Rachel in Servitude Random House, 2000-05-01 Rachel in Servitude J. L. Jones, 2000-05 The History of Negro Servitude in Illinois, and of the Slavery Agitation in that State, 1719-1864 Norman Dwight Harris, 1904 George Galphin and the Transformation of the Georgia-South Carolina Backcountry Michael P. Morris, 2014-12-05 The focus of this work is a reconstruction of the life and career of an Ulster Scot fur trader George Galphin pronounced Golfin who immigrated to South Carolina in the colonial period The thesis of this work is that his life and career helped to shape the history of the backcountry of Georgia and South Carolina in three distinct ways First his support of a for profit Indian trade as opposed to a for stability trade shaped Anglo Indian relations between frontier settlers and their Indian neighbors Ultimately men like Galphin helped the United States move away from the British policy towards Native Americans in favor of a uniquely American policy which ran the gamut from exploitation to land seizures and finally toward Indian Removal itself The book involves a look at the histories of the Muskogee Creeks and Cherokees who were his clients and has a heavy Native American component Galphin s second major influence on the Southeast came with the creation of the Ulster Scot communities he sponsored in both South Carolina and Georgia The relocation plans catered strictly to the Scots Irish Protestants and located them in danger zones between coastal settlements of Anglo Saxon British settlers and the Indian frontiers of the two colonies Galphin s third major influence came during the American Revolution when he was appointed as a Patriot Indian Commissioner fighting to control the southeastern tribes and keep them out of the war In that role he made his contribution as did so many others that helped secure a Patriot victory This part of his story would be of note to an audience interested in the American Revolution in the South from the perspective of the backcountry Finally his family life included the creation of a large multi racial family which helped establish the Creole society of the Eastern Georgia Western South Carolina His spouses and children included Caucasians Native Americans and African Americans Two of Galphin s daughters were his slaves until his death A Peculiar Imbalance William D. Green, 2008-10-14 Unearths previously untold stories of African Americans in early Minnesota Construction of Gender and Identity in Genesis Karalina Matskevich, 2019-01-24 Karalina Matskevich examines the structures that map out the construction of gendered and national identities in Genesis 2 3 and 12 36 Matskevich shows how the dominant Subject the androcentric ha adam and the ethnocentric Israel is perceived in relation to and over against the Other represented respectively as female and foreign Using the tools of narratology semiotics and psychoanalysis Matskevich highlights the contradiction inherent in the project of dominance through which the Subject seeks to suppress the transforming power of difference it relies on for its signification Thus in Genesis 2 3 ha adam can only emerge as a complex Subject in possession of knowledge with the help of woman the transforming Other to whom the narrator and Yahweh attributes both the agency and the blame Similarly the narratives of Genesis 12 36 show a conflicted attitude to places of alterity Egypt the fertile and seductive space that threatens annihilation and Haran the mother s land a complex metaphor for the feminine The construction of identity in these narratives largely relies on the symbolic fecundity of the Other

British Abolitionism and the Rhetoric of Sensibility B. Carey,2005-08-31 British Abolitionism and the Rhetoric of Sensibility argues that participants in the late eighteenth century slavery debate developed a distinct sentimental rhetoric using the language of the heart to powerful effect in the most important political and humanitarian battle of the time Examining both familiar and unfamiliar texts including poetry novels journalism and political writing Carey shows that slave owners and abolitionists alike made strategic use of the rhetoric of sensibility in the hope of influencing a reading public thoroughly immersed in the cult of feeling

God's Person and Eternal Plan Fred Beck,2024-07-02 Because the book is based on selected stories from the entire Bible readers discover many insights of the person of God and how He patiently and lovingly works in and through His people Moses asked God Show me Your Glory So the Lord concealed by a cloud passed by Moses and revealed His moral attributes holy righteous compassionate gracious and abounding in loving kindness and truth integrity to His own moral character God also forgives iniquity perversity transgression rebellion against God and His morals God forgives sin missing the target God sets for us God is slow to anger yet He will punish the guilty those who refuse to repent and to acknowledge Him as Savior and Lord The author seeks to tell the stories in ways that are true to Scripture all stories have many quotes from Scripture The author also seeks to read between the lines and to reveal history settings beliefs and emotions Such things help anchor the stories to real life and enable readers relate God's stories to their own lives While reading the OT stories readers will experience mini revelations as God interacts with different people situations and cultures Thus readers are prepared for God's full revelation of Himself in Jesus As readers enter the NT stories of Jesus they grow close to Him Then the crucifixion resurrection and ascension of Jesus makes many ask What now Then the Holy Spirit bursts on the scene just like Jesus promised As readers continue through the stories of Acts and Apostles they discover the spread of faith and the growth of the church Those Bible stories become pieces of a big puzzle revealing the person of God and His eternal plan for us That realization begins to take over the readers hearts and minds The author prays that this book will be discovered by Christians whose spiritual growth has been stopped due to their confusion and fear brought about by the growing culture of unbelief in our nation The church is under siege across the world However God is God and His word guarantees victory

This book discusses 20th and 21st centuries literary retellings of biblical texts focusing on how fiction and poetry fill the extant narrative gaps present in the often sparse biblical accounts and align the narratives with theological and or cultural expectations of modern interpreting communities The chapters written by an international group of scholars explore biblical retellings in a variety of modern languages ranging from Korean and Chinese to Hebrew and Arabic Most of the contributions deal with retellings of the narrative books Genesis Exodus Judges Ruth 1 2 Samuel Daniel but a few are devoted to prophetic Hosea and poetic Psalms ones Another set of articles looks beyond specific biblical books and instead analyses how the Bible has been retold in different literary genres Children and YA literature sci fi and fantasy Christian Inspiration fiction and in modern political discourse North and South Korea All the chapters further highlight how literary retellings of the Bible form two way movements They reveal the often subversive quality of literary retellings retellings not only emphasise those nuances in the biblical texts that create unease but also problematise their standpoint and question their moral and theological message The Hebrew Bible in Contemporary Fiction and Poetry is suitable for students and scholars of biblical studies working on intertextuality and reception history It is also of interest to those working on comparative literature particularly with regards to the Hebrew Bible in popular culture and literature
