of what really is a climate refugee and the necessary factors to make it an important part of the climate discourse The legality of the term is missing in international parlance and the academic discourse should provide the necessary critique required for the evolution of the subject under study Therefore the major objective of the book is to make the subject of climate migration known to all

Contractual Communities in the Self-Organising City Grazia Brunetta, Stefano Moroni, 2012-01-05 Both land use regulation and territorial collective services have traditionally been accomplished in cities through coercive efforts of public administrations Recently land use regulation and collective service provision regimes have emerged within contractual communities territory based organisations usually but not exclusively residential such as homeowners associations This book examines the problems and opportunities of contractual communities avoiding both the alarmism and unwarranted apologies found in much of the literature on contractual communities The central notion is that cases in which coercive action by a public agency was deemed indispensable have been unjustly overstated while the potential benefits of voluntary self organising processes have been seriously understated The authors propose a revised notion of the state role that allows ample leeway for contractual communities of all forms The City in the Islamic World, Volume 94/1 & 94/2 Salma K. Jayyusi, Renata Holod, Attilio Petruccioli, Andre Raymond, 2008 The purpose of this book is to draw attention to the sites of life politics and culture where current and past generations of the Islamic world have made their mark Unlike many previous volumes dealing with the city in the Islamic world this one has been expanded not only to include snapshots of historical fabric but also to deal with the transformation of this fabric into modern and contemporary urban entities Salma Khadra Jayyusi was awarded Cultural Personality of the Year by the Sheikh Zayed Book Award for her profound contribution to Arabic literature and culture in 2020 The paperback edition of The City in the Islamic World was published to celebrate the occasion

Private Cities: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the engaging narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Private Cities : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Private Cities : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
