Remembering Selves:

The Remembering Self Ulric Neisser, Robyn Fivush, 1994-10-28 This book brings a surprisingly wide range of intellectual disciplines to bear on the self narrative and the self The same ecological cognitive approach that successfully organized Ulric Neisser's earlier volume on The Perceived Self now relates ideas from the experimental developmental and clinical study of memory to insights from post modernism and literature Although auto biographical remembering is an essential way of giving meaning to our lives the memories we construct are never fully consistent and often simply wrong In the first chapter Neisser considers the so called false memory syndrome in this context other contributors discuss the effects of amnesia the development of remembering in childhood the social construction of memory and its alleged self servingness and the contrast between literary and psychological models of the self Jerome Bruner Peggy Miller Alan Baddeley Kenneth Gergen and Daniel Albright are among the contributors to this unusual synthesis

Self-Remembering Robert E. Burton, 1995-09-01 This teacher of the Fourth Way Tradition shows how self remembering similar to Buddhist mindfulness and Orthodox non attachment relates to every aspect of the student's life and work This book gives Burton's students an accurate transmission of his teaching on the core idea of self remembering Unique in the spiritual literature this book is destined to become a classic

Memory Made, Hacked, and Outsourced Chia-Chieh Mavis Tseng, 2023-08-02 This book probes the complex relationship between memory and storytelling in contemporary literature It not only examines how memory is constantly made and remade through words and stories but also explores how literary practices and imagination are shaping new concepts of memory in the 21st century By analyzing the selected novels Penelope Lively's The Photograph Tom McCarthy's Remainder Julian Barnes' The Sense of an Ending and The Only Story Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go and Felicia Yap's Yesterday this book explores the dynamic interplay of remembering and forgetting and redefines the relationship between fiction and memory in the 21st century

Transmedia Selves James Dalby, Matthew Freeman, 2023-10-20 This book examines the mediated shift in the contemporary human condition focusing on the ways in which we synthesise with media content in daily life essentially transmediating ourselves into new forms and re creating ourselves across media Across an international roster of essays this book establishes a transdisciplinary theory for the transmedia self exploring how technological ubiquity and digital self determination combine with themes and disciplines such as celebrity culture fandom play politics and ultimately broader self conception and projection to inform the creation of transmedia identities in the twenty first century Specifically the book repositions transmediality as key to understanding the formation of identity in a post digital media culture and transmedia age where our lives are interlaced intermingled and narrativised across a range of media platforms and interfaces This book is ideal for scholars and students interested in transmedia storytelling cultural studies media studies sociology philosophy and politics

Minnesota's Early Childhood Family Education program is extremely popular and unique to the state. It allows parents to leave their kids with professionals for 60 blissful minutes when they become grown ups again. 2 Parenthood is the least happy period of adult life according to studies. The autonomy that parents once took for granted has deserted them and they are now burdened by children and a lack of freedom. 3 Having children enlarges your life in innumerable ways but it also disrupts your autonomy in ways you never anticipated. That's where this book begins with a dissection of those reconfigured lives and an attempt to explain why they look and feel the way they do. 4 The most dreaded parental punishment is making parents sleep deprivation. But most parents have no idea which type they are until their kids come along: those who handle it fairly well, those who sort of fall apart, and those who respond catastrophically. Helping Students Motivate Themselves Larry Ferlazzo, 2013-09-27 Give your students the tools they need to motivate themselves with tips from award winning educator Larry Ferlazzo. A comprehensive outline of common classroom challenges this book presents immediately applicable steps and lesson plans for all teachers looking to help students motivate themselves. With coverage of brain based learning, classroom management, and using technology, these strategies can be easily incorporated into any curriculum. Learn to implement solutions to the following challenges: How do you motivate students? How do you help students see the importance of personal responsibility? How do you deal with a student who is being disruptive in class? How do you regain control of an out of control class? And more. Blogger and educator Larry Ferlazzo has worked to combine literacy development with short and rigorous classroom lessons on topics such as self control, personal responsibility, brain growth, and perseverance. He uses many on the spot interventions designed to engage students and connect with their personal interests. Use these practical, research based ideas to ensure all of your students are intrinsically motivated to learn. Find Your Story, Write Your Memoir Lynn C. Miller, Lisa Lenard-Cook, 2013-05-31 Every person has a story to tell but few beginners know how to uncover their story's narrative potential. And despite a growing interest among students and creative writers, few guides to the genre of memoirs and creative nonfiction highlight compelling storytelling strategies. Addressing this gap, the authors provide a guide to memoir writing that shows how an aspiring writer can use storytelling tools and tactics borrowed from fiction to weave personal experiences into the shape of a story.

Research Handbook on Behavioral Law and Economics Joshua C. Teitelbaum, Kathryn Zeiler, 2018-03-30 The field of behavioral economics has contributed greatly to our understanding of human decision making by refining neoclassical assumptions and developing models that account for psychological, cognitive, and emotional forces. The field's insights have important implications for law. This Research Handbook offers a variety of perspectives from renowned experts on a wide ranging set of topics including punishment, finance, tort law, happiness, and the application of experimental literatures to law. It also includes analyses of conceptual foundations, cautions, limitations, and proposals for ways forward. Ten Worlds Ash

ElDifrawi, Alex Lickerman, 2018-10-02 Fresh on the heels of his phenomenally received book The Undeclared Mind Dr Lickerman and co author Dr ElDifrawi offer a whole new perspective on understanding and achieving happiness In this highly engaging and eminently practical book told in the form of a Platonic dialogue recounting real life patient experiences Drs Lickerman and ElDifrawi assert that the reason genuine longlasting happiness is so difficult to achieve and maintain is that we re profoundly confused not only about how to go about it but also about what happiness is In identifying nine basic erroneous views we all have about what we need to be happy views they term the core delusions Lickerman and ElDifrawi show us that our happiness depends not on our external possessions or even on our experiences but rather on the beliefs we have that shape our most fundamental thinking These beliefs they argue create ten internal life conditions or worlds through which we continuously cycle and that determine how happy we re able to be Drawing on the latest scientific research as well as Buddhist philosophy Lickerman and ElDifrawi argue that once we learn to embrace a correct understanding of happiness we can free ourselves from the suffering the core delusions cause us and enjoy the kind of happiness we all want the kind found in the highest of the Ten Worlds the world of Enlightenment

Personalising Learning in Open-Plan Schools Vaughan Prain, Peter Cox, Craig Deed, Debra Edwards, Cathleen Farrelly, Mary Keeffe, Valerie Lovejoy, Lucy Mow, Peter Sellings, Bruce Waldrip, 2015-11-03 How can widely acknowledged challenges facing regional secondary schools with high concentrations of low SES students ineffectual curricula and poor levels of student engagement attendance and wellbeing be addressed In this book we report on key outcomes of the Bendigo Education Plan that aimed to improve the academic attainment and wellbeing of 3000 regional secondary students This Plan entailed rebuilding four Years 7 10

colleges and developing a differentiated and personalised curriculum with teachers team teaching in open plan settings We analyse how and why teachers and students adapted to these new practices We focus on both generic changes in the schools around the use of ICTs and the organisation of the curriculum and on specific approaches to teaching and learning in English mathematics science social studies and studio arts This book provides research based guidelines on how the curriculum can be renewed and enacted effectively in these and like schools In analysing a large scale attempt to address the challenge of making learning personalised and meaningful for this cohort of students our book addresses larger questions about quality secondary curriculum and successful teacher professional learning support Rapt Winifred Gallagher,2009-04-16 A revolutionary look at how what we pay attention to determines how we experience life Acclaimed behavioral science writer Winifred Gallagher s Rapt makes the radical argument that much of the quality of your life depends not on fame or fortune beauty or brains fate or coincidence but on what you choose to pay attention to Rapt introduces a diverse cast of characters from researchers to artists to ranchers to illustrate the art of living the interested life As their stories show by focusing on the most positive and productive elements of any situation you can shape your inner experience and expand your world By learning to focus you can improve your concentration broaden your inner horizons and most important feel what it means to be fully alive Turning Points Ansgar Nünning,Kai Marcel Sicks,2012-10-30 At times of crisis and revolution such as ours diagnoses of crucial junctures and ruptures turning points in the continuous flow of history are more prevalent than ever Analysing literary cinematic and other narratives the volume seeks to understand the meanings conveyed by different concepts of turning points the alternative concepts to which they are opposed when used to explain historical change and those contexts in which they are unmasked as false and over simplifying constructions Literature and film in particular stress the importance of turning points as a sensemaking device as part of a character s or a community s cultural memory while at the same time unfolding the constructive and hence relative character of turning points Offering complex reflections on the notion of turning points literary and filmic narratives are thus of particular interest to the present volume Memory Reconfiguration in Post-War Taiwanese Literature Chung-Yen Yu,2025-07-23 This book examines the impact of martial law on transgenerational memory in post World War II Taiwan Through an intense focus on the symptoms of memories Yu argues that collective remembrances in post war Taiwan must be studied alongside the islanders collective amnesia as the post war regime coerced its citizens into forgetting To do so the book examines the core issue through the lens of two fictional works Green Island 2016 by Shawna Yang Ryan and The Stolen Bicycle originally published in 2015 translated in 2017 by Ming yi Wu whose narrators belong to the post war generation and find themselves unable to understand their parents traumas It also observes how the war generation memorize consecutive and entangled colonial experiences experiencing linguistic and social diaspora without the act of migration Ultimately Yu argues that post memory in these circumstances not only refers to secondary memory but bears an anti memory characteristic as Taiwanese society under martial law shunned the traumas of

WWII and the March Massacre in 1947 Reading Our Lives William L. Randall, Elizabeth McKim, 2008-06-03 Against the background of Socrates insight that the unexamined life is not worth living Reading Our Lives The Poetics of Growing Old investigates the often overlooked inside dimensions of aging Despite popular portrayals of mid and later life as entailing inevitable decline this book looks at aging as potentially a process of poesis a creative endeavor of fashioning meaning from the ever accumulating texts memories and reflections that constitute our inner worlds At its center is the conviction that although we are constantly reading our lives to some degree anyway doing so in a mindful matter is critical to our development in the second half of life Drawing on research in numerous disciplines affected by the so called narrative turn including cognitive psychology neuroscience and the psychology of aging authors Randall and McKim articulate a vision of aging that promises to accommodate such time honored concepts as wisdom and spirituality one that understands aging as a matter not merely of getting old but of consciously growing old An Arts Therapeutic Approach to Maternal Holding Ariel Moy, 2021-08-08 Little research has explored the everyday simple and long term experience of maternal holding particularly after the first year of a child s life The research that has been undertaken commonly examines holding through the lens of attachment with a focus on the impact of holding upon the child Employing an arts based collaborative inquiry approach participants stories of holding as well as the author s own convey the significant maternal experiences of holding their children over individual arts therapeutic sessions Optimal moments of holding included strange powerful and meaningful experiences of expansion into self in relationship Attention is drawn to the ways in which holding can alert us to the current state of mother child relationships how we understand story and structure those relationships and the ways in which we can attend to holding in order to develop deeply satisfying experiences of a mother child us An Arts Therapeutic Approach to Maternal Holding aims to draw attention to the intersubjective qualities of the mother child relationship explore why holding matters and offer suggestions for therapeutic practice This book is essential reading for therapeutic practitioners and those in allied health fields who work with mothers and children Then I Am Myself the World Christof Koch, 2024-05-07 Deeply personal and infinitely digestible Then I Am Myself the World is a remarkable must read for anyone interested in knowing their mind Judson Brewer MD PhD New York Times bestselling author of Unwinding Anxiety The world s leading investigator of consciousness argues that by understanding what consciousness does cause change in the world we can understand its origins and its future In Then I Am Myself the World Christof Koch explores the only thing we directly experience consciousness At the book s heart is integrated information theory the idea that the essence of consciousness is the ability to exert causal power over itself to be an agent of change Koch investigates the physical origins of consciousness in the brain and how this knowledge can be used to measure consciousness in natural and artificial systems Enabled by such tools Koch reveals when and where consciousness exists and uses that knowledge to confront major social and scientific questions When does a fetus first become self aware Can psychedelic and mystical experiences transform lives What happens to consciousness in near death experiences Why will generative AI ultimately be able to do the very thing we can do yet never feel any of it And do our experiences reveal a single objective reality This is an essential book for anyone who seeks to understand ourselves and the future we are creating
