Social Protection Group, 2001 Sustaining Gains in Poverty Reduction and Human Development in the Middle East and North Africa Farrukh Iqbal, 2006 This book reviews the experience of the MENA region with poverty and human development since the mid 1980s It finds that poverty rates did not decline by much during this period while health and education indicators improved substantially The stagnation of poverty rates is ascribed to the stagnation of the region's economies during this period while the improvement in human indicators is likely due to several factors including improvement in the delivery of public health and education services Social Protection and Labor at the World Bank, 2000-08 Robert Holzmann, 2009 Social Protection Labor at the World Bank 2000 2008 presents a progress review of the sector strategy by the World Bank published in early 2001 The strategy proposed a new conceptual framework OCo Social Risk Management OCoto review and reform existing interventions and propose new ones that better assist vulnerable people in addressing the many risks to which they are exposed HIV/Aids in the Middle East And North Africa Carol Lynn Jenkins, David A. Robalino, World Bank, World Health Organization. Regional Office for the Eastern Mediterranean, Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS., 2003 Recent evidence suggests that the prevalence of HIV AIDS is increasing in the Middle East North Africa and Eastern Mediterranean MENA EM region and that the total number of AIDS related deaths has risen almost sixfold since the early 1990s Although this figure is low compared with those for Africa South Asia and the Caribbean low prevalence does not equal low risk The situation can change rapidly and even conservative estimates indicate that AIDS poses a real threat to the region's long term growth This book reviews the current knowledge available on the prevalence of HIV AIDS in the MENA EM region with the goal of stimulating discussion among policy and decisionmakers In other regions early investments in good surveillance and effective prevention programs have proved to be relative bargains compared with the costs of a full blown epidemic As the authors argue the time to act is now while prevalence levels are still low To that end they make specific recommendations and offer best practices and case studies from around the world Back cover

Social Dictatorships Ferdinand Eibl, 2020-02-27 Why have social spending levels and social policy trajectories diverged so drastically across labour abundant Middle Eastern and North African regimes And how can we explain the marked persistence of spending levels after divergence Using historical institutionalism and a mix of qualitative and quantitative methods Social Dictatorships The Political Economy of the Welfare State in the Middle East and North Africa develops an explanation of social spending in authoritarian regimes It emphasizes the importance of early elite conflict and attempts to form a durable support coalition under the constraints imposed by external threats and scarce resources Social Dictatorships utilizes two in depth case studies of the political origins of the Tunisian and Egyptian welfare state to

Finance & Development, March 2003 International Monetary Fund. External Relations Dept., 2003-03-21 This paper analyzes why the Middle East and North Africa MENA region has lagged in growth and globalization Despite attempts to spur recovery and initiate structural reforms many countries in the region remain on a slow growth path effectively sidelined from globalization and the benefits of closer economic integration with the rest of the world The benefits from oil failed to generate a sustained growth dynamic or bring about greater regional economic integration The paper highlights that the slowdown in economic reforms is a key factor for the economic depression in the MENA region
