Religion and Intimate Partner Violence Nancy Nason-Clark, Barbara Fisher-Townsend, Catherine Holtmann, Stephen McMullin, 2018 Intimate partner violence is a complex ugly fear inducing reality for large numbers of women around the world When violence exists in a relationship safety is compromised shame abounds and peace evaporates Violence is learned behavior and it flourishes most when it is ignored minimized or misunderstood When it strikes the homes of deeply religious women they are more vulnerable more likely to believe that their abusive partners can and will change less likely to leave a violent home temporarily or forever often reluctant to seek outside sources of assistance and frequently disappointed by the response of the religious leader to their call for help These women often believe they are called by God to endure the suffering to forgive and to keep on forgiving their abuser and to fulfill their marital vows until death do us part Concurrently many batterers employ explicitly religious language to justify the violence towards their partners and sometime they manipulate spiritual leaders who try to offer them help Religion and Intimate Partner Violence seeks to navigate the relatively uncharted waters of intimate partner violence in families of deep faith The program of research on which it is based spans over twenty five years and includes a wide variety of specific studies involving religious leaders congregations battered women men in batterer intervention programs and the army of workers who assist families impacted by abuse including criminal justice workers therapeutic staff advocacy workers and religious leaders The authors provide a rich and colorful portrayal of the intersection of intimate partner violence and religious beliefs and practices that inform and interweave throughout daily life Such a focus on lived religion enables readers to isolate examine and evaluate ways in which religion both augments and thwarts the journey towards justice accountability healing and wholeness for women and men caught in the web of intimate partner violence Christian Remnant-African Folk Church Stefan Höschele,2007-01-01 Tanzanian Adventism exemplifies one of the most fascinating shifts in the history of religions the growth of Christianity in Africa Most striking in this account is the analysis of a minority denomination s transformation to a veritable folk church Rethinking Church, State, and Modernity David Lyon,Marguerite Van Die,2000-01-01 The contributors consider how Canada s religious experience is distinctive in the modern world somewhere between the largely secularized Europe and the relatively religious United States The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia Ian McAllister,Steve Dowrick,Riaz Hassan,2003-08-07 First published in 2003 The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia is a high quality reference on significant research in Australian social sciences The book is divided into three main sections covering the central areas of the social sciences economics political science and sociology Each section examines the significant research in the field placing it within the context of broader debates about the nature of the social sciences and the ways in which institutional changes have shaped how they are defined taught and researched Professional Women in South African Pentecostal Charismatic Churches Maria Frahm-Arp,2010 This book offers an exploration into the interconnections between career success and religiosity as it examines the role of Pentecostal Charismatic Christianity in the work experiences of young professional black women who are becoming part of the post apartheid South African middle class The Changing World Religion Map Stanley D. Brunn,2015-02-03 This extensive work explores the changing world of religions faiths and practices It discusses a broad range of issues and phenomena that are related to religion including nature ethics secularization gender and identity Broadening the context it

studies the interrelation between religion and other fields including education business economics and law The book presents a vast array of examples to illustrate the changes that have taken place and have led to a new world map of religions Beginning with an introduction of the concept of the changing world religion map the book first focuses on nature ethics and the environment It examines humankind s eternal search for the sacred and discusses the emergence of green religion as a theme that cuts across many faiths Next the book turns to the theme of the pilgrimage illustrated by many examples from all parts of the world In its discussion of the interrelation between religion and education it looks at the role of missionary movements It explains the relationship between religion business economics and law by means of a discussion of legal and moral frameworks and the financial and business issues of religious organizations The next part of the book explores the many new faces that are part of the religious landscape and culture of the Global North Europe Russia Australia and New Zealand the U S and Canada and the Global South Latin America Africa and Asia It does so by looking at specific population movements diasporas and the impact of globalization The volume next turns to secularization as both a phenomenon occurring in the Global religious North and as an emerging and distinguishing feature in the metropolitan cosmopolitan and gateway cities and regions in the Global South The final part of the book explores the changing world of religion in regards to gender and identity issues the political religious nexus and the new worlds associated with the virtual technologies and visual media

Growing Up Canadian Peter Beyer, Rubina Ramji, 2013-06-01 A significant number of Canadian raised children from post 1970s immigrant families have reached adulthood over the past decade As a result the demographics of religious affiliation are changing across Canada Growing Up Canadian is the first comparative study of religion among young adults of Muslim Hindu and Buddhist immigrant families Contributors consider how relating to religion varies significantly depending on which faith is in question how men and women have different views on the role of religion in their lives and how the possibilities of being religiously different are greater in larger urban centres than in surrounding rural communities Interviews with over two hundred individuals aged 18 to 26 reveal that few are drawn to militant politicized religious extremes how almost all second generation young adults take personal responsibility for their religion and want to understand the reasons for their beliefs and practices The first major study of religion among this generation in Canada Growing Up Canadian is an important contribution to understanding religious diversity and multiculturalism in the twenty first century Contributors include Peter Beyer Kathryn Carri re Wendy Martin and Lori Beaman University of Ottawa Rubina Ramji Cape Breton University Nancy Nason Clark and Cathy Holtmann University of New Brunswick Shandip Saha Athabasca University John H Simpson University of Toronto and Marie Paule Martel Reny Concordia University
