Race and Nationalism Thomas M. Franck,1973 Race and Nationalism: the Struggle for Power in Rhodesia-Nyasaland, Etc Thomas Martin FRANCK,1960 Race and Nationalism ,1960 Race and Nationalism. The Struggle for Power in Rhodesia-Nyasaland. Forew. by J. Callaghan Thomas M. Franck,J. Callaghan,1960 The Politics and Economics of Decolonization in Africa Andrew Cohen,2017-05-26 The slow collapse of the European colonial empires after 1945 provides one of the great turning points of twentieth century history With the loss of India however the British under Harold Macmillan attempted to enforce a second colonial occupation supporting the efforts of Sir Andrew Cohen of the Colonial Office to create a Central African Federation Drawing on newly released archival material The Politics and Economics of Decolonization offers a fresh examination of Britain s central African territories in the late colonial period and provides a detailed assessment of how events in Britain Africa and the UN shaped the process of decolonization The author situates the Central African Federation which consisted of modern day Zambia Zimbabwe and Malawi in its wider international context shedding light on the Federation s complex relationships with South Africa with US Presidents Dwight Eisenhower and John F Kennedy and with the expanding United Nations The result is an important history of the last days of the British Empire and the beginnings of a more independent African continent The Rise of Nationalism in Central Africa Robert I. Rotberg,1965 Detailed study of the political evolution of two independent states of tropical Africa tracing their efforts to achieve self government A History of Zimbabwe, 1890-2000 and Postscript, Zimbabwe, 2001-2008 Chengetai J. M. Zvobgo,2009-10-02 This study combines in one volume the history of Zimbabwe from the advent of British settlers in 1890 to 2000 including women s rights and human rights in Zimbabwe It is a political social and economic history The Postscript examines the major developments in Zimbabwe from 2001 to 2008 The two previous major studies on the history of Zimbabwe The Past Is Another Country by Martin Meredith London Andre Deutsch 1979 and The Road to Zimbabwe 1890 1980 by Anthony Verrier London Jonathan Cape 1986 are now out of date This volume brings the historical study of Zimbabwe almost up to the present day African Women Writers and the Politics of Gender Sadia Zulfiqar,2016-09-23 This work examines the work of a group of African women writers who have emerged over the last forty years While figures such as Chinua Achebe Ben Okri and Wole Soyinka are likely to be the chief focus of discussions of African writing female authors have been at the forefront of fictional interrogations of identity formation and history In the work of authors such as Mariama B Senegal Buchi Emecheta Nigeria Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Nigeria Tsitsi Dangarembga Zimbabwe and Leila Aboulela Sudan there is a clear attempt to subvert the tradition of male writing where the female characters are often relegated to the margins of the culture and confined to the domestic private sphere This body of work has already generated a significant number of critical responses including readings that draw on gender politics and colonialism but it is still very much a minor literature and most mainstream western feminism has not sufficiently processed

it The purpose of this book is three fold First it draws together some of the most important and influential African women writers of the post war period and looks at their work separately and together in terms of a series of themes and issues including marriage family polygamy religion childhood and education Second it demonstrates how African literature produced by women writers is explicitly and polemically engaged with urgent political issues that have both local and global resonance the veil Islamophobia and a distinctively African brand of feminist critique Third it revisits Fredric Jameson s claim that all third world texts are national allegories and considers these novels by African women in relation to Jameson s claim arguing that their work has complicated Jameson s assumptions

The United Nations and Decolonization: The Role of Afro — Asia Y. El-Ayouty,2012-12-06 When the United Nations Charter was signed in San Francisco in 1945 the number of African member states of the Organisation was only 4 By the end of 1960 it had risen to 22 Today it is 41 How has this come about The answer is given in this valuable book by Dr Yassin El Ayouty The handful of Asian and African countries who had the privilege of foundation membership made it their business to see to it that their brethren who were still under the colonial yoke attained their freedom and independence as soon as possible and in the meanwhile that they were treated with decency and fairness by their colonial masters It was a tough assignment The struggle was long requiring a great deal of patience and endurance It was at times fierce requiring much dogged resolution It also called for the deployment of intellectual agility ofthe highest order Fortunately all these qualities were available in the rep resentatives of Asia and Africa who led the great struggle These dis tinguished delegates also demonstrated a wonderful degree of solidarity which has happily become an Afro Asian tradition at the United Nations The battle began even before the Organisation had itself become a fact It would have been a more difficult struggle had there been no provision in the Charter at all in respect of colonies by whatever name called

White Mineworkers on Zambia's Copperbelt, 1926-1974 Duncan Money, 2021-12-06 Life and work on the Zambian Copperbelt a concentrated industrialised mining region along the border with DR Congo has been a perennial subject for Africanist historians In this book Duncan Money for the first time focusses on the white mineworkers who monopolised skilled jobs on the mines from the 1920s to the 1960s and became one of the most affluent groups of workers on the planet Money argues that this group was a highly mobile global workforce which constituted and saw itself as a racialised working class For much of the twentieth century this white working class moved between mining and industrial centres across and beyond the British Empire and their actions and forms of organisation were strongly influenced by their international connections and by their mobility These transnational connections and the white working class militancy they produced played a crucial role in shaping social categories of race and class on the Copperbelt and determining the evolution of a region which quickly became one of the world's largest sources of copper See inside the book Regimes in Tropical Africa Ruth Berins Collier, 2023-04-28 This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1982 Framing the State in Times of Transition Laurel E.
