Christology complements Logos Christology in the same way in which Christ and the Spirit are mutually constitutive Or at least this should be the case The history of Christian thought shows that Logos Christology has dominated resulting in both an eclipse of Trinitarian doctrine and a diminution of pneumatology Recently there have been calls to reclaim a theology of the Third Article in order to present a Trinitarian theology that is faithful to Scripture the Great Tradition and one that is existentially viable While studies examine various aspects of Spirit Christology there has yet to appear a work that introduces the doctrine examines the various mutually exclusive proposals and offers a constructive trinitarian proposal The present work does just this introducing the constituent features of a Spirit Christology that is Trinitarian orthodox and contemporary
The current work proposes a model of Spirit Christology that complements rather than replaces Logos Christology and does so in a robustly Trinitarian framework Within contemporary theology a pneumatically oriented approach to Christology is being advanced across denominational and traditional lines Those wanting to navigate their way through the many competing proposals for a Third Article theology will find a comprehensive map here      Index of Conference Proceedings British Library. Document Supply Centre,2002      Forthcoming Books Rose Army,1992      Index of Conference Proceedings Received British Library. Lending Division,1988      Holy Ground: Where Art and Text Meet Hans T.
Bakker,2019-12-16 The 31 selected and revised articles in the volume Holy Ground Where Art and Text Meet written by Hans Bakker between 1986 and 2016 vary from theoretical subjects to historical essays on the classical culture of India They combine two mainstreams the Sanskrit textual tradition including epigraphy and the material culture as expressed in works of religious art and iconography The study of text and art in close combination in the actual field where they meet provides a great potential for understanding The history of holy places is therefore one of the leitmotifs that binds these studies together One article The Ramtek Inscriptions II was co authored by Harunaga Isaacson two articles on Moksadharma 187 and 239 241 and The Quest for the Pasupata Weapon by Peter C Bisschop      Resources in Education ,1996      MLA

Yang,2020-12-15 As China is being increasingly integrated into the global economy more and more Chinese people live transnational lives and practice religion globally So far scholarship of the relationship between religion and globalization in the Chinese religious field has primarily been set in the historical context of the encounter between Western Christian missionaries and local Chinese agents and little is known about a global Chinese religious field that is in the making The Annual Review of the Sociology of Religion volume 11 Chinese Religions Going Global seeks to challenge the dichotomous ordering of the western global and the Chinese local and to add a new perspective for understanding religious modernity globally Contributors from four continents who represent a range of specialisms apply social scientific methods in order to systematically research the globalization of Chinese religions      Developing the Global Teacher Miriam Steiner,1996 The outcome of a collaboration between teacher educators and development agencies this book draws on a wide range of experience and perspectives from individuals and organizations working for justice in national and international contexts
