Remembering The Present Painting And Popular History In Zaire:

Remembering the Present Johannes Fabian, 1996-12-19 This book combines ethnography with the study of art to present a fascinating new vision of African history. It contains the paintings of a single artist depicting Zaire's history along with a series of ethnographic essays discussing local history, its complex relationship to forms of self-expression and self-understanding, and the aesthetics of contemporary urban African and Third World societies. As a collaboration between ethnographer and painter, this innovative study challenges text-oriented approaches to understanding history and argues instead for an event and experience-oriented model, ultimately adding a fresh perspective to the discourse on the relationship between modernity and tradition. During the 1970s, Johannes Fabian encouraged Tshibumba Kanda Matulu to paint the history of Zaire. The artist delivered the work in batches together with an oral narrative. Fabian recorded these statements along with his own question and answer sessions with the painter. The first part of the book is the complete series of 100 paintings with excerpts from the artist's narrative and the artist-anthropologist dialogues. Part Two consists of Fabian's essays about this and other popular painting in Zaire. The essays discuss such topics as performance, orality, history, colonization, and popular art.

Remembering the Present Johannes Fabian, 1996 This is an extraordinarily original, powerfully argued book, provocative in the best sense of the word. The sheer juxtaposition of the terrible history of Zaire as painted by a Zairean popular artist who lived through some of the worst of it, the artist's precise and eloquent explications of his work, a bluntly factualist account of the events depicted, and Fabian's searching ethnographical commentary without privileging any of these so different types of discourse over any of the others, raises some of the most fundamental and most difficult questions in history, art, and anthropology. Remembering the Present is a major step forward in both the presentation of cultural materials and in their analysis. Clifford Geertz

Remembering the Present, Book consists of Part 1: The history of Zaire as painted and told by Tshibumba Kanda Matulu; Part 2: All was lost: ethnographic essays on Tshibumba's history of Zaire and covers the history of Zaire from pre-colonial times to the Mobutu regime. Remembering the Present: The history of Zaire as painted and told by Tshibumba Kanda Matulu Johannes Fabian, 1996 Remembering the present

Johannes Fabian, Mapping Modernisms Elizabeth Harney, Ruth B. Phillips, 2018-11-01 Mapping Modernisms brings together scholars working around the world to address the modern arts produced by indigenous and colonized artists. Expanding the contours of modernity and its visual products, the contributors illustrate how these artists engaged with ideas of Primitivism through visual forms and philosophical ideas. Although often overlooked in the literature on global modernisms, artists, artworks, and art patrons moved within and across national and imperial borders, carrying, appropriating, or translating objects, images, and ideas. These itineraries made up the dense networks of modern life, contributing to the crafting of modern subjectivities and of local, transnationally inflected modernisms. Addressing the silence on indigeneity in established narratives of modernism, the contributors decenter art history's traditional Western orientation and prompt a re-evaluation of canonical understandings of twentieth century art history Mapping Modernisms is the first book in Modernist Exchanges a multivolume project dedicated to rewriting the history of modernism and modernist art to include artists theorists art forms and movements from around the world Contributors Bill Anthes Peter Brunt Karen Duffek Erin Haney Elizabeth Harney Heather Igloliorte Sandra Klopper Ian McLean Anitra Nettleton Chika Okeke Agulu Ruth B Phillips W Jackson Rushing III Damian Skinner Nicholas Thomas Norman Vorano

Living for the City Miles Larmer, 2021-08-12 Living for the City is a social history of the Central African Copperbelt considered as a single region encompassing the neighbouring mining regions of Zambia and the Democratic Republic of Congo The Haut Katanga and Zambian Copperbelt mine towns have been understood as the vanguard of urban modernity in Africa Observers found in these towns new African communities that were experiencing what they wrongly understood as a transition from rural traditional society stable superstitious and agricultural to an urban existence characterised by industrial work discipline the money economy and conspicuous consumption Christianity and nuclear families headed by male breadwinners supported by domesticated housewives Miles Larmer challenges this representation of Copperbelt society presenting an original analysis which integrates the region's social history with the production of knowledge about it shaped by both changing political and intellectual contexts and by Copperbelt communities themselves This title is available as Open Access on Cambridge Core African Art, Interviews, Narratives Joanna Grabski, Carol Magee, 2013-05-28 Joanna Grabski and Carol Magee bring together a compelling collection that shows how interviews can be used to generate new meaning and how connecting with artists and their work can transform artistic production into innovative critical insights and knowledge The contributors to this volume include artists museum curators art historians and anthropologists who address artistic production in a variety of locations and media to question previous uses of interview and provoke alternative understandings of art Histories of Independence in Côte d'Ivoire Konstanze N'Guessan, 2020-03-17 In Histories of Independence in Côte d'Ivoire an Ethnography of the Past Konstanze N'Guessan deals with memory work in Côte d'Ivoire and bridges an ethnographic approach with the insights of newer theoretical approaches in historiography Adopting a long term perspective from the late 1950s to the present she attempts to disentangle the condensation of meanings of the lieu de mémoire Ivorian independence and explores how different practices of recalling the past complement and/or contradict each other Histories of independence in Côte d'Ivoire looks at national day celebrations academic historiography oral tradition and memory politics in order to understand how political actors mobilize the past in order to produce pleasant presents and futures Anthropology with an Attitude Johannes Fabian, 2001 This book collects published and unpublished work over the last dozen years by one of today's most distinguished and provocative anthropologists Johannes Fabian is widely known outside of his discipline because his work so often overcomes traditional scholarly boundaries to bring fresh insight to central topics in philosophy history and cultural studies The first part of the book addresses questions of current critical concern Does it still make sense to search for objectivity in ethnography What do we gain when we invoke context in our interpretations How does literacy change the work of the ethnographer and what are the boundaries between ethnology and history This part ends with a plea for recuperating negativity in our thinking about culture The second part extends the work of critique into the past by examining the beginning of modern ethnography in the exploration of Central Africa during the late nineteenth century the justification of a scientific attitude the collecting of ethnographic objects the presentation of knowledge in narration and the role of recognition given or denied in encounters with Africans A final essay examines how the Congolese have returned the imperial gaze of Belgium by the work of critical memory in popular history The ten chapters are framed by two meditations on the relevance of theory and the irrelevance of the millennium Historical Dictionary of the Democratic Republic of the Congo Emizet François Kisangani, Scott F. Bobb, 2009-10-01 The third edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Democratic Republic of the Congo looks back at the nearly 48 years of independence over a century of colonial rule and even earlier kingdoms and groups that shared the territory This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and over 800 cross-referenced dictionary
