The Ginkgo Light Arthur Sze, 2013-07-01 Classically elegant The New York Times Book Review Sze's free verse emphasizes at once how difficult and how necessary it is for us to imagine our world as a system whose ecologies and societies require us to care for all their interdependent parts Publishers Weekly Sze's list laden sequences capture the world's manifold facts one by one then through discursive commentary exact from them a sense not only of aesthetic order but of universal cause and effect Boston Review Sze here captures the energy of life in overshadowed daily events His poems mine everything from geography history and biology to philosophy and nature interweaving them to create a complex and luminous poetic texture His poetry is an experience of awakening and pleasure that all serious students of contemporary poetry should have Library Journal Whether incorporating nature philosophy history or science Sze's poems are expansive They unfold like the time slowed cinematic recording of a flower's blooming Sze has a refreshingly original sensibility and style and he approaches writing like a collagist by joining disparate elements into a cohesive whole Booklist A temple near the hypocenter of the atomic blast at Hiroshima was disintegrated but its ginkgo tree survived to bud and bloom Arthur Sze extends this metaphor of survival and perseverance to transform the world's factual darkness into precarious splendor Each hour teems Sze writes as he ingeniously integrates the world's miraculous and mundane a woodpecker drilling a utility pole or a 1300 year old lotus seed into a moving visionary journey Mayans charted Venus's motion across the sky poured chocolate into jars and interred them with the dead A woman dips three bowls into hair
