Subcommittee No. 3,1972      The Official History of Criminal Justice in England and Wales David Downes,2021-04-22 Volume III of The Official History of Criminal Justice in England and Wales draws on archival sources and individual accounts to offer a history of penal policymaking in England and Wales between 1959 and 1997 The book studies the changes underlying penal policymaking in the period from a belief in the rehabilitative potential of imprisonment to a reaffirmation in 1993 that Prison Works as a deterrent to crime A need to curb the rising prison population initially focussed on developing alternatives to prison and a new system of parole however their relative ineffectiveness led to sentencing becoming the key to penal reform A slackening of faith in rehabilitation led to pressure for greater emphasis on humane containment and the rebalancing of security order and justice in prison regimes Thus 1991 was the climactic year for what became largely unfulfilled hopes for lasting penal reform Escapes riots and prison occupations were prime catalysts for changes often highly contentious in penal policymaking Notably there was no simple equation between political party minister and policy choice Both Labour and Conservative governments had distinctly liberal Home Secretaries and after 1992 both parties took a more punitive approach This book will be of much interest to students of criminology and British history politics and law      Drug Use and Prisons John B Davies,David Shewan,2000-03-09 Prisons today contain large proportions of drug users Drug Use and Prisons provides the first comprehensive account of patterns of drug use and risk behaviours in prisons and of the different responses to this feature of prison life Experts from Europe North and South America Africa and Australia from a variety of professional backgrounds provide an international perspective on this ongoing problem In the past prisoners were one of the hidden populations of drug users But with increasing recognition of the potential for the prison setting to act as a conduit for HIV and transmission within the prisoner population and thence into the community failure to face this prospect is no longer an option for public health researchers or policymakers nor for those working in the prison system      Public Documents West Virginia,1907      Library Book Catalog, Author Catalog, Volume 2 United States. Department of Justice,1975      Industrial and Labor Problems ... Russell Sage Foundation. Library,1928      Health in Prisons A. Gatherer,World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe,2007 Based on the experience of many countries in the WHO European Region and the advice of experts this guide outlines some of the steps prison systems should take to reduce the public health risks from compulsory detention in often unhealthy situations to care for prisoners in need and to promote the health of prisoners and prison staff This requires that everyone working in prisons understand how imprisonment affects health what prisoners health needs are and how evidence based health services can be provided for everyone needing treatment care and prevention in prison Other essential elements are being aware of and accepting internationally recommended standards for prison health providing professional care with the same adherence to professional ethics as in other health services and while seeing individual needs as the central feature of the care provided promoting a whole prison approach to care and promoting the health and well being of people in custody     Competitive Problems in the Drug Industry United States.
