Reminiscences of the Happy Life of a Teacher Alfred Holbrook, 1885 I Remember My Teacher David Shribman, 2009-01-01 Over the course of a year writer David Shribman questioned virtually everyone he encountered about the role teachers had played in their lives The result is this extraordinary collection of personal remembrances of teachers relayed by people from all walks of life Readers will be inspired by the Montreal bookseller whose math teacher taught statistics using cards and dice by the second grade teacher who let a young George Stephanopoulos go to the library whenever he was bored in class and by Sister Patricia a favorite teacher of former Secretary Of Labor Alexis Herman who once told her You can fly by that cocoon has to go These 365 short testimonials offer a tribute to teachers for each day of the year With accounts from Geena Davis Clarence Thomas Norman Schwarzkopf and others I Remember My Teacher will move readers with inspiring stories of their most influential teachers professors and coaches Reminiscences of a Teacher Cornelia Wilson Woods, 1964 Reminiscences of an Old Teacher George Barrell Emerson, 1878 Reminiscences of the Happy Life of a Teacher Alfred Holbrook, 1885 Reminiscences of an Old Teacher George Barrell EMERSON, 1878 A Teacher's Journal Marilyn Hoff, 2002-07-02 A keepsake book for compartmentalizing your teaching memories Each blank page begins with a thought provoking question to record those memories Reminiscences of the Happy Life of a Teacher (Classic Reprint) Alfred Holbrook, 2017-12-02 Excerpt from Reminiscences of the Happy Life of a Teacher They may or may not be valuable or interesting to some of my seventy thousand pupils I hope they may About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Women in Teacher Training Colleges, 1900-1960 Elizabeth Edwards, 2004-01-14 Women in Teacher Training Colleges 1900 1960 is an intricate and fascinating investigation of the lives and experiences of women in these important educational institutions of the early twentieth century The book provides an overview of the historical context of the development of the colleges using detailed case studies of three colleges Homerton Avery Hill and Bishop Otter Drawing on a wealth of archival material primary and secondary sources and on the oral testimonies of former pupils and staff the book examines the following key themes the changing social class of women students the colleges culture of femininity drawn from the family organization and social practices of the middle class home the conflicting public and private roles of the woman principal the role of the college staff and the residential context of college life women s sexuality the last days of the womens colleges Women in Teacher Training Colleges 1900 1960 is an essential contribution to women s history and gives a

Reminiscences John Robinson Webster, 1929 Investigating the Teacher's Life and Work Ivor F. Goodson, 2008-01-01

Investigating the Teacher's Life and Work attempts to bring together the methodological and substantive aspects of studying the teacher's life and work. Some of the chapters in the book provide a how to do approach for those wishing to study the teacher's life and work employing a life history method whilst other chapters provide the kind of substantive and generic findings which might be anticipated when conducting life history work. The focus on professional life and work has been growing rapidly in the last two or three decades. There are a number of reasons for this. Firstly there is a methodological impulse many new studies are adopting a life history approach. The life history tradition aims to understand the interface between people's life and their work. It also seeks to explore the historical context and the socio-political circumstances in which people's life and work is located. A further major reason for investigating the teacher's life and work at the moment is the huge range of restructuring initiatives taking place throughout the educational world. There is a kind of world movement to restructure education and health certainly in most Western countries. Generally this takes the form of the introduction of the three T's targets, tests and tables and the increasing accountability and performativity regimes associated with these new forms of evaluation. Significantly these initiatives have been introduced at governmental level in most countries with the minimum of consultation with teacher workforces. As a result there is growing evidence of a clash between professional life and work missions and the restructuring initiatives which aim to transform these missions. Perhaps the best way to explore this increasingly acute clash of values is through the investigation of professional life and work. Investigating the Teacher's Life and Work aims to bring together the methodological and substantive approaches and to show how this kind of study can increase our understanding of the interface between government intentions and teacher's beliefs and motives The
