Religious Higher Education in the United States Thomas C. Hunt, James C. Carper, 1996 According to the authors higher education today suffers from a lack of a clearly articulated purpose a deficiency particularly challenging to religiously affiliated institutions This volume attempts to address the problems currently facing denomination affiliated institutions of higher education beginning with an introduction to government aid and the regulation of religious colleges and universities in the US The greater part of the volume consists of 24 chapters each of which begins with a historical essay followed by annotated bibliographical entries covering primary and secondary sources dating back to 1986 on various denomination connected institutions There are roughly 600 bibliographic entries an epilogue discussing critical issues and subject and author indexes Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Two-Year Colleges for Women and Minorities Barbara Townsend, 2002-12-24 This book focuses upon approximately 250 nonprofit two year colleges with a student body that is entirely female or at least 25 percent black Hispanic or Native American These special focus colleges include two year colleges historically black colleges HBC s Hispanic serving institutions HIS s and tribal colleges with some of these schools being church affiliated Many of these schools serve as shining examples of how a genuine commitment to access and achievement for female students of color can enhance these students academic success Bulletin of the Scientific Laboratories of Denison University Denison University, 1914 Journal of the Scientific Laboratories, Denison University Denison University, 1915 The American Journal of Religious Psychology and Education , 1905 Higher Education and the State Charles Kendall Adams, 1878 American Journal of Religious Psychology and Education Granville Stanley Hall, Alexander Francis Chamberlain, 1905 Includes section Book reviews The American Friend , 1918 The New Englander , 1877 Report of the Commissioner of Education , 1898 New Englander and Yale Review Edward Royall Tyler, William Lathrop Kingsley, George Park Fisher, Timothy Dwight, 1877 Philanthropy in the History of American Higher Education Jesse Brundage Sears, 1922 A work that can truly be described as an underground masterpiece Sears Philanthropy in the History of American Higher Education was written as a dissertation seventy years ago and subsequently published as a Bulletin by the United States Bureau of Education in 1922 It has been much spoken of and little read since then As Roger L Geiger points out in his new opening essay this volume can still be read with wide interest and great profit This is a tribute to the quality of mind and diligence of its author The special quality of this volume is its close connection of educational philosophies of the past linked firmly to the educational philanthropies of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The scope of coverage is broad ranging from the great universities to the manual labor colleges But it is more than quantitative research that the reader will find For Sears from start to finish while appreciating the benefits which foundations bestow fully appreciated the continuing risks of such outside support For Sears the overwhelming impulse of philanthropy has been the encouragement of the public good or at least the support of a healthy notoriety for the donors and recipients alike But he also notes that a democratic society must never be expected to take massive gifts on faith He urged that even a grain of danger should be weeded out if it carries with it the potential for the bias and special interest This edition is graced by a fine essay that gives a deep background to the life and work of Jesse Brundage Sears It covers his origins in rural Missouri his move to Stanford University and work for Ellwood P Cubberly and his later work on the history of philanthropy For individuals interested in the history of education the structure of financing higher education and the data on which social policy has been made this will be indispensable reading Roger L Geiger author of the recently published work To Advance Knowledge The Growth of American Research Universities 1900 1940 and other works in education at The Pennsylvania State University This volume is the twelfth volume in the Transaction Studies in Philanthropy and Society edited by Richard Magat of The Foundation Center
