Religion & Politics in East Africa Holger Bernt Hansen,1995 Religion & Politics in East Africa Holger Bernt Hansen,Michael Twaddle,1995-01 Religious activities have been of continuing importance in the rise of protest against post colonial governments in Eastern Africa Africa Air University (U.S.). Library,1996 Decolonization & Independence in Kenya, 1940-93 Bethwell A. Ogot,William Robert Ochieng',1995 This is a sharply observed assessment of the history of the last half century by a distinguished group of historians of Kenya At the same time the book is a courageous reflection in the dilemmas of African nationhood Professor B A Ogot says The main purpose of the book is to show that decolonization does not only mean the transfer of alien power to sovereign nationhood it must also entail the liberation of the worlds of spirit and culture as well as economics and politics The book also raises a more fundamental question that is How much independence is available to any state national economy or culture in today s world It asks how far are Africa s miseries linked to the colonial past and to the process of decolonization In particular the book raises the basic question of how far Kenya is avoidably neo colonial And what does neo colonial dependence mean The book answers these questions by discussing the dynamic between the politics of decolonization the social history of class formation and the economics of dependence The book ends with a provocative epilogue discussing the transformation of the post colonial state from a single party to a multi party system Jua Kali Kenya Kenneth King,1996 Analyzes the three televised debates in 1992 among presidential candidates Bill Clinton George Bush and Ross Perot showing how candidates used persuasive attack and defense strategies to undermine their opponents and preserve vital issues of personal credibility and policy matters Includes complete transcripts of the debates Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Alice Lakwena and the Holy Spirits Heike Behrend,2000-03-31 In August 1986 Alice Auma a young Acholi woman in northern Uganda proclaiming herself under the orders of a Christian spirit named Lakwena raised an army called the Holy Spirit Mobile Forces With it she waged a war against perceived evil not only an external enemy represented by the National Resistance Army of the government but internal enemies in the form of impure soldiers witches and sorcerers She came very close to her goal of overthrowing the government but was defeated and fled to Kenya This book provides a unique view of Alice s movement based on interviews with its members and including their own writings examining their perceptions of the threat of external and internal evil It concludes with an account of the successor movements into which Alice s forces fragmented and which still are active in the civil wars of the Sudan and Uganda Being Maasai Thomas Spear,Richard Waller,1993-04-01 Everyone knows the Maasai as proud pastoralists who once dominated the Rift Valley from northern Kenya to central Tanzania But many people who identity themselves as Maasai or who speak Maa are not pastoralist at all but farmers and hunters Over time many different people have become something else And what it means to be Maasai has changed radically over the past several centuries and is still changing today This collection by historians archaeologists anthropologists and linguists examines how Maasai identity has been created evoked contested and transformed from the time of their earliest settlement in Kenya to the present as well as raising questions about the nature of ethnicity generally Custodians of the Land Gregory H. Maddox, James L. Giblin, Isaria N. Kimambo, 1996-04-15 Farming and pastoral societies inhabit ever changing environments This relationship between environment and rural culture politics and economy in Tanzania is the subject of this volume which will be valuable in reopening debates on Tanzanian history In his conclusion Isaria N Kimambo a founding father of Tanzanian history reflects on the efforts of successive historians to strike a balance between external causes of change and local initiative in their interpretations of Tanzanian history He shows that nationalist and Marxist historians of Tanzanian history understandably preoccupied through the first quarter century of the country's post colonial history with the impact of imperialism and capitalism on East Africa tended to overlook the initiatives taken by rural societies to transform themselves Yet there is good reason for historians to think about the causes of change and innovation in the rural communities of Tanzania because farming and pastoral people have constantly changed as they adjusted to shifting environmental conditions

Beyond the State in Rural Uganda Ben Jones, 2008-12-18 In this innovative study Ben Jones argues that scholars too often assume that the state is the most important force behind change in local political communities in Africa Studies look to the state and to the impact of government reforms as ways of understanding processes of development and change Using the example of Uganda regarded as one of Africa's few success stories Jones chronicles the insignificance of the state and the marginal impact of Western development agencies Extensive ethnographic fieldwork in a Ugandan village reveals that it is churches the village court and organizations based on family and kinships obligations that represent the most significant sites of innovation and social transformation Groundbreaking and critical in turn Beyond the State offers a new anthropological perspective on how to think about processes of social and political change in poorer parts of the world It should appeal to anyone interested in African development Religion Index Two, 1997 African Studies Association

Annual Meeting. [Program] African Studies Association, An Ethic of Hospitality Emily Jeptepkeny Choge, 2020-07-30 In our increasingly xenophobic world countries are turning away refugees and immigrants Based on the situation in Kenya this book offers a countercultural ethic of hospitality and welcome to the stranger an ethic fraught with dangers and yet filled with great opportunities for transforming our world Drawing on the scriptural pilgrim motif and specifically on the book of Hebrews this study paints a picture of refugees not only as needy strangers to be herded into camps but as brothers and sisters who bring with them treasures and talents that can enrich our understanding of our Christian identity and mission as pilgrims in the world The hospitality practice seen in Hebrews offers hope and promise not only for refugees themselves but also for the pilgrim church Like the ancient heroes of faith portrayed in Hebrews we too live as pilgrims and aliens who await with hope the city whose architect and founder is God Refugees in fact teach us how to live our pilgrim identity they become teachers not only for the church in Kenya but also for the body of Christ worldwide East African Expressions of Christianity Thomas T. Spear, Isaria N. Kimambo, 1999 Tanzanian and US historians anthropologists political scientists and church people challenge the assumption that Christianity in the region represents colonial and capitalist powers that helped subdue Africans They show instead how Africans have spread the religion among themselves have seized control of their own spiritual destinies and used their religious beliefs to improve their individual and collective lives Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The History & Conservation of Zanzibar Stone Town Abdul Sheriff, 1995 Zanzibar Stone Town presents the problems of conservation in its most acute forms Should it be fossilized for the tourists Or should it grow for the benefit of the inhabitants Can ways be found to accommodate conflicting social and economic pressures For its size Zanzibar like Venice occupies a remarkably large romantic space in world imagination Swahili civilization on these spice islands goes back to the earliest centuries of the Islamic era Up until the nineteenth century it was the capital of a trading empire which spread Kiswahili and Islam over a large part of eastern and central African and the Indian Ocean Zanzibar then suffered the loss of its empire to the Germans and the British In the last thirty years it has passed through its second period of crisis After the Revolution of 1964 the new rural owners did not have the wherewithal to maintain the old stone houses The Stone Town seemed to be on the verge of extinction In the 1980s the government reversed its policies and the old town became threatened by rapid redevelopment which disfigures as it builds The Old Stone Town now stands in danger of being drastically transformed by tourism and trade liberalization

Kenya Dalvan M. Coger, 1996 At the beginning of the century Kenya was regarded as little more than a corridor to Uganda since that time however it has made a spectacular success of its social and economic development Indeed since gaining its independence in 1963 this ethnically divided nation has remained an island of relative political stability amidst its East African neighbours This fully revised volume contains substantial literature on the indigenous population as well as material about the residents and citizens of European and Asian origins
