Religious Commitment Personal Narrative And Healthcare Ethics Caring Well:

Caring Well David H. Smith, 2000-01-01 Caring Well reinvigorates the contribution of religion to medical ethics by developing new methodologies for approaching problems encountered in one particularly important aspect of the work of health care professionals care for the seriously ill It includes new work by some of the most prominent scholars in the field of medical ethics

Health Care and Christian Ethics Robin Gill, 2006-02-16 How can Christian ethics make a significant contribution to health care ethics in today's Western pluralistic society Robin Gill examines the moral gaps in secular accounts of health care ethics and the tensions within specifically theological accounts He explores the healing stories in the Synoptic Gospels identifying four core virtues present within them compassion care faith and humility that might bring greater depth to a purely secular interpretation of health care ethics Each of these virtues is examined in turn using a range of topical issues including health care rationing genetics HIV AIDS withholding withdrawing nutrition from PVS patients and the empirical evidence which suggests a connection between religion and health Professor Gill also argues that these four virtues are shared by other major religious and humanistic traditions and that together with secular principles they can enrich health care ethics even in a pluralistic society

Practical Decision Making in Health Care Ethics Raymond J. Devettere, 2016 In this revised fourth edition of the classic textbook Devettere updates most chapters adding new cases on the following overriding advance directives the palliative care movement prenatal life and abortion neonatal testing and mandatory vaccinations facial transplantations genetic testing and legal issues surrounding the Affordable Care Act

Partnership with the Dying David H. Smith, 2005 What do physicians nurses chaplains and social workers think about moral and religious issues in care for the dying These professionals live with death including many untimely and difficult deaths on a daily basis Based on intensive interviews with a cross sample of health care professionals David H Smith details how the churches could not only be supportive of these primary caregivers in dealing with end of life issues but how they could enlist their help in informing their own congregations about the realities of death To care for the dying is spiritually demanding work Churches should not let health professionals struggle with religious issues whether of patients families or their own in isolation Smith's respondents offer powerful perspectives on the issue of physician assisted suicide Religious and theological ethics cannot afford to ignore insights and questions that come from those who deal with dying every day Finding meaning in the face of human suffering comes less from doctrine than from living a certain kind of life This book is a clarion call for new practical and vital forms of education support and commitment particularly within the churches in the cause of improving care for the dying's from doctrine than from living a certain kind of life This book is a clarion call for new practical and vital forms of education support and commitment particularly within the churches in the cause of improving care for the dying's from doctrine than from living a certain kind of life This book is a clarion call for new practical and vital forms of education support and commitment particularly within the churches in the cause of improving care for the dying's from doctrine than from living a certain kind of life This book is a clarion call for new practical and vital forms of education support and commitment particularly within the churches in the cause of improving care for the dying

Children, Ethics, and Modern Medicine Richard B. Miller, 2003-06-18 Because the discipline of medical ethics has developed with autonomy as its foundation the field has ignored pediatric ethics The book is resoundingly successful in its effort to rectify this problem A pleasure to read Eric D Kodish M D Director Rainbow Center for Pediatric Ethics Case Western Reserve University Using a form of medical ethnography to investigate a variety of pediatric contexts Richard B Miller tests the fit of different ethical approaches in various medical settings to arrive at a new paradigm for how best to care for children Miller contends that the principle of beneficence must take priority over autonomy in the treatment of children Yet what is best for the child is a decision that doctors cannot make alone In making and implementing such decisions Miller argues doctors must become part of a therapeutic alliance with families and the child undergoing medical care to come up with the best solution Children Ethics and Modern Medicine combines strong philosophical argumentation with firsthand knowledge of the issues facing children and families in pediatric care This book will be an invaluable asset to medical ethicists and practitioners in pediatric care as well as parents struggling with ethical issues in the care of their children

Complementary Therapies for the Contemporary Healthcare Marcelo Saad, Roberta De Medeiros, 2012-10-17 Complementary therapies CTs are practices products or systems for health that are outside the domain of conventional medicine also called Western or allopathic medicine used either to treat illnesses or to promote health and well being Defining CTs is difficult because the field is very broad and constantly changing The list of what is considered CT changes continually and therapies whose safety and effectiveness are demonstrated may become part of conventional medicine We hope the information from the present book can collaborate in some manner with the ongoing process of evolution of the paradigms related to concepts of health disease and healing

Medicine and the Ethics of Care Diana Fritz Cates, Paul Lauritzen, 2002-03-01 In these essays a diverse group of ethicists draw insights from both religious and feminist scholarship in order to propose creative new approaches to the ethics of medical care While traditional ethics emphasizes rules justice and fairness the contributors to this volume embrace an ethics of care which regards emotional engagement in the lives of others as basic to discerning what we ought to do on their behalf The essays reflect on the three related themes community narrative and emotion They argue for the need to understand patients and caregivers alike as moral agents who are embedded in multiple communities who seek to attain or promote healing partly through the medium of storytelling and who do so by cultivating good emotional habits A thought provoking contribution to a field that has long been dominated by an ethics of principle Medicine and the Ethics of Care will appeal to scholars and students who want to move beyond the constraints of that traditional approach

A Christian from Egypt: Life Story of a Neurosurgeon Pursuing the Dreams for Quintuple Certifications Rhamsis F. Ghaly, 2015-01-23 A CHRISTIAN FROM EGYPT LIFE STORY RAMSIS F GHALY MD FACS This is my life story as a Coptic Christian born and raised in Egypt in an environment of limited opportunities and scarce resources especially for Christian minorities Seeking the promise opportunity I came to the United States nearly 30 years ago as a young man As I flew westward on the plane it did not occur to me that I would become a prominent neurosurgeon with a practice in one of the great cities of America Nor did I anticipate that I would ever be in a position to fight for save lives and fight for patients lives protecting them from the specter of financial greed permeates the health care industry This book chronicles my journey in America from my early struggles to get past closed doors to my current practice serving the mission set before me with uncompromising zeal and devotion Eventually I became a prominent American neurosurgeon among the only 4000 active nationwide and the only one nationally and internationally to achieve five board certifications in five acknowledged medical disciplines My story takes the reader through my first hand experiences through the eight health care systems and Chicagos history of neuroscience over the last three decades providing an in depth view of the medical practices in the surrounding suburban communities My book also includes the lessons that I have learned my personal views and patient testimonials What I have faced and seen since my plane landed in this country in 1984 is almost inexpressible It is my sincere wish that others may find hope and inspiration from my story as well as an understanding of the challenges that the healthcare industry faces today along with my own passion for excellence in neuroscience as I confront them I owe my success to God to my cherished parents my teachers my mentors and most importantly my beloved patients

Religion and Ethics in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit Ronald M. Green, George A. Little, 2019-09-04 Each year neonatal Intensive care units NICUs in the U S and around the world help thousands of sick or premature newborns survive NICUs are committed to the ideals of family centered care which encourages shared decision making between parents and NICU caregivers In cases of infants with conditions marked by high mortality morbidity or great suffering family centered care affirms the right of parents to assist in making decisions regarding aggressive treatment for their infant Often these parents difficult and intimate decisions are shaped profoundly by their religious beliefs In light of this what precisely are the teachings of the major world religious traditions about the status and care of the premature or sick newborn Few studies have grappled with what major religious traditions teach about the care of the newborn or how these teachings may bear on parents decisions This volume seeks to fill this gap providing information on religious teachings about the newborn to the multidisciplinary teams of NICU professionals neonatologists advance practice nurses social workers as well as to parents of NICU patients and students of bioethics In chapters dealing with Judaism Catholicism Denominational Protestantism Evangelical Protestantism African American Protestantism Sunni and Shi a Islam Hinduism Buddhism Navajo religion and Seventh Day Adventism leading scholars develop the teachings of these traditions on the status treatment and ritual accompaniments of care of the premature or sick newborn This is an essential book that will serve as a first resort for clinicians who need to understand the religious dynamics influencing anyone making a difficult decision about her sick newborn

Guidance for Healthcare Ethics Committees D. Micah Hester, Toby L. Schonfeld, 2022-03-10 Every accredited American hospital is required to have a process for handling ethical concerns within the institution For the most part hospitals satisfy this requirement by constituting an institutional healthcare ethics committee HEC However many of these individuals while well intentioned have neither the training in ethics nor the tools at their disposal to address properly the ethical considerations brought to them Yet healthcare providers and patients turn to these committee members for ethical insight This book focuses on HEC member education by providing definitive and comprehensive learning content for members of HECs This second edition is fully updated throughout and adds new chapters that reflect the evolving nature of health care Chapters are written by internationally recognized experts in bioethics and are directed specifically at members of HECs Each chapter includes learning objectives case presentations and discussion questions to facilitate committee conversation

Health Care as a Social Good David M. Craig, 2014-07-23 Health Care as a Social Good argues that as escalating costs absorb a greater percentage of family income and government budgets only the implementation of religious values can help Americans create a more community based system which reflects the ideals of American democracy

The Good Death Marilyn Webb, 2011-07-27 The Good Death is the first full scale examination of one of today s most complex issues the profound change in the way Americans think about and confront death Drawing on more than six years of firsthand research and reporting noted journalist Marilyn Webb builds her account around intimate portraits of the dying themselves. She explains why some deaths become shockingly difficult and needlessly painful and how the struggles over end of life decisions can pit patient and family against hospitals, doctors, insurance companies, religious groups, and the law. But there is good news as well. Webb describes many extraordinary programs and individuals who are changing the face of dying. An abundant source of comfort and hope, The Good Death shows how the essential elements of humane, even uplifted death are available to all of us if we know what is possible, where to go for help, and how to prepare. Everyday Ethics Paul

Brodwin, 2013-01-01 This book explores the moral lives of mental health clinicians serving the most marginalized individuals in the US healthcare system. Drawing on years of fieldwork in a community psychiatry outreach team, Brodwin traces the ethical dilemmas and everyday struggles of front-line providers. On the street, in staff-room debates, or in private confessions, these psychiatrists and social workers confront ongoing challenges to their self-image as competent and compassionate advocates. At times they openly question the coercion and forced dependency built into the current system of care. At other times they justify their use of extreme power in the face of loud opposition from clients. This in-depth study exposes the fault lines in today's community psychiatry. It shows how people working deep inside the system struggle to maintain their ideals and manage a chronic sense of futility. Their commentaries about the obligatory and the forbidden also suggest ways to bridge formal bioethics and the realities of mental health practice. The experiences of these clinicians pose a single overarching question: how should we bear responsibility for the most vulnerable among us? Handbook of Eudaimonic

Well-Being Joar Vittersø, 2016-10-18 This handbook presents the most comprehensive account of eudaimonic well-being to date. It brings together theoretical insights and empirical updates presented by leading scholars and young researchers. The handbook examines philosophical and historical approaches to the study of happy lives and good societies and it critically looks at conceptual controversies related to eudaimonia and well-being. It identifies the elements of happiness in a variety of areas such as emotions, health, wisdom, self-determination, internal motivation, personal growth, genetics, work, leisure, heroism, and many more. It then places eudaimonic well-being in the larger context of society, addressing social elements. The most remarkable outcome of the book is arguably its large-scale relevance, reminding us that the more we know about the good way of living, the more we are in a position to build a society that can be supportive and offer opportunities for such a way of living for all of its citizens. A Companion to Public Theology, 2017-01-23 Winner of the 2017 Choice Outstanding

Academic Title Award. Public theology has emerged in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries as theologians have increasingly entered the public square to engage complex issues. This Companion to Public Theology brings a much-needed resource to this relatively new field. The essays contained here bring a robust and relevant faith perspective to a wide range of issues, as well as foundational biblical and theological perspectives which equip theologians to enter into public dialogue. Public theology has never been more needed in public discourse, whether local or global. In conversation across disciplines, its contribution to the construction of just policies is apparent in this volume as scholars examine the areas of political social and economic spheres as well as issues of ethics and civil societies and draw on contexts from six continents Contributors are Chris Baker Andrew Bradstock Luke Bretherton Lisa Sowle Cahill Letitia M Campbell Cludio Carvalhaes Katie Day Frits de Lange Jolyon Mitchell Elaine Graham Paul Hanson Nico Koopman Sebastian Kim Esther McIntosh Clive Pearson Scott Paeth Larry L Rasmussen Hilary Russell Nicholas Sagovsky Dirk J Smit William Storrar David Tombs Rudolf von Sinner Jenny Anne Wright and Yvonne Zimmerman The Cape Town Commitment: A Confession of Faith, A Call to Action Darrell L.
