Let's Go To The Moon Conrad Seiler, 1956     The Biblical treasury, 1866     The American Garden, 1886     City on the Moon Murray Leinster, 2025-08-13

Welcome to the CITY ON THE MOON where survival is a daily grind and one wrong move can spell disaster. For Joe Kenmore, life on the Moon was already a high-wire act: the inhospitable lunar landscape, the constant reliance on technology, the isolation. It was a tough gig, but one he'd embraced for the thrill of pioneering humanity's next frontier. But tough is about to get a cosmic-sized upgrade. On the very day the Earth shuttle is screaming towards its lunar rendezvous, disaster strikes. The mountain vital for the shuttle's landing guidance systems doesn't just tremble; it explodes and crumbles into a catastrophic avalanche. Chaos erupts. The meticulously planned landing sequence is in tatters, and with it, potentially, the lives of everyone aboard the incoming vessel. Among those passengers is Arlene Gray, the woman Joe Kenmore has been counting the seconds to reunite with. Suddenly, this isn't just a professional crisis; it's intensely personal. While his heart hammers for Arlene, Kenmore and his sharp colleague Moreau quickly realize the avalanche was no freak accident. Their investigation points to a chilling conclusion: deliberate sabotage. Now the clock isn't just ticking; it's a time bomb. They're in a desperate white-knuckle race to repair the critical landing beam before the shuttle passes its point of no return, condemning it to a fiery doom on the lunar surface. Arlene's fate, the lives of the crew and passengers, and the integrity of the entire Moon City operation hang precariously in the balance. But the stakes are astronomically higher than even a shuttle crash. The City on the Moon isn't just a collection of domes and tunnels; it's a critical outpost, a dedicated research facility pushing the boundaries of atomic science experiments far too perilous to conduct on Earth. Its sole purpose? To supply a strategically vital space station orbiting between Earth and Moon, a station where humanity's future is being forged. This station is on the verge of an announcement that will determine whether humankind boldly strides towards the stars or retreats, allowing civilization to stagnate and decline. A wrong signal or worse, the station's destruction, could seal that grim fate. And as if a sabotaged landing system and an impending galactic decision point weren't enough, Kenmore uncovers a more sinister conspiracy. Shadowy, powerful forces are actively working against human progress. These unseen enemies don't want humanity reaching for the stars; they prefer a species confined and controlled. Their methods are brutal and direct: sabotage, destruction, and sowing chaos to ensure the City on the Moon and Earth's ambitions with it fail spectacularly. Can Joe Kenmore, fueled by love and a profound sense of destiny, outwit the saboteurs, restore the landing systems in time to save Arlene and the shuttle, and protect the City from becoming a desolate tomb The future of humanity from the dusty plains of the Moon to the furthest reaches of the galaxy depends on it A

Carol Ann Duffy s beautiful anthology features an eclectic mix of poems that chart human fascination with the moon across the centuries and around the world Carol Ann Duffy on To the Moon Editing Answering Back in which living poets replied to poems from the past I was astonished to see how many of the poems old and new referred to the moon I then started to keep a record of such references and from my notebook I see that in one morning alone I came across no fewer than nine poems from the likes of Coleridge Graves Rosetti and Rowe and it was this selection that initially inspired To the Moon There s something incredibly moving and electrifying to read a poem from the Chinese Book of Odes written around 500 BC and to feel both our distance from and our closeness to the past and the Moon itself I climbed the hill just as the new moon showed I saw him coming on the southern road My heart lays down its load In collecting together poems such as these poems that span continents and centuries To the Moon shows what it is to be human to love to lose to dream and to hope The poems it contains give us a real and profound sense of our time on this planet and the pleasures they offer are like space itself infinite
