Weems Jr., 2000-11-30 Compared to the early decades of the 20th century when scholarly writing on African Americans was limited to a few titles on slavery Reconstruction and African American migration the last thirty years have witnessed an explosion of works on the African American experience With the Civil Rights and Black Power movements of the 1960s came an increasing demand for the study and teaching of African American history followed by the publication of increasing numbers of titles on African American life and history This volume provides a comprehensive bibliographical and analytical guide to this growing body of literature as well as an analysis of how the study of African Americans has changed Racial Discrimination and Public Policy in the United States Richard M. Racial and Ethnic Residential Segregation Across the United States

Amber R. Crowell, Mark A. Fossett, 2023-08-31 This open access book provides new findings on and insights into trends and patterns in residential segregation between racial and ethnic groups in the United States It draws on new methods that make it possible to investigate segregation involving small groups and segregation patterns in nonmetropolitan communities with greater accuracy and clarity than has previously been possible As one example the authors are able to track residential segregation patterns across a wide selection of nonmetropolitan communities where Black Latino and Asian populations are small but can still potentially experience segregation The authors also track White Latino segregation from its inception when Latino households first arrived in non negligible numbers in new destination communities and then document how segregation changes over time as the Latino population grows over time to become larger and more established Finally this work shows how segregation of Latino and Asian households is fundamentally different from that of Black households based on the much greater role that cultural and socioeconomic characteristics play in shaping White Latino and White Asian segregation in comparison to White Black segregation

Richmond, 2013-10-22

Readings in Race and Ethnic Relations is a part of a series of Readings in Sociology This book is composed of four parts with a total of 17 chapters Part 1 explains the concepts of race racism and identity Parts 2 and 3 elucidate the relationship of race with religion urbanization and ethnic stratification Lastly Part 4 explores how race is associated with politics and conflict One of the distinctive features of this book is the inclusion of some articles translated into English from other languages Linguists communicators and other people interested in this field of study will find this book invaluable 'Sleepwalking to segregation'? Nissa Finney, Ludi Simpson, 2009-01-21 In the context of renewed debates about diversity and cohesion this book interrogates contemporary claims about race and migration It demonstrates that many of the claims are myths presenting evidence in support of and in opposition to them in an accessible yet academically rigorous manner The book combines an easy to read overview of the subject with innovative new research It tackles head on questions about levels of immigration the contribution of immigrants minority self segregation ghettoisation and the future diversity of the population The authors argue that the myths of race and migration are the real threat to an integrated society and recommend that focus should return to problems of inequality and prejudice Not Alms but Opportunity Touré F. Reed, 2009-06-01

Illuminating the class issues that shaped the racial uplift movement Toure Reed explores the ideology and policies of the national New York and Chicago Urban Leagues during the first half of the twentieth century Reed argues that racial uplift in the Urban League reflected many of the class biases pervading contemporaneous social reform movements resulting in an emphasis on behavioral rather than structural remedies to the disadvantages faced by Afro Americans Reed traces the Urban League's ideology to the famed Chicago School of Sociology The Chicago School offered Leaguers powerful scientific tools with which to foil the thrust of eugenics However Reed argues concepts such as ethnic cycle and social disorganization and reorganization led the League to embrace behavioral models of uplift that reflected a deep circumspection about poor Afro Americans and fostered a preoccupation with the needs of middle class blacks According to Reed the League's reform endeavors from the migration era through World War II oscillated between projects to adjust or even contain unacculturated

Afro Americans and projects intended to enhance the status of the Afro American middle class Reed's analysis complicates the mainstream account of how particular class concerns and ideological influences shaped the League's vision of group advancement as well as the consequences of its endeavors
