Remembering Edward S. Casey, 1987-01-01 Remembering Places Janet Donohoe, 2014-06-18 This book is a phenomenological investigation of the interrelations of tradition memory place and the body Drawing upon philosophers such as Husserl Heidegger Merleau Ponty Gadamer and Ricoeur Janet Donohoe uses the idea of a palimpsest to argue that layers of the past are carried along as traditions through places and bodies such that we can speak of memory as being written upon place and place as being written upon memory In dialogue with theorists such as Jeff Malpas and Ed Casey Donohoe focuses on analysis of monuments and memorials to investigate how such deliberate places of collective memory can be ideological or can open us to the past and different traditions The insights in this book will be of particular value to place theorists and phenomenologists in disciplines such as philosophy geography memory studies public history and environmental studies Remembering to Perform Actions Michael J. DeVries, 1986 Remembering the Personal Past Bruce M. Ross, 1992-01-02 In this resonant scholarly work Bruce Ross presents an encompassing theoretical framework and overview of autobiographical memory Drawing on a wide range of ideas from academic psychology the social sciences psychoanalysis and the humanistic disciplines the author presents a stimulating and original perspective on this increasingly important topic Ross description encompasses the full range of subjective responsiveness to personal memories both with and without awareness including real world social context and examples that can be compared with one's own experience critical assessment of psychoanalytic memory concepts with a clear distinction drawn between Freud's ideas and those of his later followers childhood memories dealt with from dual standpoints of initial origin and adult retrospection explanations of problems and dilemmas in philosophy and the human sciences that determine both what is to be counted as a memory experience and how memories can be validated and the phenomena of individual memories compared with characteristics of group determined memories and socially structured memories that persist across generations Cognizant of the rich intellectual history of the field the book also calls on the works of James Titchener Freud Piaget Baldwin Janet Bartlett Ellis Bergson Bloch Halbwachs and Merleau Ponty among others to broaden our current understanding of the experience of autobiographical memory Students and researchers from a number of disciplines concerned with the psychology of memory cognition and identity will find this volume both insightful and thought provoking

Remembering Violence Nicolas Argenti, Katharina Schramm, 2010 Psychologists have done a great deal of research on the effects of trauma on the individual revealing the paradox that violent experiences are often secreted away beyond easy accessibility becoming impossible to verbalize explicitly However comparatively little research has been done on the transgenerational effects of trauma and the means by which experiences are transmitted from person to person across time to become intrinsic parts of the social fabric With eight contributions covering Africa Central and South America China Europe and the Middle East this volume sheds new light on the role of memory in constructing popular histories or historiographies of violence in the absence of or in contradistinction to authoritative written histories It brings new ethnographic data to light and presents a truly cross cultural range of case studies that will greatly enhance the discussion of memory and violence across disciplines

The Collective Memory Reader Jeffrey K. Olick, Vered Vinitzky-Seroussi, Daniel Levy, 2011-01-21 In the last few decades there are few concepts that have rivaled collective memory for attention in the humanities and social sciences Indeed use of the term has extended far beyond scholarship to the realm of politics and journalism where it has appeared in speeches at the centers of power and on the front pages of the world's leading newspapers Seen by scholars in numerous fields as a hallmark characteristic of our age an idea crucial for understanding our present social political and cultural conditions collective memory now guides inquiries into diverse though connected phenomena Nevertheless there remains a great deal of confusion about the meaning origin and implication of the term and the field of inquiry it underwrites The Collective Memory Reader presents organizes and evaluates past work and contemporary contributions on collective memory Combining seminal texts hard to find classics previously untranslated references and contemporary landmarks it will serve as a key reference in the field In addition to a thorough introduction which outlines a useful past for contemporary memory studies The Collective Memory Reader includes five sections Precursors and Classics History Memory and Identity Power Politics and Contestation Media and Modes of Transmission Memory Justice and the Contemporary Epoch comprising ninety one texts A short editorial essay introduces each of the sections while brief capsules frame each of the selected texts An indispensable guide The Collective Memory Reader is at once a definitive entry point into the field for students and an essential resource for scholars

Shared Landscapes Rodney Harrison, 2004 The heritage of the pastoral industry stands as an integral symbol of identity for rural communities both black and white in New South Wales Modern changes in pastoral land management infrastructure and technology combined with broader land use changes and increased community interest in the conservation and rehabilitation of former grazing lands has meant that many former pastoral properties have been abandoned or acquired for other uses Tracking the history of these land use changes Shared Landscapes presents new ways of understanding historic heritage in settler societies through cross disciplinary case studies that examine the heritage of the pastoral industry in two national parks Assessing its current state of interpretation and management in New South Wales Rodney Harrison shows that pastoral heritage is more than just woolsheds and homesteads the showpieces of white male settler colonial economies Pastoral heritage is the product of the mutual histories of Aboriginal and settler Australians It is a form of heritage that is both in and a part of the landscape His archaeological approach to the heritage of the pastoral industry involves both recording sites and revealing attachments to community heritage demonstrating that writing shared histories and celebrating shared heritage has the creative power to reconcile Aboriginal and settler Australians in powerful and positive ways

Buried City, Unearthing Teufelsberg Benedict Anderson, 2017-07-06 Cities are built over the remnants of their past buried beneath their present We build on what has been built before whether over foundations formalising previous permanency or over the temporal occupations of ground But what happens when you shift a city when you dislodge its occupation of ground towards a new ground bury it and forget it Focusing on Berlin's destruction during World War II and its reconstruction after the end of the war this book offers a rethinking of how the practices of destruction and burial combine to reform the city through geography and how burying a city is intricately tied to forgetting destruction ruination and trauma Created from 25 million cubic meters of rubble produced during World War II Teufelsberg Devil's Mountain is the exemplar of the destroyed city Its critical journey is chronicled in combination with Berlin's seven other rubble hills and their connections to constructing forgetting through burial Furthermore the book investigates Berlin's sublime relation to Albert Speer's urban vision to rival the ancient cities of Rome and Athens through their now shared geographies of seven hills Finally there is a central focus on the role of the citizens who cleared Berlin's streets of rubble and the subsequent human relationships between people and ruins This book is valuable reading for those interested in Architectural Theory Urban Geography Modern History and Urban Design

Navigating Cultural Memory David Mwambari, 2023 A friend of mine asked me to accompany him to visit a young woman in her twenties named Kayitesi At the time in April 2007 Kayitesi lived in rural Kigali with two siblings Kayitesi's parents and many of her relatives were killed during the genocide perpetrated against the Tutsi in Rwanda in 1994 The genocide took place in the central and eastern African country of Rwanda when radical Hutu youth militias and Hutu political elites targeted and killed the Tutsi for about three months between April and July The Hutus and some foreigners who protected the Tutsi or opposed the genocidal violence were also killed

Memory and the Jesus Tradition Alan Kirk, 2018-02-22 Alan Kirk argues that memory theory in its social cultural and cognitive dimensions is able to provide a comprehensive account of the origins and history of the Jesus tradition one capable of displacing the moribund form critical model He shows that memory research gives new leverage on a range of classic problems in gospels historical Jesus and Christian origins scholarship This volume brings together 12 essays published between 2001 and 2016 newly revised for this edition and organized under the rubrics of Memory and the Formation of the Jesus Tradition Memory and Manuscript

Memory and Historical Jesus Research and Memory in 2nd Century Gospel Writing The introductory essay written for this volume argues that the old form critical model in marginalizing memory abandoned the one factor actually capable of accounting for the origins of the gospel tradition its manifestation in oral and written media and its historical trajectory
