Reluctant Adventuress:

Adventures of a Reluctant Boating Wife Angela Rice, 2013-07-09 When I was first invited by a new and handsome man to the local Yacht Club to see his boat I happily conjured up alluring pictures of me in an expensive bikini and a great suntan. It didn't occur to me that seeing my boat might actually mean going out in the thing. Before she knew it, Angela Rice had agreed to a sailing trip on the notorious west coast of Scotland and to marry her skipper. The voyage did nothing to allay her primal suspicion of anything afloat. But years later, one sunny Boat Show day, she discovered the lifestyle lure of powerboats so much less daunting than their sailing counterparts. She cajoled her man into crossing to the dark side with wild promises of becoming competent. And slowly but surely, reluctance gave way to relish, scepticism to skippering the Solent to the Seine. Originally published as a series in Motorboat Yachting magazine and illustrated with wonderful cartoons by David Semple, this is a funny and engaging account of one woman's relationship with the sea, a boat, and her husband. The COMPLETE Reluctant Adventures of Fletcher Connolly on the Interstellar Railroad

Felix R. Savage, 2018-11-11 An Irishman in space. Hoards of alien technological treasures to be discovered. What could go wrong? Don't answer that. Fletcher Connolly hasn't got a lot to lose. Since he and half the galaxy signed on to the rat race of the technological relics trade, Fletch has come to terms with the idea that he will join the ranks of unlucky explorers that perish light years from home without a dime to his name. But bankruptcy is a great motivator. With friends and family counting on him to strike it rich, Fletch embarks on an unwilling quest for alien treasure. His decrepit exploration ship, the Skint Idjit, and her successor, the Intergalactic Bogtrotter, plunge disastrously through the wildest regions of the Interstellar Railroad from an uninhabited planet appropriately named Suckass to a deliberately misnamed mafia-run planet known as Arcadia to a rogue planet inhabited by aliens resembling cuddly teddy bears to a moon covered with giant cacti and ultimately to the supermassive black hole in the center of the galaxy where Fletch's terrible judgment comes back to bite him in the rear for the last time. Epic catastrophes and belly laughs pile up breathlessly in this delightful comic sci-fi adventure, a worthy successor to The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy. This complete edition of The Reluctant Adventures of Fletcher Connolly on the Interstellar Railroad contains all four episodes of Fletch's unlucky career: Skint Idjit, Intergalactic Bogtrotter, Banjaxed Ceili, Supermassive Blackguard. Felix R. Savage is the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and USA Today bestselling author of the Earth's Last Gambit Quartet and many other books. This is by far the funniest one. A closer enquiry into British and American adventure texts for children over the past 150 years reveals a host of complexities occluded by the term and the ways in which adults invoke adventure as a means of attempting to get to grips with the nebulous figure of the child. Writing about adventure also necessitates writing about risk and this book argues that adults have historically used adventure to conceptualise the relationship between children and risk: the risks children themselves pose to society; the risks that threaten their development and how they can be trained to manage risk in socially normative and desirable ways. Tracing this tendency back to its development and consolidation in Victorian imperial romance and forward through various adventure texts and media to the present day, this book probes and investigates the truisms and assumptions that underlie our generalisations about children's love for adventure and how they have evolved since the mid-nineteenth century. High Adventure Edmund Hillary, 2003. Bob Shepton is an ordained minister in the Church of England in his late 70s but spends most of his time sailing into the Arctic and making first ascents of inaccessible mountains. No tea parties for this vicar. Opening with the disastrous fire that destroyed his yacht whilst he was ice-bound in Greenland, the book travels back to his childhood growing up on the rubber plantation his father managed in Malaysia, moving back to England after his father was shot by the Japanese during the war, boarding school, the Royal Marines and the church. We then follow Bob as he sails around the world with a group of schoolboys, is dismayed off the Falklands, trapped in ice and climbs mountains accessible only from iceberg strewn water and with only sketchy maps available. Bob Shepton, winner of the 2013 Yachtsman of the Year Award, is an old school adventurer and this compelling book is in the spirit of sailing mountaineer H.W. Tilman, explorer Ranulph Fiennes, climber Chris Bonington and yachtsman Robin Knox-Johnston, all of whom have been either friends of Bob's or an inspiration for his own exploits. Derring-do in a dog collar. Ranulph Fiennes: A wonderful true tale of adventure. Bear Grylls: You are going to enjoy this as a Commando. Bob is clearly made of the right stuff.
