Cady,Delwin Brown,2002-10-10 Explores the relationship between religious studies and theology and the place of each in the modern secular university Interpreting Interreligious Relations with Wittgenstein: Philosophy, Theology and Religious Studies ,2019-09-02

This volume argues that Wittgenstein s philosophy of religion and his thought in general continue to be highly relevant for present and future research on interreligious relations Spanning several sub disciplines from philosophy of religion philosophy of language comparative philosophy comparative theology to religious studies the contributions engage with recent developments in interpretation of Wittgenstein and those in the philosophy and theology of interreligious encounter The book shows that there is an important and under explored potential for constructive and fruitful engagement between these academic fields It explores and attempts to realize some of this potential by involving both philosophers and theologians and critically assesses previous applications of Wittgenstein s work in interreligious studies Contributors are Gorazd Andrej Guy Bennett Hunter Mikel Burley Thomas D Carroll Paul Cortois Rhiannon Grant Randy Ramal Klaus von Stosch Varja trajn Nuno Venturinha Sebastjan V r s and Daniel H Weiss

Theology and Religious Studies in Higher Education D.L. Bird, Simon G. Smith, 2009-01-22 Theology and religious studies co exist in the majority of departments in higher education institutions within the UK yet there has been very little debate or discussion on how these two disciplines relate to one another in this context and on a more general level This new collection of essays aims to redress the balance and to add to fruitful discussion in this area Including essays by some of today's leading academics on the sometimes contentious relationship between religious studies or the study of religions and theology this volume is international in scope with contributions from scholars from the UK USA South Africa Netherlands Sweden and Iran Many of the essays offer a contextualised account of the evolving relationship between the disciplines The contributors address such issues as the place of theology within today's universities the problem of clashing methodologies in theology and religious studies the possibility for a theological religious studies approaching the study of religions without theology interdisciplinary approaches for bridging the theology religious studies divide and the place of biblical studies in the theology religious studies debate

The Learned Practice of Religion in the Modern University Donald Wiebe, 2019-11-14 In these essays Donald Wiebe unveils a significant problem in the academic study of religion in colleges and universities in North America and Europe that studies almost always exhibit a religious bias To explore this issue Wiebe looks at the religious and moral agendas behind the study of religion showing that the boundaries between the objective study of religion and religious education as a tool for bettering society have become blurred As a result he argues religious studies departments have fostered an environment where religion has become a learned or scholarly practice rather than the object of academic scrutiny This book provides a critical history of the failure of 20th and 21st century scholars to follow through on the 19th century ideal of an objective scientific study of religious thought and behaviour Although emancipated from direct ecclesiastical control and to some extent from sectarian theologizing Wiebe argues that research and scholarship in the academic department of religious studies has failed to break free from religious constraints He shows that an objective scientific study of religious thought and practice is not only possible but the only appropriate approach to the study of religious phenomena Theology in the Public Square Gavin D'Costa,2013-04-10 This imaginative study rethinks the nature of theology and its role in universities The author sketches out a fascinating project using examples from US and UK institutions whereby theology becomes a transformative force within universities Imagines what a Christian university in which all disciplines have been theologized would look like Feeds into discussions about the religious identity of denominationally linked colleges and universities Forms part of a wider attempt to imagine a vital public role for theology that enables it to serve both the Church and the wider community Perspectives on Method and Theory in the Study of Religion International Association for the History of Religions. Congress,2000 This volume is the adjunct proceedings on methodology from the XVIIth Congress of the International Association for the History of Religions held in Mexico City in 1995 Taken together the essays present a thorough and coherent perspective on studying religion as an item of human culture Religious Studies Walter H. Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology Perry Schmidt-Leukel,Andreas Nehring,2016-07-14 Can religions be compared For decades the discipline of religious studies was based on the assumption that they can Postmodern and postcolonial reflections however raised significant doubts In social and cultural studies the investigation of the particular often took precedence over a comparative perspective Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology questions whether religious studies can survive if it ceases to be comparative religion Can it do justice to a globalized world if it is limited on the specific and turns a blind eye on the general While comparative approaches have come under strong pressure in religious studies they have started flourishing in Theology Comparative theology practices interfaith dialogue by means of comparative research This volume asks whether theology and religious studies are able to mutually benefit from their critical and constructive reflections Can postcolonial criticism of neutrality and objectivity in religious studies create new links with the decidedly perspectival approach of comparative theology In this collection scholars from theology and religious studies discuss the methodology of interreligious comparison in the light of recent doubts and current objections Together with the contributors Perry Schmidt Leukel and Andreas Nehring argue that after decades of critique interreligious comparison deserves to be reconsidered reconstructed and reintroduced Religious Literacy in Policy and Practice Adam Dinham,Matthew Francis,2016-08-17 This valuable book is the first to bring together theory and policy with analysis and expertise on practices in key areas of the public realm to explore what religious literacy is why it is needed and what might be done about it It makes the case for a public realm which is well equipped to engage with the plurality and pervasiveness of religion and belief whatever the individual s own stance It is aimed at academics policy makers and practitioners interested in the policy and practice implications of the continuing presence of religion and belief in the public sphere MasterClass in Religious Education Liam Gearon,2013-03-28 A comprehensive guide to religious education ensuring a solid foundation for supporting effective learning and teaching Religion and Belief Literacy Adam Dinham, 2020-11-04 This book presents a crisis of religion and belief literacy to which education at every level is challenged to respond As understanding different religions beliefs and influences becomes increasingly important it fills a gap for a resource in bringing together the debates around religious literacy from theoretical approaches to teaching and policy This timely publication provides a clear pathway for engaging well with religion and belief diversity in public and shared settings
