Davis, Robert E. Gallman, Karin Gleiter, 2007-12-01 In Pursuit of Leviathan traces the American whaling industry from its rise in the 1840s to its precipitous fall at the end of the nineteenth century Using detailed and comprehensive data that describe more than four thousand whaling voyages from New Bedford Massachusetts the leading nineteenth century whaling port the authors explore the market for whale products crew quality and labor contracts and whale biology and distribution and assess the productivity of the American fleet They then examine new whaling techniques developed at the end of the nineteenth century such as modified clippers and harpoons and the introduction of darting guns Despite the common belief that the whaling industry declined due to a fall in whale stocks the authors argue that the industry's collapse was related to changes in technology and market conditions Providing a wealth of historical information In Pursuit of Leviathan is a classic industry study that will provide intriguing reading for anyone interested in the history of whaling Miraculous Air C. The Power of Words in International Relations Charlotte Epstein,2008-10-03 The role of discursive power in shaping international relations analyzed through the lens of whaling politics In the second half of the twentieth century worldwide attitudes toward whaling shifted from widespread acceptance to moral censure Why Whaling once as important to the global economy as oil is now had long been uneconomical Major species were long known to be endangered Yet nations had continued to support whaling In The Power of Words in International Relations Charlotte Epstein argues that the change was brought about not by changing material interests but by a powerful anti whaling discourse that successfully recast whales as extraordinary and intelligent endangered mammals that needed to be saved Epstein views whaling both as an object of analysis in its own right and as a lens for examining discursive power and how language materiality and action interact to shape international relations By focusing on discourse she develops an approach to the study of agency and the construction of interests that brings non state actors and individuals into the analysis of international politics Epstein analyzes the society of whaling states as a set of historical practices where the dominant discourse of the day legitimated the killing of whales rather than their protection She then looks at this whaling world s mirror image the rise from the political margins of an anti whaling discourse which orchestrated one of the first successful global environmental campaigns in which saving the whales ultimately became shorthand for saving the planet Finally she considers the continued dominance of a now taken for granted anti whaling discourse including its creation of identity categories that align with and sustain the existing international political order Epstein s synthesis of discourse power and identity politics brings the fields of international relations theory and global environmental politics into a fruitful dialogue that benefits both

Animals in Person John Knight,2020-08-29 Our relationship with animals is complex and contradictory we hunt kill and eat them yet we also love respect and protect them This ambivalent relationship is further complicated by the fact that we attribute human emotions and intelligence to animals We even go as far as likening them to children and treating them as family members Drawing on a diverse range of case studies Animals in Person attempts to unravel our close and fascinating link with the animal kingdom This book highlights the theme of cross species intimacy in contexts such as livestock care pet keeping and the use of animals in tourism The studies draw on data from different parts of the world including New Guinea Nepal India Japan Greece Britain The Netherlands and Australia Animals in Person documents the existence of relations between humans and animals that in many respects recall relations among humans themselves

The Doryman's Reflection Paul Molyneaux,2017-07-25 What happens when the oceans are emptied of all their fish What happens when three hundred years of human knowledge and expertise disappear before the onslaught of the technology driven world The Doryman s Reflection is simply the most accurate and eloquent account of what transpired in the New England fisheries over the past half century as told by the people who lived it including author Paul Molyneaux Fishermen survive as relics the last hunter gatherers among us Their boats crammed with ropes and nets carry the mystique of a nearly forgotten world ruled by the elements Now an accomplished writer Molyneaux as a young man journeyed to Maine with no experience and a dream of working on a boat This is the story of his apprenticeship with Bernard Raynes one of Maine s last independent commercial fishermen The Doryman s Reflection speaks to those who want to know what really happened and what will happen on our oceans Part coming of age memoir part biography it is a very personal account of what families in this dying but important industry face each day Molyneaux shares his own history as a young man seeking the fisherman s life in Maine and Alaska Originally published in 2005 it has been thoroughly updated to cover the events of the past ten years Told through the life of the colorful and engaging Bernard Raynes The Doryman s Reflection is alive and real and powerful far from a dry pedantic treatise on the economics of commercial fishing
