Reforming the Energy Sector in Transition Economies Dale Gray, 1995-01-01 World Development Report 1995
Workers in an Integrating World addresses labor and employment issues that are important for South Asia Expanding employment and increasing the remuneration of workers are essential to poverty alleviation which is the primary objective of all countries in the region This regional perspective examines ways in which workers in South Asia can benefit from greater integration of the global economy through improving their skills or cushioning their transition to new jobs The paper emphasizes that governments need to develop a framework for labor policies that defines the rights of employers workers and labor unions and the framework for collective bargaining and settlement of disputes Liberalization will lead to market based development which is the best way to raise workers living standards it encourages firms and workers to invest in physical capital new technologies and skills The Bangladesh Rural Advancement Committee's Credit Programs Shahidur R. Khandker, M. A. Baqui Khalily, 1996 Spanish edition Pobreza Desigualdad y Formaci3 n del Capital Humano en Am rica Latina 1950 2025 Latin America is marked by wide inequality in income and entrenched poverty This paper argues that the main reason these conditions persist is the lack of adequate education for new generations The author cites several factors economic growth and structural transformation of the economy the convergence of regional per capita income and the diminishing rates of return on education that have combined to lower the region s areas of inequality To bring the region quickly out of poverty the report recommends that universal basic education be given to all young people in the next two decades See also the English edition Stock No 13630 ISBN 0 8213 3630 4 Innovations and Risk Taking Tim Campbell, 1997-01-01 Annotation World Bank Discussion Paper No 357 Decentralization and democratization in the Latin America and the Caribbean region have produced a wave of innovations on the local government level upgrading professional staffs raising taxes and user fees delivering better services and mobilizing participation in public choice making This paper documents five cases of best practices at the local level focusing on innovations in Mendoza Argentina Curitiba Brazil Cali Colombia Manizales Colombia and Tijuana Mexico A the central message of the paper is that by supporting creation and adoption of best practice donors can enjoy a cost effective impact in achieving the next stages of reform in the region but that work must be done at the local level Surveillance of Agricultural Price and Trade Policy in Latin America During Major Policy Reforms Alberto Vald3s, 1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 350 This paper uses an econometric analysis model to examine the distribution across different socioeconomic groups of Malawi s public spending on education The analysis shows the changes in distribution before and after the country adopted a series of education reforms in 1994 Who Benefits from Public Education Spending in Malawi? Florencia Castro-Leal, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 333 Draws on the methodology of World Development Report 1993 Investing in Health to analyze the burden of disease and the cost effectiveness of health care interventions The analysis presents a framework for the activities of the government of Guinea in prioritizing health care services From Universal Food Subsidies to a Self-targeted Program Laura Tuck, Kathy Lindert, 1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 336 Discusses the influence of targeted credited intervention programs among participants and non participants living in program areas and compares them with poverty situations of households in non program areas The data are randomly drawn from 1 800 households in Bangladesh from both areas The analysis shows that it takes about five years for participants to rise above the poverty line and eight years to graduate from program eligibility User Organizations for Sustainable Water Services Ashok Subramanian, N. Vijay Jagannathan, Ruth Suseela Meinzen-Dick, 1997-01-01 Russia is a recognized leader in forest conservation research and development This book analyzes the country s forest sector and the severe management problems that threaten its socioeconomic stability and environmental integrity It outlines the significance of Russia s forest resources review the sector s performance identifies the key challenges proposes and agenda for forest sector reform and assesses the need for assistance from the international community The book s main focus is on Siberia and the Far East Tables boxes and figures show various factors that contribute to and are affected by Russia s environmental problems and the expected reforms in the forest sector Also available in Russian Stock No 14005 ISBN 0 8213 4005 0 Education Achievements and School Efficiency in Rural Bangladesh Shahidur R. Khandker, 1996-01-01 Two of the largest World Bank investment projects in Bangladesh are the general education project and the female secondary scholarship and assistance project This paper evaluates the expected results of these educational projects using the household and school survey data recently collected in rural Bangladesh Bangladesh spends only 2 percent of its GNP on education compared to 3.2 percent in an average low income country and 6 percent in an average high income country Low investment in education results in low literacy only 35 percent which in turn results in low productivity low incomes poor health and above all high population growth To counter these trends Bangladesh has invested substantially in the education sector in recent years with the help of the World Bank and other donor agencies The objective of this investment has been to improve both the quality and quantity of education especially among the female population The general education and female secondary school assistance projects are in particular geared to promote better access to primary and secondary education as well as higher school participation and educational attainment Based on the rural household and school survey data on both supply and demand factors this report concludes that school interventions such as more and better schools better trained and educated teachers more female teachers and better water and sanitation facilities in schools promote literacy and improve school participation and school attainment rates Independent of school level interventions complementary investments in village infrastructure roads and electricity also have beneficial effects on educational outcomes The effects of all these interventions are more pronounced for girls than for boys Contains 28 data tables and figures Author TD Saving Across the World Klaus Schmidt-Hebbel, Luis Servén, 1997-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 349 The Bank s approach to water resources development has shifted from one of construction activities to one of improved management quality creating a new generation of water related projects and the need for new evaluation procedures This paper addresses the methodology for economic evaluation of this new group of projects and draws on the experience of the recently approved Mexico Water Resources Management project

Development Report 1996 ,1996 Almost one third of the world s population has embarked on a transition from planned to market economies Like economic reforms elsewhere the long term goal of this transition is to build a thriving market economy capable of delivering long term growth in living standards Now in its 19th annual edition the World Development Report 1996 takes an in depth look at these transition countries focusing on the key lessons that have taken place thus far The introduction to the Report poses a number of key questions that are addressed in later chapters including questions relating to initial challenges and how contries have tackled them from very different starting points and political conditions The Report also focuses on the additional challenges these transition countries face with a final chapter that summarizes the main conclusion of the Report creating a text that will no doubt become the definitive source for students studying international economics and politics Economic Transition in Central and Eastern Europe Daniel Gros,Alfred

Steinherr,2004-03-25 Analysing the key problems facing the transition countries in Central and Eastern Europe this accessible book describes the legacy of the central planners the progress achieved so far and the need for further reforms It documents the outstanding successes and failures and analyses why certain approaches to transition have worked and others have not It tests where transition is over and shows how some countries have graduated from transition to integration through their efforts to join the European Union EU It discusses the costs and benefits of the eastern enlargement of the EU The specific experiences of German unification the Soviet Union s disintegration and Russia s complex reforms are examined as are the specific issues that need to be addressed in the Balkans The book concludes by indicating how the expanding EU could help the poor performers through inclusion in a continent wide integrated economic area Cross-Border Issues in

Energy Trade in the CIS Countries Mr.John Dodsworth,Mr.Paul Henri Mathieu,Mr.Clinton R. Shiells,2002-12-01 This paper explores from a regional perspective the distorted nature of trade in energy products within the CIS countries The persistence of pricing distortions barter arrangements and discriminatory access to pipelines as well as failure to honor contracts has disrupted and distorted energy exports to non CIS countries undermined energy sector reforms and distorted investment decisions The paper focuses on cross border issues as an integral component of the wider problem of inefficient energy use within the CIS Several policy recommendations are proposed including measures to foster greater competition reduce state involvement and promote regional cooperation

The Broad Sector Approach to Investment Lending

Peter Harrold,1995-01-01 The persistent inequality between women and men constrains society to lower levels of productivity and economic growth The evidence for taking corrective action is now more compelling than ever This report draws on case studies and other evidence to show how public policy can and should support services and infrastructure where the social returns are the highest and the use by women the greatest It reviews progress made to date on gender issues and explores why inequalities persist The report also stimulates ideas for creative solutions by pointing out innovative and less than obvious strategies that have proved successful In Morocco for instance a study shows that paving the public road to school increases a girl s probability of attending classes by 40 percent Also available Toward Gender Equality The Role of Public Policy on CD ROM ISBN 0 8213 3471 9 Stock No 13471
