Revolutionary Memory Cary Nelson, 2013-10-11 Revolutionary Memory is the most important book yet to be published about the vital tradition of leftwing American Poetry As Cary Nelson shows it is not only our image of the past but also our sense of the present and future that changes when we recover these revolutionary memories Making a forceful case for political poetry as poetry Nelson brings to bear his extraordinary knowledge of American poets radical movements and social struggles in order to bring out an undervalued strength in a literature often left at the canon's edge Focused in part of the red decade of the 1930s Revolutionary Memory revitalizes biographical criticism for writers on the margin and shows us for the first time how progressive poets fused their work into a powerful chorus of political voices Richly detailed and beautifully illustrated with period engravings and woodcuts Revolutionary Memory brings that chorus dramatically to life and set a cultural agenda for future work Celebrating Canada Mathew Hayday, Raymond B.

Blake, 2017-01-06 Holidays are a key to helping us understand the transformation of national regional community and ethnic identities In Celebrating Canada Matthew Hayday and Raymond Blake situate Canada in an international context as they examine the history and evolution of our national and provincial holidays and annual celebrations The contributors to this volume examine such holidays as Dominion Day Victoria Day Quebec's Fête Nationale and Canadian Thanksgiving among many others They also examine how Canadians celebrate the national days of other countries like the Fourth of July and how Dominion Day was observed in the United Kingdom Drawing heavily on primary source research and theories of nationalism identities and invented traditions the essays in this collection deepen our understanding of how these holidays have influenced the evolution of Canadian identities John Updike Remembered Jack A. Making Something Happen Michael Thurston, 2003-01-14 Poetry makes nothing happen wrote W H Auden in 1939 expressing a belief that came to dominate American literary institutions in the late 1940s the idea that good poetry cannot and should not be politically engaged By contrast Michael Thurston here looks back to the 1920s and 1930s to a generation of poets who wrote with the precise hope and the deep conviction that they would move their audiences to action He offers an engaging new look at the political poetry of Edwin Rolfe Langston Hughes Ezra Pound and Muriel Rukeyser Thurston combines close textual reading of the poems with research into their historical context to reveal how these four poets deployed the resources of tradition and experimentation to contest and redefine political common sense In the process he demonstrates that the aesthetic censure under which much partisan writing has labored needs dramatic revision Although each of these poets worked with different forms and toward different ends Thurston shows that their strategies succeed as poetry He argues that partisan poetry demands reflection not only on how we evaluate poems but also on what we value in poems and therefore which poems we elevate
