Religions Of The Ancient East 1st Edition:

Socio-Anthropological Approaches to Religion David W. Kim, Duncan Wright, 2024-02-14 Socio Anthropological Approaches to Religion Environmental Hope interprets the fundamental functions of spirituality through the theories and practices of hope and understanding the futuristic aspiration of new religious movements The book portrays a neutral notion of hope that can be either religious or humanistic in the face of the suffering or despair of present reality The concept of hope or hopelessness is demonstrated in each chapter under the global circumstance of health risk Part One represents the various theories of hope in Christian history ecology and climate the Sabbath and surveillance and the triune God The insecure situation that creates the expectation of hope is demonstrated in Part Two where the case studies of terrorist attacks immigration volunteering behavior religious education and medieval Islamic tradition indicate social unbalance The last section illustrates the cultural anthropology of hope through the activities of different native new religious movements including the Moonies Unification movement Yoruba Nigerian indigenous spirituality and Cosmovisions of Sepik New Guinea This book examines hope as a crucial element of human s internal healing beyond medical technology

Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Nina Nikki, Kirsi M.J. Valkama, 2020-12-14 Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Cognitive Historical and Material Perspectives brings together articles with the shared conviction that the category of magic remains useful in religious studies and provides new insights to biblical and related texts and artifacts Historically magic has been considered in both scholarly and popular discourse to be questionable obscure and potentially subversive 19th century scholars of religion viewed magical beliefs and practices as primitive and inferior compared to Judeo Christian forms of worship which were considered true religion More recently the category has been defended especially by scholars of the cognitive science of religion who find it useful for delineating a set of beliefs and practices fundamental to all forms of religion The volume joins current scholarship in refraining from using the concept as an othering device and in arguing that it can still serve as a helpful analytical tool In addition to analyzing the discourse on magic in both ancient literature and modern scholarship the articles provide individual examples of how literary and material culture attest to the existence of magical beliefs and practices in sources from the Ancient Near East to the Byzantine Period The book is divided into three parts The contributions in the first part approach magic from the theoretical perspective of cognitive studies ritual studies and cultural evolution while the rest of the book focuses on how magic and magicians are understood in ancient sources The second part discusses a specific set of textual material dealing with blessings and curses The third part of the volume discusses the world of various destructive celestial beings from which one and one s loved ones had to be defended as well as the multitude of protective beings such as angels

YHWH in the Wind(s) Violet Chiswa Gandiya, 2025-01-31

From interdisciplinary intertextual and comparative analytical perspectives this book engages with the epistemologies of the Global South and Global North to reveal a fresh insight into the image of YHWH in the guise of the phenomenal wind s and the purpose of this image in the biblical Hebrew tradition Therefore this book showcases YHWH appearing with the potent wind s to create and transform chaos into cosmic order at primal creation Likewise this discourse presents YHWH breaking into the historical and social realm in his various sociopolitical roles to destroy all forms of chaotic force by his bluster of wind s and to establish maintain or restore world social order founded on his rule of justice and righteousness This accounts for the view that all creation and order originate from YHWH and are maintained by YHWH s innate rules of ethical governance This fresh insight into the sights and sounds of YHWH asserting his rule in the dramaturgical wind s not only renders new meaning to biblical texts within their contexts but also offers a persuasive message and alluring theological reflections that can shape new discourses to engage and address contemporary theological and social issues of equity justice and harmony within YHWH s intended design of world and social order Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal, 1891

The First Book of Samuel David Toshio Tsumura, 2007-03-15 David and Goliath the call of Samuel the witch of Endor David and Bathsheba such biblical stories are well known But the books of 1 and 2 Samuel where they are recorded are among the most difficult books in the Bible The Hebrew text is widely considered corrupt and sometimes even unintelligible The social and religious customs are strange and seem to diverge from the tradition of Moses In this first part of an ambitious two volume commentary on the books of Samuel David Toshio Tsumura sheds considerable light on the background of 1 Samuel looking carefully at the Philistine and Canaanite cultures as he untangles the difficult Hebrew text

Encyclopaedia of the History of Science, Technology, and Medicine in Non-Western Cultures Helaine Selin, 2008-03-12 Here at last is the massively updated and augmented second edition of this landmark encyclopedia It contains approximately 1000 entries dealing in depth with the history of the scientific technological and medical accomplishments of cultures outside of the United States and Europe The entries consist of fully updated articles together with hundreds of entirely new topics This unique reference work includes intercultural articles on broad topics such as mathematics and astronomy as well as thoughtful philosophical articles on concepts and ideas related to the study of non Western Science such as rationality objectivity and method You ll also find material on religion and science East and West and magic and science Aššur is King! Aššur is King! Steven Winford Holloway, 2002 Through sustained analysis of texts and visual sources this volume traces the checkered career of Neo Assyrian religious interaction with subject polities of Western Asia through both punitive measures and calculated diplomatic patronage Love and Poetry in the Middle East Atef Alshaer, 2021-12-30 Love has been an important trope in the literature of the region we now call the Middle East from ancient times to modern This book analyses love poetry in various ancient and contemporary languages of the Middle East including Akkadian ancient Egyptian Classical and Modern Standard Arabic Persian Hebrew Turkish and Kurdish including literary materials that have been discovered and highlighted for the first time Together the chapters reflect and explore the discursive evolution of the theme of love and the sensibilities styles and techniques used to convey it They chart the way in which poems in ancient poetry give way to complex and varied reflections of human sentiments in the medieval languages and on to the modern period which in turn reflects the complexities and nuances of present times Offering a snapshot of the diverse literary languages and their relationship to the theme of love the book will be of interest to scholars of Near and Middle Eastern Literature and Culture

Patterns of Kingship and Authority in Traditional Asia I. W. Mabbett, 2024-11-01 There has been a tendency to neglect the political life of Asia in favour of religious and aesthetic considerations The myth of the changeless East dies hard Few people are aware that the earliest legislation for the rights of the common man go back to the Sumerians and that outlines for a social contract were drawn up by Indian Buddhists two thousand years before Locke and Rousseau First published in 1985 Patterns of Kingship and Authority in Traditional Asia provides an excellent survey of traditional Asian ideas of government from the earliest kingdoms of the Sumerians and the Egyptians to the time when Western influence first made itself felt Each chapter is written by a specialist on a particular country or region of Asia who seeks to identify some of the essential features of its traditional royal or imperial authority Particularly fascinating is the way in which traditional institutions continue to have a vital influence upon Asian countries The serious reader will obtain a clear outline of traditional Asian ideas and systems of government and will indirectly acquire a deeper understanding of other aspects of Asian civilisations

Law as Religion, Religion as Law David C. Flatto, Benny Porat, Benjamin Porat, 2022-08-25 In contrast with the conventional approach this volume explores the dynamic interplay and intersection of law and religion

The Concepts of the Divine in the Greek Magical Papyri Eleni Pachoumi, 2017-05-05 Eleni Pachoumi looks at the concepts of the divine in the Greek magical papyri by way of a careful and detailed analysis of ritual practices and spells Her aim is to uncover the underlying religious philosophical and mystical parallelisms and influences on the Greek magical papyri She starts by examining the religious and philosophical concept of the personal daimon and the union of the individual with his personal daimon through the magico

theurgic ritual of systasis She then goes on to analyze the religious concept of paredros as the divine assistant and the various relationships between paredros the divine and the individual To round off she studies the concept of the divine through the manifold religious and philosophical assimilations mainly between Greek Egyptian Hellenized gods and divine abstract concepts of Jewish origins

The Potencies of God(s) Edward Allen Beach, 1994-10-11 This book explores the metaphysical epistemological and hermeneutical theories of Schelling's final system concerning the nature and meaning of religious mythology This perspective is not surprising since Schelling regarded religion not science or philosophy as embodying the most complete manifestation of truth Beach examines Schelling's novel attempt to account for the changing historical forms of religion in terms of a complex theory of dynamic spiritual powers or potencies He shows that these are not mere representations ideas or projected feelings created by ancient myth makers for the benefit of a credulous populace Instead Beach demonstrates that these potencies should be seen as animate powers inhabiting the unconscious strata of a people's collective mind
