Seeing Things Television In The Age Of Uncertainty:

Seeing Things John Ellis, Television the author argues responds to two powerful desires of our age it makes us witnesses of often traumatic events and it tries and fails to provide us with narratives that make sense of the world The author makes sense of modern television both by exploring its processes and in terms of its dynamic relationships with the cultures that provide it with raw material Television he proposes offers us multiple ways of understanding the world yet does not arbitrate between them He explores this process as one of working through whereby television news takes in the chaos and conflict of the world and subsequent programmes of all kinds offer diverse ways of unravelling its confusions from the psychobabble of talk shows to the open narratives of soaps documentaries and dramas By means of this working through problems are exhausted rather than resolved The author demonstrates how television s function in its new era is no longer that of building consensus rather it uses all the means at its disposal including sophisticated computer graphics to mediate between conflicting approaches to our age of uncertainty Other Cinemas Sue Clayton, Laura Mulvey, 2017-06-30 The 1970s was an enormously creative period for experimental film Its innovations and debates have had far reaching and long lasting influence with a resurgence of interest in the decade revealed by new gallery events film screenings and social networks that recognise its achievements Professor Laura Mulvey and writer director Sue Clayton bring together journalists and scholars at the cutting edge of research into 1970s radical cinema for this collection Chapters are at once historically grounded yet fused with the current analysis of today s generation of cine philes to rediscover a unique moment for extraordinary film production Other Cinemas establishes the factors that helped to shape alternative film world cinema and internationalism the politics of cultural policy and arts funding new accessible technologies avant garde theories and the development of a dynamic and interactive relationship between film and its audiences Exploring and celebrating the work of The Other Cinema the London Film makers Co op and other cornerstones of today s film culture as well as the impact of creatives such as William Raban and Stephen Dwoskin and Mulvey and Clayton themselves this important book takes account of a wave of socially aware film practice without which today s activist queer minority and feminist voices would have struggled to gather such volume

Netflix and the Re-invention of Television Mareike Jenner, 2023-09-09 This book deals with the ways Netflix influenced the contemporary television landscape and built the infrastructures of streaming It focusses on various ways Netflix reconceptualises television as part of the process of TV IV As television continues to undergo a myriad of changes Netflix has proven itself to be the dominant force in this development simultaneously driving a number of these changes and challenging television s existing institutional structures This comprehensive study explores the pre history of Netflix the role of binge watching in its organisation and marketing and Netflix s position as a transnational broadcaster Netflix and the Re invention of Television illuminates the importance of Netflix s role within the processes of TV IV This Second Edition highlights the role Netflix plays in the so called streaming wars and incorporates recent research in television studies It also re evaluates the companies incorporation of issues of diversity in its focus on middlebrow television The book also includes a new chapter on the transnational streaming franchise networks of texts developed internal to platforms to build infrastructures of transnational streaming

Biographical Television Drama Hannah Andrews, 2021-04-13 Biographical Television Drama breaks new ground as to my knowledge the first book length exploration of the terms in which television engages in biographical storytelling Backed by robust research in biography studies and British television history Hannah Andrews deftly unravels the complexities behind the accessibility of biographical television drama Her book tackles key questions head on notably rhetorics and style narrative and performance and innovatively ethics while also shedding light on the interconnections with other biographical screen forms through a rich corpus This is an essential critical study that vindicates television drama s unique place in the histories and practices of screen biography Bel n Vidal Senior Lecturer in Film Studies at King s College London and co editor of The Biopic in Contemporary Film Culture This book explores what happens when biography and television meet in a novel fusion of the two fields of study Andrews compares core concepts in biography and television studies such as intimacy the presentation of the self and the uneasy relationship between fact and fiction The book examines biographical drama s generic hybridity accounting for the influence of the film biopic docudrama melodrama and period drama It discusses biographical television drama s representation of real lives in terms of visual style performance and self reflexivity Andrews also assesses how life stories are shaped for televisual narrative formats and analyses the adaptation process for the biographical drama Finally the book considers various kinds of reputation of the broadcast institution author biographical subject in relation to the ethics of televisual biography

Locating Television Anna Cristina Pertierra, Graeme Turner, 2013 Locating Television Zones of Consumption takes an important next step for television studies and addresses the question of what is television now

Docudrama on European Television Tobias Ebbrecht-Hartmann, Derek Paget, 2016-07-12 This book explores docudrama as a creative response to troubled times With generic characteristics formed via traditions in theatre as well as film and with claims to fact underscored by investigative journalism television docudrama examines key events and personalities in unfolding national histories Post Fall of the Berlin Wall docudrama has become a means for nations to work through traumatic experiences both within national borders and Europe wide In this regard it is an important genre for television networks as they attempt to make sense of complex current events These authors offer a template for further study and point towards ways in which European television cultures beyond those discussed here might be considered in the future

A new genre for television? Justin Hardy, 2025-05-27 In A New Genre for Television filmmaker Justin Hardy argues the dramatised history documentaries broadcast by British public service channels in the 2000s constituted a distinct television genre Offering a vital distinction between docudramas and drama documentaries Hardy contributes to the field of television history through exclusive interviews with key figures from BBC and Channel 4 many of whom have never been publicly interviewed before and envisions a future model for the portrayal of national histories on screen Television Journalism Stephen Cushion, 2011-11-10 Amidst the glut of studies on new media and the news the enduring medium of television finally gets the attention it deserves Cushion brings television news back into perfect focus in a book that offers historical depth geographical breadth empirical analysis and above all political significance Through an interrogation of the dynamics of and relations between regulation ownership the working practices of journalism and the news audience Cushion makes a clear case for why and how television news should be firmly positioned in the public interest It should be required reading for anyone concerned with news and journalism Natalie Fenton Goldsmiths University of London An admirably ambitious synthesis of journalism scholarship and journalism practice providing a comprehensive resource of historical analysis contemporary trends and key data Stewart Purvis City University and former CEO of ITN Despite the democratic promise of new media television journalism remains the most viewed valued and trusted source of information in many countries around the world Comparing patterns of ownership policy and regulation this book explores how different environments have historically shaped contemporary trends in television journalism internationally Informed by original research Television Journalism lays bare the implications of market forces public service interventions and regulatory shifts in television journalism s changing production practices news values and audience expectations Accessibly written and packed with topical references this authoritative account offers fresh insights into the past present and future of journalism making it a necessary point of reference for upper level undergraduates researchers and academics in broadcasting journalism mass communication and media studies Industrial Approaches to Media Matthew Freeman, 2016-10-19 This guidebook aimed at those interested in studying media industries provides direction in ways best suited to collaborative dialogue between media scholars and media professionals While the study of media industries is a focal point at many universities around the world promising as it might rich dialogues between academia and industry understandings of the actual methodologies for researching the media industries remain vague What are the best methods for analysing the workings of media industries and how does one navigate those methods in light of complex deterrents like copyright and policy not to mention the difficulty of gaining access to the media industries Responding to these questions Industrial Approaches to Media offers practical theoretical and ethical principles for the field of media industry studies providing its first full methodological exploration It features key scholars such as Henry Jenkins Michele Hilmes Paul McDonald and Alisa Perren Interactive Digital Television: Technologies and Applications Lekakos, George, Chorianopoulos, Konstantinos, Doukidis, Georgios, 2007-05-31 The developments in digital television technology provide the unprecedented opportunity to drastically extend the role of television as a content delivery channel E health e commerce e government and e learning are only a few examples of value added services provided over digital televisions infrastructures These changes in the television industry challenge companies to adjust their strategies in order to meet the opportunities and threats in this new environment Interactive Digital Television Techniques and Applications presents the developments in the domain of interactive digital television covering both technical and business aspects This book focuses on analyzing concepts research issues and methodological approaches presenting existing solutions such as systems and prototypes for researchers academicians scholars professionals and practitioners Journalism and Eyewitness Images

Mette Mortensen, 2014-12-17 Building on the vast research conducted on war and media since the 1970s scholars are now studying the digital transformation of the production of news Little scholarly attention has been paid however to non professional eyewitness visuals even though this genre holds a still greater bearing on the way conflicts are fought communicated and covered by the news media This volume examines the power of new technologies for creating and disseminating images in relation to conflicts Mortensen presents a theoretical framework and uses case studies to investigate the impact of non professional images with regard to essential issues in today s media landscape including new media technologies and democratic change the political mobilization and censorship of images the ethics of spectatorship and the shifting role of the mainstream news media in the digital age Fernsehen: Europäische Perspektiven Elizabeth

Preston, Susanne Kinnebrock, 2019-10-15 A groundbreaking handbook that takes a cross national approach to the media history of Europe of the past 100 years The Handbook of European Communication History is a definitive and authoritative handbook that fills a gap in the literature to provide a coherent and chronological history of mass media public communication and journalism in Europe from 1900 to the late 20th century With contributions from teams of scholars and members of the European Communication Research and Education Association the Handbook explores media innovations major changes and developments in the media systems that affected public communication as well as societies and culture The contributors also examine the general trends of communication history and review debates related to media development To ensure a transnational approach to the topic the majority of chapters are written not by a single author but by international teams formed around one or more lead authors The Handbook goes beyond national perspectives and provides a basis for more cross national treatments of historical developments in the field of mediated communication Indeed this important Handbook Offers fresh insights on the development of media alongside key differences between countries regions or media systems over the past century Takes a fresh cross national approach to European media history Contains contributions from leading international scholars in this rapidly evolving area of study Explores the major innovations key developments differing trends and the important debates concerning the media in the European setting Written for students and academics of communication and media studies as well as media professionals The Handbook of European Communication History covers European media from 1900 with the emergence of the popular press to the professionalization of journalists and the first wave of multimedia with the advent of film and radio broadcasting through the rapid growth of the Internet and digital media since the late 20th century The End of Television? Elihu Katz,Paddy Scannell,2009-09-17 Is television dead The classic television era of the 1950s and 1960s characterized by limited choices of programs broadcast on over the air channels to families as if they were seated around a hearth and to a nation as if gathered around a campfire has indeed ended That early stage of sharedness and scarcity gave way to the television of plenty when satellite and cable and competition reigned choice was suddenly expanded and every room in the home had its own television set And now television offers infinite choices where we can view what we like when we like where we like on a variety of screens telephones and Web sites Some researchers assert that television is not dead but has merely moved from a collectivist to an individualist phase Throughout the drastic evolution of this media thousands of studies have examined the short term effects of television such as the evaluation of persuasion campaigns Yet there is scant research on the overreaching sociological impacts of television and its centrality to Western culture over the past 60 years This compelling volume of The ANNALS is the first collection of rigorous articles devoted to studying ways in which television has impacted our values ideologies institutions social structure and culture Focusing on classic television these leading experts in media studies delve into the effects on social institutions namely family and politics and its effects on values and everyday behavior These seminal articles lay the groundwork for innovative studies of the numerous ways that television has impacted democracy social integration nation and family trust and suspiciousness materialism and identity social and physical Students and researchers will find a wealth of inspiration for new research projects It is a must have resource for social scientists interested in media studies An Introduction to Television Studies Jonathan Bignell,2013 An Introduction to Television Studies is a comprehensive introduction to the field It provides resources for thinking about key aspects and introduces institutional textual cultural economic production and audience centred ways of looking at television TV Transformations Tania Lewis,2013-09-13 The past decade has seen an explosion of lifestyle makeover TV shows Audiences around the world are being urged to renovate everything from their homes to their pets and children while lifestyle experts on TV now tell us what not to eat and what not to wear Makeover television and makeover culture is now ubiquitous and yet compared with reality TV shows like Big Brother and Survivor there has been relatively little critical attention paid to this format This exciting collection of essays written by leading media scholars from the UK US and Australia aims to reveal the reasons for the huge popularity and influence of the makeover show Written in a lively and accessible manner the essays brought together here will help readers make sense of makeover TV by offering a range of different approaches to understanding the emergence of this popular cultural phenomenon Looking at a range of shows from The Biggest Loser to Trinny and Susannah Undress essays include an analysis of how and why makeover TV shows have migrated across such a range of TV cultures the social significance of the rise of home renovation shows the different ways in which British versus American audiences identify with makeover shows and the growing role of lifestyle TV in the context of neo liberalism in educating us to be good citizens This book was published as a special issue of Continuum Journal of Media and Cultural Studies Television Personalities James Bennett,2010-10-04 Television Personalities offers an exciting engaging approach to studying and understanding the most prominent and popular performers in television and celebrity culture It is an original indispensable guide for undergraduate and postgraduate students of media television and celebrity studies as well as those interested in digital culture more widely

Transmedia Television , Installation and the Moving Image Catherine Elwes,2015-05-12 Film and video create an illusory world a reality elsewhere and a material presence that both dramatizes and demystifies the magic trick of moving pictures Beginning in the 1960s artists have explored filmic and televisual phenomena in the controlled environments of galleries and museums drawing on multiple antecedents in cinema television and the visual arts This volume traces the lineage of moving image installation through architecture painting sculpture performance expanded cinema film history and countercultural film and video from the 1960s 1970s and 1980s Sound is given due attention along with the shift from analogue to digital issues of spectatorship and the insights of cognitive science Woven into this genealogy is a discussion of the procedural political theoretical and ideological positions espoused by artists from the mid twentieth century to the present Historical constructs such as Peter Gidal s structural materialism Maya Deren s notion of vertical and horizontal time and identity politics are reconsidered in a contemporary context and intersect with more recent thinking on representation subjectivity and installation art The book is written by a critic curator and practitioner who was a pioneer of British video and feminist art politics in the late 1970s Elwes writes engagingly of her encounters with works by Anthony McCall Gillian Wearing David Hall and Janet Cardiff and her narrative is informed by exchanges with other practitioners While the book addresses the key formal theoretical and historical parameters of moving image installation it ends with a question What s in it for the artist Television as Digital Media James Bennett,Niki Strange,2011-02-11 Collection of essays that consider television as a digital media form and the aesthetic cultural and industrial changes that this shift has provoked
