Race Culture And Ethnicity In Psychiatric Practice Working With Difference:

Race, Culture, and Ethnicity in Secure Psychiatric Practice Charles Kaye, Tony Lingiah, 2000 People from ethnic minorities are overrepresented in secure psychiatric care and have been reported to receive differential treatment from staff. It has been suggested that these people, especially Afro Caribbean groups, suffer from prejudicial legal criminal justice and psychiatric systems. This text questions whether Western white oriented practice and systems of belief can or should be applied to service users from other cultural racial ethical or spiritual backgrounds. Psychiatric and Mental Health

Nursing Phil Barker, 2017-07-20 The concept of the craft of caring dictates that the basis of good nursing practice is a combination of both art and science encouraging nurses to take a holistic approach to the practice of psychiatric and mental health nursing. Supported by relevant theory, research, policy and philosophy, this volume reflects current developments in nursing practice and the understanding of mental health disorders. The book includes case studies of patients with anxiety, schizophrenia and bipolar disorder, as well as victims of sexual abuse, those with an eating disorder, homeless patients and those with dementia and autism. Forensic Mental Health Annie Bartlett, Gill McGauley, 2009-10 This analysis of the

Drawing together research material and literature on black perspectives in human development and behaviour from North America and Britain, it provides a starting point that will inspire discussion and debate in the social work field and will generate future theoretical and research questions. Among the topics covered are black perspectives in group work and the family, identity development and academic achievement in black children and mental health issues in relation to black people. Updated throughout to cover recent legislation, this second edition is an essential introductory text for all social workers in training and practice and for their teachers and trainers. The SAGE

What Works (and Doesn't) in Reducing

Recidivism Edward J. Latessa, Shelley J. Listwan, Deborah Koetzle, 2014-09-19. This book offers criminologists and students an evidence-based discussion of the latest trends in corrections. Over the last several decades, research has clearly shown that rehabilitation efforts can be effective at reducing recidivism among criminal offenders. However, researchers also recognize that treatment is not a one-size-fits-all approach. Offenders vary by gender, age, crime type, and/or addictions, to name a few, and these individual needs must be addressed by providers. Finally, issues such as leadership quality of staff and evaluation efforts affect the quality and delivery of treatment services. This book synthesizes the vast research for the student interested in correctional rehabilitation as well as for the practitioner working with offenders. While other texts have addressed issues regarding treatment in corrections, this text is unique in that it not only discusses the research on what works but also addresses implementation issues as practitioners move from theory to practice, as well as the importance of
