This short book is number 13 in the Development Issues Monograph Series published by NCDS Asia Pacific Press and consists of six chapters written by eight contributors. As a book it is somewhat unusual in that it does not contain a preface and an index. A preface is often useful in giving the rationale behind a book and an index is important for reference purposes. As an edited book, it is also somewhat unusual in that its initial chapter does not provide an overview of the contributions in the book, nor is there a concluding chapter which synthesises or summarises results. So it is more like an issue of a journal than a book. It is a pity that it does not contain these missing features. However, it is not uncommon for monographs to be "half-finished" in relation to the above. Most established publishers, however, at least insist on an index.

Apart from the above shortcomings, readers with interests in the Chinese economy and economies in transition will find the essays in this book useful as background reading. They are policy-oriented and non-technical in nature, so they can be profitably read not only by economists generally but by non-economists with an interest in change in China's socio-economic system.

The initial chapter by Yiping Huang (The Australian National University), Fang Cai (Peking University) and Ron Duncan (The Australian National University) provides a historical overview of the reform of state-owned enterprises (SOEs) in China in which key measures and major issues in the policy debates about the reforms of SOEs are systematically outlined. It provides a detailed backdrop which helps to put most of the succeeding chapters in context.

In Chapter 2, Ding Xuedong (National Administrative Bureau of State-Owned Property, China) gives particular attention to systems of property rights in SOEs and outlines five different schools of thought about how reform of China's SOEs should proceed.

Albert Kreidel (World Bank Resident Mission, Beijing) outlines trends in the rates of returns to SOEs. Overall returns on investment in SOEs have sunk to very low levels in recent times and their indebtedness to banks has risen to levels causing concern. Many of their debts are bad debts and there is a risk that Chinese banks may be driven into insolvency by their "over extension" of Changing Lanes in China Eric Thun,2006-01-16 This book addresses two of the most important trends in political economy during the last two decades globalization and decentralization in the context of the world s most rapidly growing economic power China The intent is to provide a better understanding of how local political and economic institutions shape the ability of Chinese state owned firms to utilize foreign direct investment FDI to remake themselves in the transition from inefficient and technologically backward firms into powerful national champions In a global economy the author argues local governments are increasingly the agents of industrial transformation at the level of the firm Local institutions are durable over time and they have important economic consequences Through an analysis of five Chinese regions the treatment seeks to specify the opportunities and constraints that alternative institutional structures create how they change over time and ultimately how they prepare Chinese firms for the challenge of global competition The Political Economy of Competition Law in China Wendy Ng,2018-01-11 The Political Economy of Competition Law in China provides a unique multifaceted perspective of China s anti monopoly law The Oxford Handbook of International Tax Law Florian Haase,Georg Kofler,2023-10-13 International Tax Law is at a turning point Increased tax transparency the tackling of Base Erosion and Profit Shifting BEPS the reconstruction of the network of bilateral tax treaties the renewed discussion about a fair and efficient allocation of taxing rights between States in a global digitalized economy and the bold push for minimum corporate taxation are some expressions of this shift This new era also demonstrates the increased influence of international standard setters such as the OECD the UN and the EU Each of these developments alone has the potential of being disruptive to the traditional world of international tax law but together they have the potential to reshape the international tax system The Oxford Handbook of International Tax Law provides a comprehensive exploration of these key issues which will shape the future of tax law Divided into eight parts this handbook traces the history of international tax law from its earliest days until the present including reflections on the developments that have characterized the last one hundred years The second section places tax law within the broader international context considering how it relates to public and private international law as well as corporate trade and criminal law Sections three and four consider key legal principles and issues such as regional tax treaty models OECD dispute resolution and transfer pricing versus formulary apportionment Subsequent analysis places these issues within their European and cross border contexts providing an assessment of the role of the ECJ state aid and cross border VAT Section seven broadens the scope of this analysis asking how trends in recent major economies and regions have helped shape the current outlook The final section considers emerging issues and the future of international tax law With over sixty authors from 28 different countries the Oxford Handbook of International Tax Law is an invaluable resource for scholars academics and practitioners alike tackle this societal problem China in the Post-Deng Era ,1998 Deng Xiaoping s death marked the end of an era in contemporary Chinese politics The first generation revolutionary leaders have gone and the third generation leaders are genuinely in power At the same time economic reforms since 1978 have now reached a plateau and a new impetus is called for to maintain the momentum of economic growth Reform of the state enterprises is a good example of the situation It is therefore an appropriate time to review developments in China and discuss what needs to be done in the future A team of experts has been gathered to complete this formidable task They come from Australia China Hong Kong and the United States Each author deals with a specific policy area and his her chapter will cover 1 what has been achieved since 1978 2 an evaluation of the policies and reforms so far with emphasis on what needs to be done in the future 3 what the plans of Chinese leaders on further reforms and future changes are and what the author s evaluation of such plans is and 4 what the vision following Deng s death will be
