Reflections on Renewal Donna M. Eschenauer,Harold Daly Horell,2011 A Michael Glazier book Includes bibliographical references and index Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications , Shock Wave Reflection Phenomena Gabi Ben-Dor,2013-06-29 The phenomenon of shock wave reflection was first reported by the distinguished philosopher Ernst Mach in 1878 Its study was then abandoned for a period of about 60 years until its investigation was initiated in the early 1940s by Professor John von Neumann and Professor Bleakney Under their supervision 15 years of intensive research related to various aspects of the reflection of shock waves in pseudo steady flows were carried out It was during this period that the four basic shock wave reflection configurations were discovered Then for a period of about 10 years from the mid 1950s until the mid 1960s investigation of the reflection phenomenon of shock waves was kept on a low flame all over the world e g Australia Japan Canada U S A U S S R etc until Professor Bazhenova from the U S S R Professor Irvine Glass from Canada and Professor Roy Henderson from Australia re initiated the study of this and related phenomena Under their scientific supervision and leadership numerous findings related to this phenomenon were reported Probably the most productive research group in the mid 1970s was that led by Professor Irvine Glass in the Institute of Aerospace Studies of the University of Toronto In 1978 exactly 100 years after Ernst Mach first reported his discovery of the reflection phenomenon I published my Ph D thesis in which for the first time analytical transition criteria between the various shock wave reflection configurations were established Philosophy and Engineering: Reflections on Practice, Principles and Process Diane P Michelfelder,Natasha McCarthy,David E. Goldberg,2014-01-13 Building on the breakthrough text Philosophy and Engineering An Emerging Agenda this book offers 30 chapters covering conceptual and substantive developments in the philosophy of engineering along with a series of critical reflections by engineering practitioners The volume demonstrates how reflective engineering can contribute to a better understanding of engineering identity and explores how integrating engineering and philosophy could lead to innovation in engineering methods design and education The volume is divided into reflections on practice principles and process each of which challenges prevalent assumptions and commitments within engineering and philosophy The volume explores the ontological and epistemological dimensions of engineering and exposes the falsity of the commonly held belief that the field is simply the application of science knowledge to problem solving Above all the perspectives collected here demonstrate the value of a constructive dialogue between engineering and philosophy and show how collaboration between the disciplines casts light on longstanding problems from both sides The chapters in this volume are from a diverse and international body of authors including philosophers and engineers and represent a highly select group of papers originally presented in three different conferences These are the 2008 Workshop on Philosophy and Engineering WPE 2008 held at the Royal Academy of Engineering the 2009 meeting of the Society for Philosophy and Technology SPT 2009 at the University of Twente in the Netherlands and the Forum on Philosophy Engineering and Technology fPET 2010 held in Golden Colorado at the Colorado School of Mines
