Gender, Companionship, and Travel Floris Meens, Tom Sintobin, 2018-12-07 Over the last couple of decades there has been a strong academic interest in how individuals interact with each other while en route Yet even if various studies have informed us about present day realities of travel companionships we know little about the influence of gender both on these realities as well as on the discourse in which these are being narrated This book aims to establish an agenda for the study of companionship in travel writing by offering a collection of new essays which study texts that belong to the broad category of pre modern and modern travel literature Chapters explore the differences and similarities in the ways that women and men in the past chose to describe their experiences with and or their ideas about companionship and specifically reveals the influence of gender norms conventions restrictions and stereotypes This is the first book which looks at the long term interdisciplinary and genuinely international history of gendered discourses on companionship in travel writing It will be of interest to scholars and students from a wide variety of disciplines including cultural and social history as well as cultural literary gender travel and tourism studies Portland Transcript ,1855
