Printing in Calcutta to 1800 Graham Shaw,1981      Print and Publishing in Colonial Bengal Tapti Roy,2018-11-13 This book reconstructs the history of print and publishing in colonial Bengal by tracing the unexpected journey of Bharat Chandra s Bidyasundar the first book published by a Bengali entrepreneur The introduction of printing technology by the British in Bengal expanded the scope of publication and consumption of books significantly This book looks at the developments and the parallel publishing initiatives of that time It examines local enterprises in colonial Bengal engaged in producing and selling books and explores the ways in which they charted out a cultural space in the 19th century The work sheds fresh light on book production and the culture of print and narrates the processes behind the printing of books to understand the multi layered literary practices they sustained A valuable addition to the history of publishing in India this book will be useful to scholars and researchers of South Asian and Indian history Bengali literature media and cultural studies and print and publishing studies It will also appeal to those interested in the history of Bengal and the Bengali diaspora      Printing in Calcutta to 1800 Graham Shaw,1981      The Spread of Print in Colonial India Abhijit Gupta,2021-11-11 This study focuses on the spread of print in colonial India towards the middle and end of the nineteenth century Till the first half of the century much of the print production in the subcontinent emanated from presidency cities such as Calcutta Bombay and Madras along with centres of missionary production such as Serampore But with the growing socialization of print and the entry of local entrepreneurs into the field print began to spread from the metropole to the provinces from large cities to mofussil towns This Element will look at this phenomenon in eastern India and survey how printing spread from Calcutta to centres such as Hooghly Chinsurah Murshidabad Burdwan Rangpur etc The study will particularly consider the rise of periodicals and newspapers in the mofussil and asses their contribution to a nascent public sphere      Print and the Urdu Public Megan Eaton Robb,2021 Print and the Urdu Public Muslims Newspapers and Urban Life in Colonial India addresses Urdu print publics from the perspective of Madinah newspaper published in Bijnor qasbah of the then United Provinces in order to demonstrate how an Urdu newspaper published from the margins became central to the Muslim public constituted in the first half of the twentieth century      Sympathy and India in British Literature, 1770-1830 A. Rudd,2011-05-25 India was the object of intense sympathetic concern during the Romantic period But what was the true nature of imaginative engagement with British India This study explores how a range of authors from Edmund Burke and Sir William Jones to Robert Southey and Thomas Moore sought to come to terms with India s strangeness and distance from Britain      The Poetry of British India, 1780-1905 Vol 1 Maire ni Fhlathuin,2020-03-19 This two volume reset edition draws together a selection of Anglo Indian poetry from the Romantic era and the nineteenth century      The Poetry of British India, 1780-1905 Maire ni Fhlathuin,2022-07-30 This two volume reset edition draws together a selection of Anglo Indian poetry from the Romantic era and the nineteenth century      From Little London to Little Bengal Daniel E. White,2013-12-30 How literary and religious traffic between Bengal and Britain in the late 18th and early 19th centuries impelled a complex and contested cosmopolitan imperial culture From Little London to Little Bengal traces the traffic in culture between Britain and India during the Romantic period To some Calcutta appeared to be a Little London while in London itself an Indianized community of returned expatriates was emerging as Little Bengal Circling between the two this study reads British and Indian literary religious and historical sources alongside newspapers panoramas religious festivals idols and museum exhibitions Together and apart Britons and Bengalis waged a transcultural agon under the dynamic conditions of early nineteenth century imperialism struggling to claim cosmopolitan perspectives and in the process to define modernity Daniel E White shows how an ambivalent Protestant contact with Hindu devotion shaped understandings of the imperial mission for Britons and Indians during the period Investigating global metaphors of circulation and mobility communication and exchange commerce and conquest he follows the movements of people ideas books art and artifacts initiated by writers publishers educators missionaries travelers and reformers Along the way he places luminaries like Romantic poet Robert Southey and Hindu reformer Rammohun Roy in dialogue with a fascinating array of lesser known figures from the Baptist missionaries of Serampore and the radical English journalist James Silk Buckingham to the mixed race prodigy Henry Louis Vivian Derozio In concert and in conflict these cultural emissaries and activists articulated national and cosmopolitan perspectives that were more than reactions on the part of marginal groups to the metropolitan center of power and culture The British Empire in India involved recursive transactions between the global East and West channeling cultural political and religious formations that were simultaneously distinct and shared local national and transnational Anglophone Poetry in Colonial India, 1780-1913 Mary Ellis Gibson, 2011 Gibson English and gender studies U of North Carolina at Greensboro collects and introduces the works of 34 poets writing in English in colonial India from 1780 to 1913 the long 19th century The majority of poets are unsurprisingly of British origin but the works of a number of native Indian poets are included as well Nobel winner Rabindranath Tagore perhaps the most notable of them Gibson includes notes on vocabulary and historical and cultural references and includes biographical introductions for the poets Annotation 2011 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

A Bibliography on Writing and Written Language Konrad Ehlich, Florian Coulmas, Gabriele Graefen, 2011-06-01 The bibliography offers information on research about writing and written language over the past 50 years No comprehensive bibliography on this subject has been published since Sattler s 1935 handbook With a selection of some 27 500 titles it covers the most important literature in all scientific fields relating to writing Emphasis has been placed on the interdisciplinary organization of the bibliography creating many points of common interest for literacy experts educationalists psychologists sociologists linguists cultural anthropologists and historians The bibliography is organized in such a way as to provide the specialist as well as the researcher in neighboring disciplines with access to the relevant literature on writing in a given field While necessarily selective it also offers information on more specialized bibliographies In addition an overview of norms and standards concerning script and writing will prove very useful for non professional readers It is therefore also of interest to the generally interested public as a reference work for the humanities The Making of Western Indology Rosane Rocher, Ludo Rocher, 2014-06-17 Drawing on new sources this book evaluates the importance of Henry Thomas Colebrooke an East India Company civil servant who became the father of modern Indology Written by renowned academics in the field of Indology and drawing on new sources this book shows how he embodies the significant passage from eighteenth century colonial expansion to the professional transnational ethos of nineteenth century intellectual life and scholarly enquiry

Shaping the Sciences of the Ancient and Medieval World Agathe Keller, Karine Chemla, 2024-05-14 This book contributes to a worldwide history of textual criticism and critical editions of ancient scientific texts It first looks at ancient editorial practices and at their impact on modern editions Contributions analyze how through time the perception of what a text was may have changed and influenced how scholarly texts were made accessible The second section looks at the historical political and social contexts within which editions and translations of ancient scientific texts were produced Finally the last two parts examine the specificities of editions and translations that bore on scholarly documents Not only is there a focus on how the elements specific to scientific texts such as diagrams and numbers were treated but case studies analyzing the specific work carried out to edit mathematical and astronomical texts of the past are also offered to the reader The scholarship displayed in this work lays the foundation for further studies on the history of critical editions and raises questions to those who make scholarly translations and critical editions today The History of the Book in South Asia

Francesca Orsini, 2016-12-05 The History of the Book in South Asia covers not only the various modern states that make up South Asia today but also a multitude of languages and scripts For centuries it was manuscripts that dominated book production and circulation and printing technology only began to make an impact in the late eighteenth century Print flourished in the colonial period and in particular lithographic printing proved particularly popular in South Asia both because it was economical and because it enabled multi script printing There are now vibrant publishing cultures in the nation states of South Asia and the essays in this volume cover the whole range from palm leaf manuscripts to contemporary print culture Book History Through Postcolonial Eyes Robert Fraser, 2008-08-18 This surprising study draws together the disparate fields of postcolonial theory and book history in a challenging and illuminating way Fraser illustrates his combined approach with comparative case studies of print script and speech cultures in South Asia and Africa
