Religious And Historical Paintings Of Jan Steen:

The Religious and Historical Paintings of Jan Steen Baruch David Kirschenbaum, Jan Steen, 1977 Dutch Paintings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Walter A. Liedtke, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2007 Presents a catalog that surveys the Dutch paintings found in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Renaissance and Baroque Art Leo Steinberg, 2021-02 Leo Steinberg was one of the most original art historians of the twentieth century known for taking interpretive risks that challenged the profession by overturning reigning orthodoxies In essays and lectures ranging from old masters to contemporary art he combined scholarly erudition with an eloquent prose that illuminated his subject and a credo that privileged the visual evidence of the image over the literature written about it His writings sometimes provocative and controversial remain vital and influential reading Steinberg's perceptions evolved from long hard looking at his objects of study Almost everything he wrote included passages of formal analysis but always put into the service of interpretation This volume begins and ends with thematic essays on two fundamental precepts of Steinberg's art history how dependence on textual authority mutes the visual truths of images and why artists routinely copy or adapt earlier artworks In between are fourteen chapters on masterpieces of renaissance and baroque art with bold and enlightening interpretations of works by Mantegna Filippo Lippi Pontormo El Greco Caravaggio Steen and finally Velázquez Four chapters are devoted to some of Velázquez's best known paintings ending with the famously enigmatic Las Meninas Renaissance and Baroque Art is the third volume in a series that presents Steinberg's writings selected and edited by his longtime associate Sheila Schwartz The J. Paul Getty Museum Journal The J. Paul Getty Museum, 1991-03-21 The J Paul Getty Museum Journal 18 is a compendium of articles and notes pertaining to the Museum's permanent collections of antiquities illuminated manuscripts paintings and sculpture and works of art This volume includes a supplement introduced by John Walsh with a fully illustrated checklist of the Getty's recent acquisitions Volume 18 includes articles written by Anthony Cutler David A Scott Maya Elston Ranee Katzenstein Ariane van Suchtelen Klaus Fittschen Peggy Fogelman and Catherine Hess Dutch Art Sheila D. Muller, 2013-07-04 An illustrated feast for the eye and intellect Dutch Art explores developments in art art history art criticism and cultural history of the Netherlands from the artists workshops for the Utrecht Dom in 1475 to the latest movements of the 1990s it is lavishly illustrated with 147 black and white photographs and 16 pages in full color More than 100 internationally recognized scholars museum professionals artists and art critics contributed signed essays to this monumental work including historians sociologists and literary historians Calvinism and the Arts Christopher Richard Joby, 2007 It is often thought that the French Reformer John Calvin 1509-1564 had a negative attitude towards the arts particularly visual art However in Calvinism and the Arts A Re assessment Dr Joby argues that in Calvin's writings and in the development of the Reformed tradition more generally it is possible to discern a more positive attitude than has hitherto been recognized He makes a start by examining exactly what type of visual art Calvin rejected and what type he affirmed He goes on to consider how Calvin's epistemology and eschatology can be used to argue for the placing of certain types of art notably histories and landscape paintings within Reformed churches and then devotes separate chapters to reflecting on how music architecture and church decoration within the Reformed tradition provide further arguments for the use of these works of art In the final section he looks at specific histories and landscapes from the Dutch Golden Age and considers how the form and content of both of these types of art provide us with further ontological and epistemological arguments which inevitably lead to the conclusion that their continued exclusion from Reformed churches is no longer tenable

Parody and Festivity in Early Modern Art David R. Smith, 2017-07-05 Dwelling on the rich interconnections between parody and festivity in humanist thought and popular culture alike the essays in this volume delve into the nature and the meanings of festive laughter as it was conceived of in early modern art The concept of carnival supplies the main thread connecting these essays Bound as festivity often is to popular culture not all the topics fit the canons of high art and some of the art is distinctly low brow and occasionally ephemeral themes include grobianism and the grotesque scatology popular proverbs with ironic twists and a wide range of comic reversals some quite profound Many hinge on ideas of the world upside down Though the chapters most often deal with Northern Renaissance and Baroque art they spill over into other countries times and cultures while maintaining the carnivalesque air suggested by the book's title Great Paintings from the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, Anthony F. Janson, 1986

A Foul and Pestilent Congregation Barry Wind, 2019-01-15 First published in 1998 this volume explores how in the seventeenth century depictions of human oddity hunchbacks cripples dwarfs appeared regularly in the work of both minor and major artists including Velázquez Rubens Van Dyck and Rivera In this the first comprehensive study of these images Barry Wind starts with the topoi for the mentally and physically infirm established in antiquity and traces their development into the Baroque period A delight in the unusual was consonant with the contemporary collection of other exotica convoluted shells and strange animals but human freaks provoked more than curiosity Their representation ranged from taxonomic fascination to derisive mockery They were frequently cast as imperfect foils to the fashionable courtiers who sought aggrandizement through juxtaposition The images were also exploited as metaphors for a favourite theme of the period the world turned upside down In this synthesis of repulsion and fascination mockery and dread the portrayal of these others reveals a dark underside of Baroque culture that has never been thoroughly investigated or understood With the support of 75 reproductions of works from Italy Spain and Northern Europe Barry Wind examines representations of human deformity throughout the baroque period He pursues his account into the eighteenth century and the expression of a new sympathetic understanding and compassion His study written with great clarity makes available hitherto obscure and inaccessible material gathered from diverse sources such as medical treatises literary texts popular ballads and court documents to set these images in their context and explain this obsession with difference

Dixon shows how paintings reflect changing medical theories concerning women While she illuminates a tradition stretching from antiquity to the present she concentrates on art from the thirteenth through the eighteenth centuries and particularly on paintings from seventeenth century Leiden Dixon suggests how the assumptions of a predominantly male medical establishment have influenced prevailing notions of women's social place She traces the evolution of the belief that women's illnesses were caused by hysteria so named in ancient Greece after the notion that the uterus had a tendency to wander in the body All women were considered prone to hysteria strong emotions idleness intellectual activity or unladylike pursuits could cause it but it was most commonly diagnosed among celibates Analyzing paintings of women's sickrooms by Jan Steen Dirck Hals Gabriel Metsu Jacob Ochtervelt Godfried Schalcken Samuel van Hoogstraten and Franz van Mieris Dixon perceives metaphoric identifications of the womb as the source of illness She also documents changing fashions in cures for hysteria and discusses allusions to the debilitating effects of women's passions not only in paintings but also in madrigals by John Dowland and Henry Purcell In conclusion Dixon argues that her study has strong ramifications of attitudes towards women and illness today She takes up images in twentieth century culture as well and calls attention to a resurgence of female hysteria after World War II Catalogue of the Flemish and Dutch Paintings, 1400-1900 John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art, Franklin Westcott Robinson, William Harry Wilson, 1980 A Feminist Companion to Genesis Athalya Brenner-Idan, 1998-05-01 This volume in the acclaimed feminist companion to the bible series edited by Athalya Brenner draws together a range of leading biblical commentators to discuss one of the most challenging and fascinating biblical texts for feminist interpretation the book of Genesis The Indian Ocean in World History Milo Kearney, 2004 The history of the Indian Ocean provides a snapshot of many of the key issues in world history Pre-Raphaelitism and
