Remaking Our Schools:

Remaking Our Schools for the Twenty-First Century Robert Arnold, 2013-07-01 If you are a teacher a parent a grandparent or just another taxpayer and you think the future of our country rests in a large part in the hands of our educational systems and you expect the schools to play a key role in raising our youth to become competent responsible citizens then you need to find out why that is not happening Remaking Our Schools for the Twenty First Century written by Robert L Arnold Professor of Education Emeritus provides an in depth analysis of these problems in our public schools Teachers are sick and tired of being forced to adopt and use irrelevant materials and developmentally inappropriate procedures along with a standardized testing program that makes no sense They want our youth to be excited about learning and ideas They need to know how drug abuse bullying and other serious problems are related to the disconnected and irrelevant school experiences being imposed on their students in the name of raising standards Our public schools need to develop far greater competency in general education and problem solving skills in all students Our democracy cannot be sustained much longer if upcoming generations continue to exhibit deficiencies in these areas Standardization is not the answer to problems The mass production and sale of a common core set of educational books tests and worksheets is required for corporate conglomerates to make huge profits on the backs of our students Standardization is part of the problem not part of the solution Leadership for Social Justice and Democracy in Our Schools Alan M. Blankstein, Paul D. Houston, 2011-01-28 This ninth and final book in The Soul of Educational Leadership series offers practical strategies for promoting socially responsible school cultures that enhance student engagement Transforming Schools Miranda Jefferson, Michael Anderson, 2017-02-09 Transforming Schools demonstrates how transformation is no longer an option in teaching and learning it has become a necessity Changes in the way we work and the challenges of issues such as climate change poverty and migration mean that teaching and learning need to alter to incorporate capacities that will help us meet those challenges The 4Cs Creativity Critical Reflection Communication and Collaboration have long been present in education but Transforming Schools demonstrates how schools can change teaching and leadership to embed and enact the 4Cs to make them central to dynamic and exciting learning Miranda Jefferson and Michael Anderson demonstrate how a renewed approach to teaching that integrates the 4Cs can better equip today's learners They draw on their own international research and experiences in school transformation in a variety of school settings working in partnership with practitioners researchers students and the community The authors consider how schools might reorganise themselves to become more relevant to their students and to the community Practical strategies for transformation are included throughout the chapters to demonstrate how learning can be supported and how the 4Cs can be made explicit in schools These examples will support school leadership teams and teachers to explicitly teach the 4Cs in relevant and challenging ways This book is essential reading for those looking to transform schools and more effectively meet the needs of today's learners The Business of

In Search of Deeper Learning Jal Mehta, Sarah Fine, 2019-04-22 The best book on high school dynamics I have ever read Jay Mathews Washington Post An award winning professor and an accomplished educator take us beyond the hype of reform and inside some of America's most innovative classrooms to show what is working and what isn't in our schools What would it take to transform industrial era schools into modern organizations capable of supporting deep learning for all Jal Mehta and Sarah Fine's quest to answer this question took them inside some of America's most innovative schools and classrooms places where educators are rethinking both what and how students should learn The story they tell is alternately discouraging and hopeful Drawing on hundreds of hours of observations and interviews at thirty different schools Mehta and Fine reveal that deeper learning is more often the exception than the rule And yet they find pockets of powerful learning at almost every school often in electives and extracurriculars as well as in a few mold breaking academic courses These spaces achieve depth the authors argue because they emphasize purpose and choice cultivate community and draw on powerful traditions of apprenticeship These outliers suggest that it is difficult but possible for schools and classrooms to achieve the integrations that support deep learning rigor with joy precision with play mastery with identity and creativity This boldly humanistic book offers a rich account of what education can be The first panoramic study of American public high schools since the 1980s In Search of Deeper Learning lays out a new vision for American education one that will set the agenda for schools of the future
