Cofounded in 2006 by the rock star Bono Product RED has been a particularly successful example of a new trend in celebrity driven international aid and development one explicitly linked to commerce not philanthropy In Brand Aid Lisa Ann Richey and Stefano Ponte offer a deeply informed and stinging critique of compassionate consumption Campaigns like Product RED and its precursors such as Lance Armstrong s Livestrong and the pink ribbon project in support of breast cancer research advance the expansion of consumption far more than they meet the needs of the people they ostensibly serve At the same time such campaigns sell both the suffering of Africans with AIDS in the case of Product RED and the power of the average consumer to ameliorate it through familiar and highly effective media representations Using Product RED as its focal point this book explores how corporations like American Express Armani Gap and Hallmark promote compassionate consumption to improve their ethical profile and value without significantly altering their business model protecting themselves from the threat to their bottom lines posed by a genuinely engaged consumer activism Coupled with the phenomenon of celebrity activism and expertise as embodied by Bono Richey and Ponte argue that this causumerism represents a deeply troubling shift in relief efforts effectively delinking the relationship between capitalist production and global poverty BeagleBone Cookbook Mark A. Use What You Have: Resolving the HIV/AIDS Pandemic Roger W. Hoerl and Presha E. Neidermey, 2009-07-16 With over 25 million dead AIDS has pounced on the world like a medieval plague ranking among the greatest killers in history Despite billions of international aid dollars the development of effective medical treatments for HIV the virus that causes AIDS and the efficacy of condoms in preventing the spread of HIV during sex 6 000 people are dying daily and over 15 million orphans have been left behind Perhaps most surprisingly many educated westerners are only vaguely aware of AIDS as a disease threatening gays or Africans and do not believe it has any relevance for them Few have noticed the feminization of AIDS taking AIDS from a disease primarily infecting gay men to one infecting more women than men Women are at the forefront of the fight against AIDS in many parts of the world nowhere more so than in Sub Saharan Africa The authors of this book make a clear case that HIV and AIDS form the most critical crisis facing the human race in this century by providing the reader a deeper understanding of the root causes of and plausible solutions for the AIDS pandemic They include several engaging human interest stories of real people impacted by AIDS

By the time I took up the position of Medical Superintendent at McCord Hospital in Durban in 1993 AIDS was more common but there was still no affordable treatment available In the mid 1990 s we started several social support programs of which the income generating beadwork projects were one Social clubs consisting mostly of women were formed They supported each other through times of hardship illness and death and cared for the children The Zulu people amongst whom we work have been gifted by the most beautiful voices The women would often sit in the parking areas at the hospital between the cars with their hands speedily busy on beadwork orders chatting and laughing while keeping a
